

SAME TREATMENT FOR THE WHITES AND NON-WHITES

That Is the Gist of the Demand of Japan in Her Protest Against California Legislation.

QUESTION IS RACIAL INSTEAD OF ECONOMIC

So Japanese Think—Meanwhile Jingoism Is Declared. The Situation Still Causes Anxiety at Washington.

Tokio, May 18.—Faith in the American people to see that justice is done the Japanese is the dominating note in the discussion of the California alien land ownership legislation.

War talk is denounced as ridiculous and only calculated to embarrass the two governments which are laboring for a peaceful settlement by diplomacy.

It is conceded, however, that failure on the part of the American government to respond to the Japanese appeal for a nation would be liable to lead to some estrangement of the peoples. The Japanese public generally is convinced that the land bill is racial and not an economic measure, and hence a blow to national pride, and the people feel that the world must be taught the necessity of equal treatment for the whites and non-whites.

The Tokyo newspapers are loud in their praise of President Wilson's zeal in his endeavors to preserve the traditional friendship, and they recognize the difficulties which confront the president of the United States in the confusing conflict between state and federal rights.

Firm Attitude Is Urged.

The Nichi Nichi is of the opinion that the question as to whether the Washington government can procure for the Japanese equal rights depends upon the strength of Japanese diplomacy, and urges the government to take a firm attitude.

A joint celebration of the Japanese and American peace societies today was attended by 1,000 Japanese. Speeches were made by Count Okuma, former premier of the Japanese empire, and Yoshio Sakamoto, mayor of Tokio, and Tanejuro Miyake, who was ambassador of the Japanese embassy at Washington in 1905.

All the speakers endeavored to clarify the situation and declare jingoism.

Count Okuma was loudly applauded when he compared the attitude of the California legislators with the anti-race movement in Japan half a century ago, which he looked upon as an absurd race prejudice.

ANXIETY IS CAUSED BY JAPANESE QUESTION

Washington, May 18.—Tension over the Japanese situation continues to excite anxious attention in official and diplomatic quarters, but there were no specific developments today at the white house, the state department or the Japanese embassy.

Nine of the thirty days Governor Johnson has under the California legislation, to sign the alien land bill have now elapsed, and the impression is beginning to gain ground here that the governor will avail himself of the full thirty-day period of grace before making fresh representations on this subject.

The state department is setting out his reasons for upholding the action of the legislature, but is simply waiting for the final act of signature before making reply to the Japanese note protesting against the legislation.

Whether the Japanese embassy will continue to await the expiration of the full thirty-day period of grace before making fresh representations on this subject is entirely upon the judgment of the foreign office in Tokio, for, from this point forward, all of the proceedings in the negotiations will be ad referendum.

Considerable Delay Probable.

It has been suggested that although

Summarized Belief

DR. JAMES I. VANCE.

Of Nashville, Tenn., a prominent commissioner to the Southern Presbyterian assembly, also, as chairman of a special committee, read before the session Friday morning the "popular statement of the belief of the Presbyterian church in the United States. The brief summary submitted and considered in connection over the question as to whether the doctrines of the church could adequately be stated in so brief a form, dissenting opinions were submitted by Rev. R. C. Reed, of Columbia, S. C., and Rev. R. A. Webb, of Louisville, Ky.

HERESY IS CHARGED AGAINST FACULTY OF UNION SEMINARY

Two Minority Reports Will Be Made to the Northern Presbyterian Assembly This Afternoon.

"BELIEFS ARE CONTRARY TO PRESBYTERIAN FAITH"

"Denial of the Bible's Inspiration and the Supernatural Divinity of Christ" Are Charges Against Faculty.

When the report of the special committee on Union Theological seminary, of New York city, to the U. S. A. Presbyterian assembly Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the Tabernacle, one of the most serious questions to be considered by that body while in Atlanta will be precipitated.

The faculty of this university will be charged in two minority reports of the committee with holding beliefs contrary to the Presbyterian faith, the denial of the Bible's inspiration and the supernatural divinity of Christ being charged to them. The writings of Dr. William Adams Brown, one of the prominent professors of the institution, will be quoted in the minority report as sufficient cause for the assembly's rewording the institution. Dr. Francis Brown, head of the seminary, as well as Dr. William Adams Brown, will be in the assembly when the reports are made, and the assembly's delegation to the northern assembly.

Union Theological seminary was originally a Presbyterian institution, founded and by instruction, on account of alleged heretical beliefs on the parts of its faculty, all relations between the seminary and the northern assembly were broken off several years ago.

The seminary continued to flourish, however, being one of the largest and wealthiest of the theological institutions of New York city. In 1911 the northern assembly, in response to a number of overtures that relations with the seminary be resumed, if possible, appointed a special committee to investigate the exact status of belief in the institution and to report on the advisability of recognizing it, not as an orthodox Presbyterian school of theology.

The majority report of this committee, which will be submitted Monday afternoon, will ask for a continuation of the committee's work until next week, stating that an amicable settlement of the relations is believed to be possible by that time.

Minority report No. 1, which is made by E. H. Perkins, of Cleveland, and Dr. John R. Davies, of Philadelphia, asks that the committee be discharged, on the basis that a restoration of relations between the seminary and the northern assembly is impossible. All the reports on the seminary have been printed and circulated among the commissioners.

Minority report No. 2, which is the most bitter in its denunciation of the faculty for their beliefs, is made by Dr. Frank C. Monfort, of Cincinnati, editor of The Herald, and Presbyterian, a leading organ of the U. S. A. church. Dr. Monfort charges that the faculty have failed to answer a number of important questions as to their theological position, and that a number of the answers they do make indicate that they are not in agreement with the belief to be recognized by the assembly as orthodox Presbyterians. After going into great detail as to the answers and beliefs of the faculty, Dr. Monfort says, in making his theology which denies the supernatural, that regards sin not as the result of an abrupt transformation or the fall, but the survival of the animal in the nature of man, that regards Christ as "not God and man, but as 'God in man' and a type to which all men are ultimately destined to conform," and which acknowledges as man's supreme authority not the Scriptures but the "light that is in him," is not the theology of the Westminster Confession nor of the Presbyterian church.

15,000 RED WOMEN PLY THEIR TRADE IN ONE BOROUGH

Report on the Vast Scarlet Army That Infests New York Made by Young Rockefeller's Bureau.

OF DANCE HALL EVIL AND MASSAGE PARLORS

The Report Treats at Length. Agents of Commercialized Vice Always on the Look-out for Girls.

New York, May 18.—Fifteen thousand women of the underworld's scarlet army no census has heretofore enumerated—ply their trade in one borough of Greater New York alone. This is the estimate of the Bureau of Social Hygiene, an organization of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is chairman, as made public tonight in an abstract of a forthcoming report by George J. Kneeland, a special investigator, after a painstaking inquiry into commercialized vice conditions in Manhattan extending over a period of nearly ten months.

The report suggests no remedies, fixes no responsibility. That phase is to be dealt with later on. It purports merely to describe accurately vice conditions in New York city with the sole purpose of bringing out the facts. The hope is expressed that subsequently a satisfactory policy to check the evil may be worked out.

Rockefeller's Bureau, Mr. Rockefeller himself contributed the foreword to the volume. Future reports will deal with conditions in other large cities in America and with methods for dealing with the problem in Europe. Existing preventive, reformatory and corrective agencies in New York are described as wholly inadequate to their task.

Mr. Rockefeller's Bureau, dealing in minute frankness with the operation of notorious resorts throughout the city, the report treats of the dance hall evil and of the massage parlors. "Over three hundred of these exist in the city," says the report, "and in many of them not the slightest effort was made to cloak the immoral nature of the business. Operators for these establishments are often procured by advertising in the newspapers."

Of the Dance Halls. Of the dance halls, the report says: "The public dance hall was found to justify the worst that has been said of it. Of 75 dances reported on only five were characterized as the highest and most decent. No other dances attended only by hardened prostitutes. Young girls—some innocent—others, if not entirely innocent, at any rate not wholly depraved, and examined by the police, were seen attending the gatherings in search of amusement and change. Many are innocent working girls, who seek legitimate recreation. The sinister agents of commercialized vice, the cadets, who attend with the cold-blooded purpose of finding new subjects of debauchery and of subsequent exploitation for gain. These agents are well dressed, well mannered, and introduce themselves politely and easily to strangers. They often pretend to love at first sight and exhibit marked devotion, by which the girls are deceived and to which they too often yield. When the seduction of the girls is accomplished, they are put on the street, and their ruin is complete.

Not Cause of Shame. Mr. Kneeland argues, contrary to the expressed views of so many investigating bodies, that girls do not as a general thing take up a life of shame because of the pinch of poverty. He holds that rather they are victims in their ignorance of the agents of commercialized vice.

"It is idle," he says, "to explain away the phenomena on the ground that they are the results of the inevitable weakness of human nature. Human weakness would demand far fewer and less horrible sacrifices. Most of the wreckage, and the worst of it, is due to persistent cunning and unprincipled exploitation, to the banding together in infamous enterprises of madame, procurer, brothel-keeper and liquor vender to carry on deliberately a cold-blooded traffic for their joint profit, a traffic, be it added, from which the girl involved procures at the most, with few exceptions, her bare subsistence, and that only so long as she has a trade value.

"The exploiters and the rami-

DETECTIVES SEEK CLUE IN WRITING OF NEGRO SUSPECT

Another Employee of the National Pencil Company Now Held at Police Headquarters.

VALUABLE EVIDENCE FOUND BY BURNS MAN

For Hours the New Detective, Col. Thomas B. Felder and Solicitor General Hugh Dorsey Discuss Case.

In the first report of his investigation of the Mary Phagan tragedy, William J. Burns' agent informs Solicitor General Dorsey that he already has obtained a valuable clue, and that a new phase of the mystery, which he is basing his operations, will be productive of early and startling results.

Sunday was a day of vigorous activity in all three sources of investigation of the Phagan mystery. At police headquarters, a new negro suspect was put through the third degree and forced to give specimens of his handwriting. His wife was taken into custody and thoroughly examined by Pinkerton men and police detectives.

The Burns agent and Colonel Thomas B. Felder held an eight-hour conference with the solicitor at the home of Colonel Felder from noon until 8 o'clock last night. The principal object was to thoroughly acquaint the new officer with the situation as it has previously been developed and with the evidence now at hand.

Frank Has Little to Say. Leo M. Frank, the suspected factory superintendent, and New Lee, the negro night watchman, were both seen in their cells in the Tower last night by a Constitution reporter. Frank had only a few words to say. He would not discuss any phase of the case. Lee talked freely and appeared optimistic of the future.

Frank's health is holding up exceptionally well. He declares that he now feels no ill effects whatever of the three weeks of imprisonment. His cell was thronged all day Sunday with scores of friends and relatives, many of whom remained from noon until midnight.

"My health is good, and I feel physically strong. I have adapted myself to the routine of my day in prison, and it is not so hard on me as it was at first. The jail attaches are exceedingly solicitous of my comfort," he said, "and I deeply appreciate their attitude."

He was asked if he had any statement to make. "No," he answered, "I care to say nothing of the case. I would not discuss it at all. Please do not ask."

Lee Retracted Insinuation. New Lee reiterated his plea of innocence which he has so often made to detectives, newspaper reporters, and to anyone who took the pains to question him.

The new suspect on whom headquarters detectives are concentrating their energy is James Connolly, a negro sweeper of the pencil plant, who was arrested several days ago when he was caught washing a soiled shirt on the second floor of the factory.

Although neither Chief Lanford nor his men will talk regarding the negro's suspected connection with the crime, it is hinted around headquarters that a deal of suspicion is directed toward him. This must be so, for two hours Sunday afternoon he was cloaked with two sleuths and a handwriting expert, who compelled him to write, freehand, the wording of the mysterious notes found beside the victim's body.

Connolly stoutly denies knowledge of the murder. A link in the chain

BOMB EXPLOSION STARTLES STREET

Officers Believe That Attempt Was Made to Destroy Residence of Payton C. Turner, 521 Crew Street.

With a report that startled the neighborhood for blocks around, a bomb, placed in front of 521 Crew street, the residence of Payton C. Turner, for the purpose, it is believed by the police, of killing every inmate of the home, exploded at about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, tearing up the sidewalk for several feet.

Probably because the would-be "black-handers" made a miscellanea of the amount of powder with which to load the infernal machine, the house itself was not damaged.

No Clues Are Found. Policemen Palmer and Schumate were sent to the scene as soon as the occurrence had been reported to police headquarters to investigate. They were unable, however, to find any clue that might lead to the arrest of the person responsible for the explosion.

The stone had been shattered so that the ground for yards around was strewn with the fragments, and the only traces of the bomb that could be found were a few pieces of metal either tin or iron.

Mr. Turner was unable to give any explanation whatever of the matter. "I know of no one on earth who could possibly harbor any grudge against me," he told the policemen. "I have not received any black-hand letters, either. Why anyone should try to kill me or my family is an absolute mystery to me."

Foreigner May Be Guilty. The police are inclined to believe that it was done by a foreigner, who, not being familiar with either the city or the language, made a mistake as to the address of his victim.

The case so far has absolutely baffled the police department, and city detectives will be assigned to the case today. Chief Lanford had gone home, when the first official report of the matter was received, and has, therefore, taken no action.

WATERS OF THE PACIFIC IN THE PANAMA CANAL

Demolished by Giant Blast and Ocean Pours Into the Miraflores Excavations.

Panama, May 18.—The waters of the Pacific ocean were today let into the Panama canal. A giant blast, composed of 32,750 pounds of dynamite was shot, demolishing the dike to the south of the Miraflores locks and allowing the water to flow into an extensive section in which excavations have practically been completed.

The blast was successful in every way and the vibration was felt in Panama City, as though there had been a slight earthquake.

ON PEACE MISSION OLD GUARD AGAIN STARTS FOR EAST

In Glittering Uniform, Prominent Atlanta Company Will Leave Atlanta This Morning for Long Tour.

HISTORY MADE BY TRIP TAKEN 34 YEARS AGO

Great Welcome Will Be Given the Visitors in Washington, Where They Will Be Given Audience by President.

On a mission of fellowship and as guests returning a call, members of the Old Guard of Atlanta will leave this morning for a tour of the northern cities such as they made 34 years ago. The organization will be in glittering uniforms, treated to perfect military step and accompanied by a brass band. In the party will be many of the most prominent men of Atlanta and a number of Atlanta women, wives and relatives of the members making the trip.

The same route will be traversed as was done in 1881, but in practically all other respects there will be a vast difference in the tour of yesterday and the tour of today. Most of these same men made the trip in those days, but young men were in the majority in the company then and theirs was the quick step and firm bearing of youth and from their minds had not gone the actual, harrowing experiences of a soldier on the march.

Attitude of the Men. Greatest of all will be the attitude of the men themselves. The Atlanta Old Guard made themselves famous 34 years ago when they left on their mission of peace and it has been said by the nation's leaders that the famous troop by going to the north and showing the true attitude of the south toward the north that a broader peace was cemented than was ever made by the decree of congress to which the south assented, or the flamboyant peacemaking of self-serving politicians.

The difference is that 34 years ago the Atlanta men went north to help establish anew the feeling of love between the two sections and even as they went they wondered if they would be received in the same spirit.

Through them and others the feeling of love has been nurtured into growth again. The wonderful gathering of northern troops and statesmen at the unveiling of the Old Guard monument two years ago proved that in one specific instance and a hundred other incidents that rise high above the petty talk of a few, continue to be one of the world. So that the Old Guard leaves today dressed in resplendent uniform and in all the panoply and glitter of a soldier's trappings and bearing in their hearts the certainty that their reception will be one of warmth and good fellowship wherever they go.

Jaunting Tour for Party. The trip is in the nature of a jaunting tour for most of the members. It will be one of pleasure from beginning to end with the fore-known certainty that they will be welcome and will be guests who will be begged to remain as long as they can.

The troop will leave today and will visit Washington, Baltimore, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Hartford and other cities of the north and east.

In Washington they will be met with an escort of honor composed of the remaining survivors of the Washington Light Infantry, the troop that welcomed them before. A parade will follow to the white house, where the nation's chief executive, a man born of the south and closely connected with

POLITICS HAD PART IN ELECTING STONE U. S. A. MODERATOR, SAYS N. Y. HERALD

"Dark Horse Move" Was Planned at Least Three Weeks in Advance of Meeting of Northern Assembly, Declares Story From Atlanta Published by the Big Metropolitan Daily.

DR. STONE DECLARED IGNORANT OF PLANS TO PAY HIM HONOR

New York Story Says Conference of Friends of Moderator Was Held on Night Before Election—Dr. Stone and Rev. William King, Who Nominated Him, Deny the Reports.

New York, May 18.—(Special.)—The New York Herald carries this morning under an Atlanta date line the following special from Atlanta in connection with the meeting of the Northern Presbyterian assembly there:

Atlanta, Ga., May 18.—(Special.)—The election of the Rev. Dr. John Timothy Stone as moderator of the general assembly of the Northern Presbyterian church last week has aroused a lot of hostile criticism and unpleasant talk, and has caused more loss of a split among the Presbyterians. Dr. Stone was the "dark horse," and in commenting on this, one clergyman said today, "Not only a dark, but a black horse."

The general opinion now is that, instead of being a non-political action, the action was one of the most deep laid schemes ever perpetrated on a general assembly. Not one word is said in criticism of Dr. Stone, who is one of the best known and most popular men in the church, but it is the most pronounced criticism of the way his name for the office was sprung in the assembly.

The whole proceeding is characterized by the oldest commissioners here as a "frame-up," as it is known that the "dark horse" move was arranged some three weeks ago in another city and that a last-of-its-kind election in conference the night before, and that prayer was offered that the movement might be successful.

No one doubts that Dr. Stone was absolutely ignorant that he was to be nominated, but that it was the most carefully laid arrangement to defeat the men whose names had been heralded in the religious and secular press, few stories question. The discussion grows with each day, because it is apt to shape the policy of the church for years to come.

Hold Stone in High Esteem. When asked his views on the "dark horse" action, the Rev. David G. Wylie, of the Scotch church, New York city, said: "Dr. Stone is my friend and I hold him in the highest esteem, both as a man and a clergyman. Nothing that I have to say must be taken as in any sense a criticism of Dr. Stone. Indeed, I have heard of no one who believes that he was a party to the method of his nomination."

"An old-fashioned political method in the church of God," I believe that it is proper and permissible to discuss the fitness and experience of men to preside over the general assembly, and I am certain that it is wiser to make a deliberate choice than to select a moderator under the impulse of a nominating speech. The Scotch church and other denominations have always in advance selected the man who is best qualified by temperament and experience."

Exercise Reasonable Liberty. Judge Jesse S. Lamoreaux, of New York city, who is a commissioner from the Synod of Albany, said: "I believe that in the election of a moderator of a great body like the general assembly of the Presbyterian church the proceedings should be divorced from politics. Reasonable liberty should be exercised by the members of the body electing, and perhaps a reasonably active and spirited canvass might be proper, but a moderator should come to his high office as the

EQUAL TREATMENT DEMANDED BY JAPS

There may be some preliminary exchanges before the event, the Japanese government can find no technical reason for demanding relief before the commencement of some action, under the terms of the Webb law to the detriment of a Japanese subject. In that case a further considerable delay is probable, as the act will not go into operation for a period of ninety days after it receives the approval of the governor. It is generally accepted that one of the primary points of protest by Japan is that the California law is in contravention of the treaty of 1911, but exactly wherein has not thus far been discussed.

Governor Johnson's last communication to the federal authorities analyzed the treaty and the law to the end of showing that the latest enactment is in no way a contravention of the treaty. The first and most fundamental issue, therefore, appears to be over this question of whether the law is or is not contrary to the treaty.

While the Japanese viewpoint has not been made known from any official source, it is believed here that they consider the first clause of the new law as the one contravening the spirit, if not the letter of the treaty. The first clause allows aliens "eligible to citizenship" to hold lands. As the Japanese are not under the present naturalization laws, eligible to citizenship, this clause specifically delimits them from land ownership.

Chief Concern of Japanese. Aside from the issue on the technical construction of the treaty, it is believed that the Japanese are chiefly concerned in the general effect of the legislation in placing them in the position of an inferior race. It was pointed out here today that it is against this they have been contending since the memorable visit of Admiral Perry to Japan when they began the movement which later established them on a modern basis among the nations of the world. One of their first steps was to terminate the old extra-territorial system by which the United States and other foreign countries carried on courts in Japan in order to try American citizens, on the theory that Japanese laws were not sufficient to modern to secure justice for foreigners.

The extra-territorial treaties were brought to an end through the efforts of Minister Kurano at Washington and this served as a start in terminating them with Great Britain, France and other countries. It was regarded as a distinct recognition that Japanese law had advanced to a modern stage where there was no further need for foreign courts and as terminating a system which Japan regarded as placing on her a reflection of racial inferiority. The present attitude in desiring equality in the matter of land ownership is regarded in official circles as somewhat similar to this previous movement of Japan to terminate what they consider a badge of inferiority on their race.

ALIEN LAW TOO MILD FOR EXCLUSION LEAGUE

For That Reason Referendum Vote Will Be Asked as Soon as Governor Johnson Signs.

San Francisco, May 18.—The Asiatic Exclusion League of California instructed its legislative committee to draft a petition for a referendum vote on the alien land bill, to be circulated immediately after the measure is signed by Governor Johnson.

The objections of the league are based on the clause in the Webb act which permits three-year leases. It is the purpose of the organization to circulate the petition at the same time an initiative petition for a law which will exclude Japanese and Chinese from both ownership and lease holds under any conditions. The burden of the speeches at the exclusion league's meeting today was that the leasing clause is a joker which will allow the Japanese ultimately to own the land in effect at least. The speakers denied the wisdom of the argument that to withdraw the leasing right immediately from the Japanese would work to their disadvantage upon landowners. A meeting will be held tomorrow, at which the matter of the petition will be taken up more fully and possibly a rough draft of the proposed initiative law will be presented. The meeting today was presided over by the president of the organization, Olaf A. Tveitmo, one of the convicted labor leaders in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case, who is now out of the federal prison at Leavenworth on bail. Tveitmo was re-elected president of the Asiatic Exclusion league today.

changes contributed as much or more than the former exchanges toward bringing about a satisfactory solution. In diplomatic quarters the rank of Viscount Chinda as an ambassador gives him an exceptional status. As such he is the representative of his sovereign and the usage gives to an ambassador the privilege of carrying on his business with the head of the nation, instead of through departmental channels. The ambassador apparently was not thought to be technical as to the privileges of his rank and most of his dealings have been with the state department and not directly with the president.

IT'S WORLD QUESTION, SAYS LONDON TIMES

London, May 18.—The Times prints a three-column article by Sir Valentine Chirol, the ex-foreign editor of The Times, dealing with the dispute between the United States and Japan. The writer analyzes the grounds on which Japan claims equality of treatment with western nations and expresses the belief that the situation created thereby is more dangerous than it was on any previous occasion. The Times, commenting editorially, says: "The ultimate point in the dispute does not affect America alone, but is one of the world's questions. There should be plenty of room for the surplus millions of Japan and China in the undeveloped Asiatic territories for many decades to come.

"But California offers a quicker pathway to affluence for the ambitious Asiatics; therefore the fears of the Californians, though to be exaggerated and premature, are not entirely groundless, and a useful purpose will be served by blind condemnation of the tendencies of public opinion in the United States. "Whatever may be the issue of the present dispute, it is a question of magnitude for the white races in the future. Until the situation becomes more strained we prefer to believe that some middle course of settlement will be found. "While Japan is fully warranted in standing on her treaty rights, she will do well to remember that a claim to enter a neighbor's garden is not the kind of a claim that can be pressed with unrestricted indignation, however strong its documentary support may be.

BRYAN'S PEACE TALK SUBJECT OF RIDICULE

London, May 18.—The Daily Mail in an editorial headed "Misplaced Idealism," says: "When Secretary Bryan loudly proclaimed that he would not go to war during his tenure of office, he forgot California and forgot Japan. It is not probable that Japan will proceed to extremes; her statesmen are too wise to fight a race whose western opinion would not support them, while her strength is not equal to a struggle with the United States. "Yet it would be well for Mr. Bryan to remember that he who declares that he will not fight is inviting his opponents to drive him into a position where it would be difficult for him to keep the peace."

Addressed Assembly

DR. W. O. CARRIER, President of Carroll college, Waukesha, Wis., one of the prominent and influential men in the U. S. A. assembly, who made an address before that body Friday morning.

"HOLD TO YOUR GUNS," URGES "MOTHER" JONES

She Says West Virginia Miners Will Be Organized Even at Risk of Death.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 18.—"We are going to organize the state of West Virginia if every one of us dies in the battle," declared Mrs. Mary "Mother" Jones, the aged leader of the miners of the mountain state, to a large audience at a local theater this afternoon. "I'm going back to West Virginia. I can't go on a train, I'll walk in." Mrs. Jones arrived here today from Washington, where she had presented the miners' side of the West Virginia strike situation to Senator Kern. "When martial law was declared in West Virginia, coal fields 'Mother' Jones hurried to the scene from Montana, and announced her intention to address the men in the trouble zone. "One of the boys," she said, "told me: 'If you go up there, Mother, you'll come back on a stretcher; no organizer can speak there.' I spoke there. I didn't come out on a stretcher. I raised hell!" She explained that after organizing the men she went to work to organize the women. "We organized the women," said the speaker, "because the women can lick a scab better than you fellows here can."

In discussing the question as to whether the miners had weapons, "Mother" Jones admitted that the miners had some guns; they "needed them." "When I was addressing the boys at a meeting," she added in this connection, "I said the governor wants your guns. Don't you dare give up any of them. If you are forced to use them, you use them."

In a vigorous attack on the laboring classes of the country, she exclaimed: "You are making a mistake. There was a drumhead court martial made up of military despots and you did not mind it. You are making a mistake. I shall never forget the last day of the trial. It seemed to me as if the flag of liberty was gone, and in its stead the flag of Russia waved," she said. "When you do go among those people down there and see them as I have, I want to say that the brutality is worse than darkest Russia, and barbarous Mexico."

In conclusion "Mother" Jones advised the labor unions of the country "to stand together." "You trades unions must stop wrangling with the I. W. W. and the I. W. W. must stop wrangling with the trades unions. I know industrial unionism is coming, and you can't stop it."

Governor Hatfield Stands "Pat." Charleston, W. Va., May 18.—Governor Hatfield today announced that "no relinquishment of martial law will be made until those whose inclinations are to stir up new strife and turmoil and their lawlessness."

According to those close to the executive, it became known today that the governor has recently received threatening letters. "It seems as if there are some who do not want to end our industrial troubles," said the governor. "I have been waiting for the past few days for those who are responsible more than anyone else for the strike in the coal fields to end their agitation. Military regulation will cease when the necessity for it ends, and that will be when those who are responsible for military regulation end their agitation."

No intimidation or threats can deter me from carrying out my plain duty to all citizens. Soldiers Take Prisoners. Charleston, W. Va., May 18.—Adjutant General Charles D. Elliott and several officers of the West Virginia state militia today took nine military prisoners, brought here last night from Clarksburg, W. Va., to the jail at Point Pleasant, W. Va., under orders of Governor Hatfield. All are being detained in connection with the coal strike troubles. Various conferences were held today by Eugene Debs and Adolph Grimer, two of the three men appointed by the national socialist party to make an investigation of conditions in the West Virginia coal field. Victor Berger, the most prominent member of congress, is expected by Wednesday.

STRIKE AT CINCINNATI STILL BLOCKS TRAFFIC

No Attempt to Run Cars Sunday—Court to Pass on Receivership Today.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 18.—Street car officials and representatives of the employees' union held conferences which it is believed will result in the ending of the street car strike in this city until a late hour tonight without reaching any definite conclusion. Although the street railway company and its employees were not in direct communication, officials of both organizations held the meetings on the same floor of an office building.

The company was represented by President Schoepf and several directors, and at the employees' meeting were John Mahon, president of the International Street Car union; Rosin Orr, organizer of the present strike, and local officials of the organization. Walter Knight, president of the Federated Association of Municipal Organizations, acted as intermediary. Though no definite statement was given out it was believed that only minor differences remain to be adjusted, and that a speedy resumption of traffic will take place. It is not known whether the street car company has received the demand for recognition of the union, but it is believed that it is willing to arbitrate this point.

No attempt was made to run cars today, and there was no violence. The application for a receivership for the company, made by Mayor Hunt yesterday, is scheduled to come up tomorrow before common pleas judge George Heagy, who will hear arguments of the attorneys for the street car company.

The employees of the Cincinnati, Newport and Covington Street Car company, which operates cars in Kentucky cities on the opposite side of the Ohio river, will present demands to the officials of the company tomorrow night and threaten to strike if they are not granted. These employees recently formed a union. The three men wounded in yesterday's rioting were improved today, but their conditions was declared to be still serious.

PHAGAN CLUE SOUGHT IN NEGRO'S WRITING

said to be forming around him is his statement made at the time of arrest that he had stayed at the home of his mother at 25 Tuttnall street on the night of Mary Phagan's death, and the contradictory assertion of his mother who declared he had not slept at the Tuttnall street address for several months.

Makes His First Report.

The representative of the Burns agency made his first report Sunday afternoon. It was submitted during the conference with Colonel Felder and the solicitor general. The evidence he is reported to have obtained Saturday is being kept secret, and will not be revealed until the grand jury's investigation. He would neither admit or deny to reporters that he had found the widely-hunted girl who is said to have accompanied Mary Phagan to the pencil factory.

Also, Mr. Felder and the solicitor are withholding information of the new phase upon which the Burns sleuth is basing his investigation. It is stated, however, that it is one entirely overlooked heretofore, and that it will be productive of immediate and startling developments. Mr. Felder told the reporter last night following the conference: "I am happily surprised with the progress of our investigation, even though it is in its first stages. The Burns man already has secured evidence which makes me confident that the mystery will be cleared within a remarkably short while."

"Solicitor Dorsey is as highly pleased as I am. He was given certain valuable articles Sunday which make him decidedly optimistic as to the outcome of his efforts to apprehend the murderer. There is not the least doubt that the slayer will be found."

Reports Again Today. Immediately after the conference at Colonel Felder's home, the Burns agent returned uptown, where he began an investigation of new clues. He will report to Mr. Felder and the solicitor general this morning at 11 o'clock. The Pinkertons were active Sunday in the efforts they have directed toward the suspect Connolly. They obtained a specimen of his handwriting and subjected him to a thorough examination. The investigation was conducted by Superintendent H. B. Pierce and Harry B. Scott, assistant superintendent of the Atlanta office, assisted by a number of detectives.

Connolly's home was searched for possible clues and for specimens of his handwriting. His wife was brought to headquarters, but was later released. She championed her husband, and firmly declared belief in his plea of innocence.

Chief Lanford said that he was pleased with progress in his present state. He refuses to talk of the new evidence he says he holds.

CHINESE CHRISTIANS APPEAL TO ADVENTISTS

Washington, May 12.—Two messages of appeal from native Christians in China were read at today's conference of the Seventh Day Adventists of the World at Takoma Park, Md. One of the letters was from a Chinese Seventh Day church of the Honan province, and the other from a native student at the Nanking Seventh Day Adventist school. Both told of the wonderful opportunity for gospel work offered in China, particularly since that country has become a republic, giving religious liberty to all.

One letter said that not one person in the provinces of Shantung, Shensi and Shensi, with a population of more than 100,000,000, had yet heard the gospel preached. "Truly the harvest is great and the reapers are few," read the appeal. "In China but seven provinces have as yet been evangelized by Christ's message, and even in these provinces but one in a hundred has had the opportunity of hearing this message. Think of this country with its population of over 400,000,000, of which not one in a thousand has yet heard His message." Elder J. H. Vans, of Shanghai, vice president of the Asiatic division of the general conference, in his report urged that more missionaries be sent to Japan.

WILSON HANDS TARIFF LOBBYISTS STAGGERING JOLT

The President's Declaration
Against a Compromise on
Free Wool and Free Sugar
Brings Senators Into Line.

CERTAINTY HAS TAKEN PLACE OF UNCERTAINTY

Party Lines Tightened and the Louisiana Senators Will Probably Be Only Democrats to Bolt the Platform.

Washington, May 18.—The effect of President Wilson's public declaration that there would be no compromise on free wool and free sugar in three years in the new tariff bill has been the subject of constant discussion since the chief executive made his pronouncements in the presence of assembled newspaper correspondents last week.

Administration leaders declared that the president's vigorous assertion has served to strengthen the party lines upon the senate and they point to the vote on the question of public hearings of the tariff bill as an indication of the solidarity of the majority.

Before the president came out so strongly in the face of the tremendous lobby influence that completely surrounds the capitol, the legislative air was surcharged with uncertainty. On every hand was heard the report that the finance committee was planning to put a duty on wool or to leave sugar at the end of a three year Wilson tightens party lines.

Wilson tightens party lines. So thick and fast did the rumors fly that the president decided that a little tightening of the party ropes would do no harm. Taking a firm grip on the executive end of the string that lead to capitol hill he called in the correspondents and in their presence gave a strong pull. Up to that time several denials had been reported to be wanting on the subject of public hearings. At least the democrats were considering voting on the Penry-La Follet amendment. But when the president affirmed his determination to stand by the schedule which he first publicly dictated into the tariff bill only senators Brandt and Thornton of Louisiana broke through the party lines to remain outside until the end.

Another phase of the tariff discussion in the senate served as a fore-runner of the exact situation. That was the interpretation of the democratic platform as relating to free sugar given by Senator Ollie James of Kentucky as the spokesman for the administration. When the Louisiana senators attempted to put President Wilson and the party on record as opposed to free sugar the executive head of the party took notice again and on Friday morning Senator James delivered what is known as a flat denial of the allegations made by the insurgent democrats who are fighting to break up the majority on the sugar schedules.

Again Wilson Scored. Senator James declared that the party did favor free sugar that it campaigned on that issue and with the knowledge of the president he challenged anyone to find a man who could truthfully assert that Woodrow Wilson ever said he opposed free sugar. Again the administration scored.

Now the democrats of the senate have the tariff bill to themselves. For two or perhaps three weeks the bill will be in the hands of the finance committee and, whatever other schedules may be altered the assurance has gone out that no change in wool or sugar will be recommended when the bill reaches the party caucuses.

Then behind closed doors the democratic senators will have their final conference on the bill. The caucus it is understood, will be a blinding one. Western senators who would like a tariff on wool and those who want a change in sugar will make their last stand. There are some who believe that some change in one schedule or the other will eventuate, while others maintain that no change will be made and that not more than one or two senators will join the Louisiana seceders outside the party lines. That would leave the majority in a safe position.

Reports of Protested Interests. This week the finance subcommittee will be busily engaged with experts and the reports of protesting interests. The private hearings also will be continued the following week, by which time Chairman Simmons hopes to have the bill ready for the full committee if not for the caucus. It will go to the senate as soon after June 1 as the leaders possibly can get it there. Considerable changes in the wool, cotton and chemical schedules are anticipated. This will necessitate a conference after the senate passes the bill. These probabilities give indication that it will be some time in August before the task is completed.

While the finance committee is at work the senate will be marking time, after the Kern resolution for an inquiry into West Virginia coal mine conditions is disposed of. That matter probably will be settled tomorrow. The organization of committees is the principal business confronting the house leaders. Majority Leader Underwood has nearly completed his preliminary slate of committee assignments and he expects to call a meeting to revise this rule. Under the present arrangement about two-thirds of the members of the house would be forced to be content with one-third of the committee places. Mr. Underwood probably will ask the caucus to revise the rule to allow a more equitable distribution.

The make-up of the banking and currency committee, a matter of particular interest is still in doubt. It is practically assured that all of the members of the committee who hold over from the last congress will be given places and that Representative Carter Glass of Virginia, the ranking democrat will be chairman. The selection of new members to fill the vacancies, however, will be left to the ways and means committee. President Wilson's views will be given consideration in filling these vacancies.

The Currency Question. The currency question will be taken by the house leaders during the week. Representative Underwood and Representative Glass expect to have several conferences with the president, Senator Owens, chairman of the senate banking and currency committee, and Secretary McAdoo, of the treasury department as to the details of the measure to be presented to the house soon after business is resumed on June 1.

The committee assignments will probably be outlined by the ways and means committee within a week, and some time within the next week a democratic caucus will be called to pass upon the work of the committee. Republican Leader Mann and Progressive Leader Murdock are at work on their committee assignments, and they expect to complete their slates before June 1. The complete committee lists will then be brought into the house for election.

BAD COTTON STANDS GENERALLY REPORTED

Dry Weather Delayed Germination—Weather Conditions Influence in Market.

New Orleans, La., May 18.—Weather conditions will continue to be "the main influence in the cotton market this week although developments in the July position may be strong enough to attract some attention and perhaps, affect the whole list in the future market. Of late, however, it has been evident that the trading public is less inclined to trade in the old crop positions than is usually the case at this time of the year and consequently, the July option has lost much of its importance.

Reports from the cotton region at the end of last week indicated that rain is still needed in many important sections of the eastern belt, but that elsewhere ample moisture, for the time being has fallen. It is very likely that continued rains in the central and western belts would raise the cry of excessive precipitation and talk of too much rain in May generally leads to a quick advance in prices. Nearly everywhere in the belt warmer weather would be welcome. Continued cold nights would be a strong bullish feature which the long side could use to great advantage.

The great question of the near future is in regard to getting the crop up to a stand. Planting was early enough, but much seed has failed to germinate, either because of low temperatures or because of moisture in the soil or because of both reasons. Anything that will further delay germination of seed will cause the conviction to grow that this is a late crop, over a large part of the belt, in spite of the outlook for an early start when planting first commenced.

Warm weather with very little rain in the western and central belts and warm weather with good rains in the eastern belt are the conditions most feared. If they materialize the market may have a tendency to work lower especially as it is claimed by many brokers and traders that a good part of the short interest has covered, leaving the market weaker technically than it has been for some time past.

FORECAST OF WEATHER FOR THE PRESENT WEEK

Washington, May 18.—Generally fair weather over the eastern portion of the country during the early days of the coming week with a continuation of showers in the Pacific states and the plateau region for a day or two and the extension into plains states and the Missouri Valley may be expected according to the weather bureau's weekly bulletin.

"By the middle of the week," the bulletin said, "the showers should extend through the great central valleys and the upper lake region and during Thursday or Friday into the lower lake region, the middle Atlantic states and New England. After the middle of the week generally fair weather should prevail west of the Mississippi river for a few days with higher pressure but by the end of the week another disturbance will probably appear over the Canadian northwest. In the south Atlantic and east Gulf states occasional local thunder storms will continue while in the west Gulf states local showers are likely during the first half of the week.

"Temperatures in the south will be about normal."

SEASON'S FIRST PEACHES ARE SHOWN AT AMERICUS

Americus, Ga., May 18.—(Special)—The first peaches of the season have been displayed here, and ten days hence the earlier varieties will be quite plentiful, although the crop yield from orchards in the Americus territory will be disappointing this year the result of unpropitious seasons and the fact that many of the orchards have not been given proper attention this year.

The best posted growers here say the crop will be about 50 per cent of an average, where the trees have been cared for, but this is an exceptional yield. Other large orchards, some of them containing 100,000 trees, will not produce more than 10 per cent of a crop, the growers assert. These orchards have not been pruned or otherwise attended to as in recent years.

The cutting down of the great Bagley orchard has recently with its 250,000 trees, the largest peach orchard in the world, and one of the finest, was a blow to the fruit industry here. The owner cared more to raise cotton than peaches, and the handsome orchard, miles in extent, was cut down on January last and the trees burned.

SHRIEKERS FOR WAR DENOUNCED BY BRYAN

Secretary Scores Interests That Want Armament Profits, and Attacks Mercenary Papers.

Washington, May 18.—Vigorous denunciation of a subsidized patriotism which seeks to create war because of the profits in armor plate and battleships, and of the "sensational and mercenary newspapers which praise big, scare-head lines to the truth," marked an address by Secretary Bryan here today at a Hague anniversary meeting held under the auspices of the Washington peace society. It was in celebration of the fourteenth anniversary of its first meeting at The Hague.

War is in the interest of a few people, not of all, Mr. Bryan declared. "The profits are garnered by a few, while the masses pay the taxes. A few men gain glory, while the mothers of the nation furnish the sons who make food for battlefields. War rests upon feeling, not upon necessity. Back of much of the furor for war is a selfish interest in the manufacture of battleships. And there are men so patriotic that they try to stir up trouble in another country against their own, so as to make personal profit therefrom. Is there any baser use for money?"

The secretary asserted that the world was drawing away from the time when wars will be made to gratify selfish interests and ambitions. "Increasing intelligence," he added, "is one of the forces working for peace because the people are learning to understand the causes that lead to war. The people are learning to discriminate also," he continued, "between patriotic newspapers and those which seek only for big head lines. I was glad to see the attack Secretary Dana made on this sensationalism. I hope to see this discrimination by the people increase."

Secretary Bryan expressed the belief that in time this country would have treaties with all other nations, providing for efforts to arbitrate all questions of dispute, and that other nations would follow this country's example. These agreements, he said, would make it almost impossible to bring this country into war with any other contracting nation.

Increasing intelligence, the growing disposition to bring governments nearer to the people and the moral growth of the world, were the three great factors, he declared, making for peace. "The danger that suddenly inflames public feeling will throw a nation into war is growing less, he said, because the people are beginning to see that war does not benefit them, that they pay the taxes and shed the blood, and that it is usually incited by those who look for personal profit. Preparation for war encourages war, he added, those nations that spend most of their time getting ready for war stand the best chance of going to war. He said it was just as easy to change the ideal of the world, just as can be done with an individual, and that the ideal of peace would prevail throughout the entire world after a time.

Dr. H. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, spoke of the power of education which he said was becoming more and more universal, as the greatest preventive of war.

Arthur D. Call, executive director of the American Peace Society, also spoke. Hundreds crowded about Mr. Bryan after the meeting to shake hands with him. He handed his broad-brimmed black felt hat to a bystander and used both hands so as to greet all who gathered about him.

FLORAL PARADE STARTS AMERICUS CHAUTAUQUA

Americus, Ga., May 18.—(Special)—The floral parade on Tuesday morning, which will usher in the season of chautauqua, will be the handsomest and most elaborate ever attempted in Americus. More than one hundred automobiles and carriages will form the pageant, and for the local department, with all of its equipment of engines and autos decorated. The board of trade and chautauqua management has offered attractive prizes for the most artistically arranged float and for the handsomest lady in the parade.

This is Americus' first attempt in the chautauqua line, and so successful does the venture promise that it will probably become a permanent institution. The exercises continuing one week, will be held daily in a grand tent on the Stapleton property, and will attract hundreds of visitors to Americus during the session.

You will exclaim over them, too.

The novelty of them, the charm of the colorings, the exquisite daintiness of veiled crowns—for many hats are wrapped and covered over with billowy masses of maline and French crepe.

Then the new sailors—new because they are touched with a mark of years and years ago—the ribbon band falls in narrow streamers down the back! Beside these are the quaint poke bonnets, which in shape recall the fashions of other days, but which in trimmings are decidedly of the moment.

Another fashion sure to come in for great favor is the white felt outing hat. New York has already expressed its appreciation. It may be all white or white with a vivid colored brim and under-facing.

But today is the day to see all these fine and distinguishing marks of the hats from Estelle Mershon, and you are invited.

A Monday Sale of $35.00 Silk Dresses

At $16.95

They Are Made of Cheney Bros.' Shower-Proof Silks

And the makers who put Cheney Bros.' Shower-Proof Silks into their garments, you may depend upon it, also fashion them differently than do ordinary makers.

The name Cheney on silk means much the same as Sterling on silver.

How, then, are such dresses to be had at $16.95?

The point is they are—at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s, tomorrow.

And charming affairs they are, holding their heads high among dresses regularly $35.00.

Black, taupe, Copenhagen and navy grounds with variously colored flowers and figures across their surfaces and the soft quality of the silk lends itself beautifully to the attenuated lines, along which they are fashioned—with draped skirt, blouse waist, showing the vest effect, a matter of the use of net, wide crushed satin girdle—of contrasting shade—lingerie collar and cuffs.

Just such a dress as those who are going away this summer will want, and they are $16.95 instead of $35.00!

At Nine O'Clock

A Sale of Wanted Wash Goods

There are signs of a crowd in the prices!

We have been going through the Wash Goods Department with a sharp eye for all stray lots—for, as the best housekeepers know, things will be overlooked, misplaced and forgotten in the best regulated households—and stores.

This is an instance.

Also this is an instance of the way Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. set things aright.

And, since these are the materials women want for their summertime dresses, skirts and waists, and since qualities are just what you would expect here at the original prices, you may judge that the setting-aright will be quick.

At 29c French Piques, regularly 50c. They are 28 inches wide. Choose from about all colors and white and white with dainty stripes. Also at this price are colored checked piques and piques with a ratine stripe. These were 65c a yard.

At 19c French Piques, regularly 35c, 28 inches wide, in colors, in plain white and in white with colored stripes. A splendid material for dresses and skirts.

At 59c French Voiles, regularly 90c. As sheer and summery a fabric as ever the looms clacked off. In colors, daintly striped; with these are white batistes embroidered in colors. Both 32 inches wide.

"Richard, dear!" exclaimed the parent, in a tone indicating that his ears were not to be believed. "Yes, sir," persisted the child, "he swore." "What did he say?" asked the father. "He said 'ain't!'"

Here for the Presbyterian Conclave

These are four men conspicuous among Presbyterians in Atlanta this week. Dr. Sol C. Dickey is the famous organizer of the Winona Chautauqua Bible school at Winona Lake, Ind., and is a prominent member of the U. S. A. assembly. Dr. James Yerance, of New York, delivered before the U. S. A. assembly the report of the committee on Sabbath observance, at the Saturday morning session. Dr. Charles R. Watson is corresponding secretary of the board of foreign missions of the United Presbyterian church. No one who has attended the Northern assembly has failed to hear, from the furthest corner of the tabernacle, the stentorian voice of Dr. James M. Hubbert, of Philadelphia, the assistant stated clerk.

Weapon Against White Plague Discovered in North Carolina

By John Corrihan, Jr. Washington, May 18.—(Special).—The United States government within the next few months may finally adopt the method of combating the "white plague" used with remarkably good results for the past few years by Dr. Carl Von Ruck, of Asheville, N. C.

Dr. Von Ruck's great success was first formally brought to the attention of the government through endorsements of his work called to the attention of Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, by Representative James M. Guicker, who represents the Asheville district. Mr. Guicker became convinced that Dr. Von Ruck's cure would be a great benefit to the country if the government would determine by scientific experiments its value. With this idea in view he urged Secretary Daniels to have the surgeon general of the navy detail a commission to investigate the cure, with the result that Dr. E. R. Stitt, instructor in tropical medicine at the Naval Medical school, was sent to Dr. Von Ruck's sanitarium in Asheville to make an exhaustive examination of Dr. Stitt, who was born in Charlotte, N. C., went to Asheville in the latter part of April and remained there, engaging in daily laboratory work, with Dr. Von Ruck for about ten days. He recently returned much pleased to believe his methods should be adopted by the government.

"To state that I am elated over the success of Dr. Von Ruck's new serum is to state the truth," said Dr. Stitt today. "I worked with Dr. Von Ruck, engaging in daily tests upon animals for about ten days, and am convinced that the success he has attained in treating animals can be attained with man. Dr. Von Ruck's treatment and methods throughout differ completely from those of Dr. Friedmann. To begin with, Dr. Von Ruck's serum is absolutely harmless, consisting in the administration of a live virus, whereas Dr. Friedmann administers a live germ.

Methods Are Practical. "What I went into particularly was his statements in connection with his immunization of animals. I saw that his methods were practical. My investigations fully confirm his peculiar statement, and I remained with him observing his methods and examining his serum.

"The methods of Friedmann and Von Ruck are directly in contrast. Friedmann uses a living germ to combat the disease. Von Ruck takes human strains of tubercle bacilli obtained from the blood of people affected and so treats them as to obtain from them the various proteid and fat constituents, and then combines these separated products in such proportion as in his experience give the highest immunizing power.

"Von Ruck's serum is absolutely harmless and cannot in any way injure a human being, whether or not he is already in a measure affected with tuberculosis or whether he is in normal health.

"Von Ruck went over in detail with me the records of his experiments conducted under the observation of Dr. C. A. Julian, who is connected with the Baptist Orphanage at Thomsville, N. C., and I confirmed his statements in this regard thoroughly. Of the 339 immunized children of this institution, representing all ages from two months to 15 years, their preliminary examination showed that 35 were normal; 94 were suspects, and there were 160 in which there was evidence of tuberculosis unambiguously. The incidence of the Von Ruck immunization treatment upon the children classed as suspects, or as apparently tubercular in their examination, showed three months later peculiar improvement, they gained in weight uniformly, and I was carefully over these particulars as regards weight and found that they corresponded with Dr. Von Ruck's figures closely.

"Another respect in which Dr. Friedmann's cure and Dr. Von Ruck's cure differ materially is that Dr. Friedmann claims he can cure human beings while his treatment has no effect upon animals. Among all of the most learned scientists it has been the custom to make experiments upon animals and if the results are successful to try them upon man. Dr. Von Ruck's experiments have been carried on extensively with animals and when transferred to human beings the results have been practically the same.

Experiments Being Continued. "I have just completed my preliminary report to the surgeon general and I will continue in the laboratory here experiments and investigations as outlined by Dr. Von Ruck, to see if we are able to obtain the same results as he has shown.

"Today we received a goodly quantity of his serum with which to experiment and although it may take a fully three months before we have beyond a doubt that his immunization claims are fully justified if we do prove such, as I believe we will, it will be

NEWTON FOLKS HAVE BIG TIME VISITING SPRING SCHOOL FAIR

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., May 18.—(Special).—All day Friday the old people of Oxford were reminded of the days when the Emory college commencements were spectacularly enthusiastic. In those days every available tree in the town was used as a hitching post. Barbecued meats, apple tart and pink lemonade could be had at a score of booths. A brass band, such as required more breath than musicians can spare, nowadays, filled the hearts of the youngsters with noisy sweetness.

Yesterday, in Oxford, Newton county inaugurated the Spring School fair. In front of the old church, in which the oratorical contests were held in forenoon and afternoon sessions, an immense circus tent was raised. Around the walls of the tent and in the middle of it twenty-three booths were arranged for displays of the many school exhibits. The exhibits consisted of maps, drawings, compositions, things cooked, sewing, embroidery, garden plants, forest woods, articles made of wood, model design of rat proof corn crib, flowers, articles made of iron, steel, etc.

First Ever Held. Unusual interest attaches to this Spring School fair, because it is the first that was ever held in Georgia. Newton county, not satisfied with originating the boys' corn clubs and the Girl Scouts, and having had the first private telephone company in the world, decided to start something else world while.

It is estimated that fully 2,000 Newton county people spent the day in Oxford viewing the exhibits in the tent and attending the various exercises in the old church. No less than a hundred parties had dinner on the grass under the spreading oaks of the town. They brought along horses, mules, wagons, buggies and automobiles in town than have ever before been seen in Oxford.

The winners in the literary contests, held in the church, are as follows: Oratory—first, Grady Brooks, Flint Hill; second, J. O. Martin, Newton; third, Grady Brooks spoke "The New South," by Henry Grady; second, Camp Daniel, Mansfield; third, Morris Robertson, Newborn; fourth, Cornelius Lee Wyatt, Almon; fifth, Jack Norworthy, Oxford.

Recitation—first, Miss Elizabeth Benton, Newborn; second, Miss Lois Owen, Starrsville; third, Miss Frances Greer, Mansfield; fourth, Louise Livingston, Downs; fifth, Miss Grace Spaulding, Spaulding, Warren Quillian, Oxford; Reading, Miss Lillian Epps, Mansfield; Grammar, Miss Dorothy Campbell, Mansfield; Composition, Keller Melton, Oxford; and Cecil Marbut, Almon, third.

Prizes Awarded. The following prizes were awarded to the schools: Starrsville, greatest improvement on school grounds; Flint Hill, greatest improvement on school building; Falmer institute (Oxford) greatest improvement on interior of building; Mansfield, school reading the greatest number of library books; Newborn, making the highest per cent of attendance; and for the highest grade average, Flint Hill, the largest number of contestants.

Mark Burnham, of Starrsville, won first prize for the largest assortment of Newton county forest woods and vines, 151 in all, and for the best article made of wood and metal. This article was a lady's work box, made entirely by hand from raw materials. From the steel of an old goose neck hoe Burnham made scissors, needles, shoe button, crimper, etc. Forty-six other prizes were awarded to individuals.

A parrot, chattering in a cage, at the entrance of the booth of the Livingston school, attracted considerable attention. The parrot was presented to Congressman Livingston in 1895, by President Crespo, of Venezuela.

Another object of more than ordinary interest was the school pig, exhibited by the Oakland school. Last fall the children conceived the idea of keeping a school pig, instead of throwing the scraps, left from their dinners, to stray dogs. The result is a fine Berkshire for which they have been offered $15.

The schools and teachers represented in the exhibits are as follows: Flint Hill, S. H. Titshaw, Misses Lula Edwatt and Fannie Bird; Almon, Miss Stella Fruit; Birch Store, Miss Mary Bragg; High Point, Misses Fessie Taylor and Mollie; Hayes, Misses Julia Wilson and Helen Williams.

DYNAMITE USED IN COBB IN ANTI-NEGRO CAMPAIGN

Home of Black Who Had Been Warned to Leave County Is Blown Up. Marietta, Ga., May 18.—(Special).—Following the threats of some weeks ago to drive out the negroes of the county, a negro tenant house on the farm of James T. Anderson was blown to smithereens by dynamite at 12:25 o'clock this morning. The occupant was one Lewis, colored, who had received notice last winter to leave the county. He left and was gone some forty days, returning about April 1. Dynamite was placed on a piece of wood, pushed under the house and fired by a fuse some 2 1/2 feet long. The parties had come to the place in a hurry, hence the county dogs, which were kept at once to the scene, were unable to follow the scent, the vehicle having been driven into the main public road nearby. Sheriff Ed Swanson and Giff Mayes, a guard at the camps, were on the scene in a short while after the occurrence, but no clues have been found so far to point to the guilty parties.

There were five or six negroes in the house at the time, but all happened to be in the room not touched by the explosion. Chairs in the end of the house blown up were thrown out through the roof, the flooring was torn to pieces and the roof demolished. Anderson's farm is 8 miles south of Marietta on the Powder Springs road and is perhaps the biggest farm in the county.

WEATHER FOR SUNDAY WAS WARM AND DRY

Sultry skies and a thermometer that climbed into the 80's and remained there a good part of the day marked Sunday as one of the warmest of the past several days when the weather has been warm and dry. The predicted showers which would have cooled the atmosphere failed to arrive despite the weather man's best efforts, and throughout the day the sun shone without interruption. Despite the heat there were the usual crowds on the streets and in the parks and suburbs and also thousands attended the various meetings held in the different churches by the assembled Presbyterians.

SKY PILOT OF LUMBERJACKS And President of College Stir Auditorium Audience

Three thousand men and women from every walk of life, all orients and of none, went to the Auditorium Sunday afternoon to attend the first evangelistic mass meeting held during the Presbyterian assemblies. Two men of entirely different types, yet each a giant of his kind, made a personal appeal to the people of Atlanta to follow the steps of the Christ; one, Dr. John Higgins, president of the "sky-pilot of Ontario," and the friend of the lumberjacks of the Erie region of the north. Unlike the other meetings of the assemblies, there was little applause, but much suppressed emotion. The appeal of neither man was of the highly strung old-fashioned camp meeting order. It was an afternoon in which two men spoke to 3,000 as man to man, straight from the shoulder.

Dr. Baer Starts Address. After the Union Theological seminary quartet and the double quartet from Tusculum had sung, after Dr. Ralph Atkinson, of Seattle, had led the vast audience through several of the old church hymns, Dr. Baer stepped forth. Dressed in a neat business suit of black, and holding a pocket edition of the Bible in his right hand, he commenced in a low tone, his voice, which he sustained until the end. "Let's be fair, men, this afternoon," he said. "What is it that we believe? I believe in God, the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, and in the Apostles' creed as though simply stating his personal belief off-hand. "Now, those of you who believe with me in this, just rise quietly, will you?" he asked. Almost to a man the audience rose. Lifting his voice in prayer, he said: "This would be enough to turn Atlanta upside down if he but knew what other men here know. We are not here, other this afternoon. We are not here, man, but make us more Christ-like." Talk to You as Man to Man. After the audience was seated Dr. Baer continued: "Men and women, after such a time, there is no place for a so-called sermon. I'm not a minister—I am just going to talk to you as man to man. After thirty years of professional life I find that it is harder every day to lead the Christ life. It is harder, harder, more and more. Yes, I would rather go to the gates of heaven reeling drunk and unconverted than to face the heavenly bar as a

HOLD MASS MEETINGS FOR MEN ON STREETS

As announced in The Constitution Friday morning, big mass meetings for men will be held every evening on the streets of Atlanta for the next four days, that preceding the evening union meetings held by the Presbyterians in the auditorium. Melville Trotter, a well-known evangelist, will have charge of these meetings. At 12:15 each day a special meeting will be held in the Grand theater, and at the noon hour, services in a number of the factories will be conducted as well.

ALL-PEACE DELEGATES GATHERED IN LONDON

London, May 18.—All the delegates to the Balkan peace conference are now in London and will be formally welcomed today by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs. The first meeting probably will be held Tuesday.

JOHN MOTT INVITED BY THE PRESBYTERIANS

John R. Mott, the noted missionary worker, to whom President Wilson offered the ambassadorship to China, has been invited to come to Atlanta to deliver an address or several addresses before the Presbyterian assemblies.

eral council while in session in Atlanta. This is a question which is running like a thread through the present meeting of the assemblies. There has been much undercurrent talk, according to certain high officials, that the southern Presbyterian church, so called, would withdraw from the Federal council, which is composed of thirty Protestant denominations of the country, because of the so-called unorthodoxy of the council's president, Prof. Shailer Mathews, dean of the divinity school of the University of Chicago.

Five years ago Professor Mathews wrote a book entitled "The Church and the Changing Order." Certain southern Presbyterian publications, notably the "Presbyterian of the South," published at Richmond, Va., have recently claimed that Professor Mathews is unorthodox, and that therefore the southern church should withdraw from a council having such a man at its head, it is said.

Saturday Professor Mathews spoke before the Lutheran synod at Atchison, Kan., and delivered an address which will forever silence his critics as to his orthodoxy, it is claimed.

$150,000 BUILDING FOR ODD FELLOWS

Seven Lodges Combine to Erect One of the Handsomest Homes in Atlanta.

Seven of the nine Odd Fellows' lodges in Atlanta will apply to Fulton county for a charter for the I. O. O. F. Building association, the object of which is to finance and build one of the finest Odd Fellows' buildings in the southern states.

The charter is expected to be granted within the coming thirty days, during which time the organization will be perfected, and work will start at once on a $150,000 building on a semi-central site.

The lodges interested in the new building are the Capital, Barnes, Schiller, Central, Fulton, West End and Piedmont lodges.

A committee from these lodges, of which H. C. Hall is chairman, and A. A. Craig is secretary, is now at work on the organization of the association.

The charter calls for a capitalization of the association at $150,000. The shares will be placed on the market at $10 each.

The committee in charge is now considering a site within six blocks of Five Points.

Mr. Craig said last night: "The association is planning a building which will be rivaled by none in the south, and the project has progressed far enough to give every assurance that it will go through without a hitch." The association building will be a structure which will do credit to the city as well as the Odd Fellows.

BIRMINGHAM MENACED BY BUILDING STRIKE

Birmingham, Ala., May 18.—Representatives of the Birmingham Building Trades council voted unanimously today to go on strike tomorrow out of sympathy for the carpenters whose recent demand of 7 1-2 cents an hour increase was refused. About 3,000 men are said to be involved.

With four new skyscrapers in progress Birmingham has more buildings under way than at any time in her history. A number of contractors have been running open shops since the carpenters struck, and union men from all the other building trades will now come to the rescue. The carpenters, who had been receiving 45 cents an hour, demanded 53 1-2 cents.

The Federal council is not without its doctrinal positions. We are avowedly and explicitly evangelical. The churches represented in the council believe in a Christ who is more than man. He is indeed the revelation and the express image of God's person. This loyalty to the Divine Lord it is that most of all binds this great council into a unity with the church of the fathers. That noble council made at Nicea was not concerned with merely abstract theological discussions. Back of it was the great religious imperative—to set forth a Savior who was 'God of very God.' So great is the burden of sin that we, like the fathers, feel that only God can save.

"And it is because the Federal council is thus loyal to a Christ who is more than man that it believes that the work of the church is something more than that of mere humanitarianism. The chief business of the church is not to care for the physical well-being of society, but for the spiritual. Unless it can bring God to man and man to God, it is falling short of its duty. But the church today feels that the regenerate life must be taught to see its social implications and the possibility of social ministries. The Divine Christ is more than a doctrine. He is a living Savior, who works through his church, empowering it to mediate God to a world of sin and sorrow that individuals and society may be saved through the power of his Spirit."

SIRE OF TROLLEY CAR SUMMONED BY DEATH

Stephen Dudley Field Passes at Stockbridge, Mass.—Noted Inventor.

Stockbridge, Mass., May 18.—Stephen Dudley Field, sometimes called the "father of the trolley car" and an inventor of international prominence, died at his home today, aged 63 years. Among the inventions patented by Mr. Field are the quadruplex telegraph, electric elevator, amplifier for doubling the speed of ocean cables, stock ticker, hotel annunciator and the police patrol telegraph. Altogether Mr. Field held more than 200 patents.

Mr. Field's first trolley car was built at his experimental station in Stockbridge. Its success encouraged him to build a second car, which is now in the Smithsonian institution.

In 1833 his first car for commercial purposes was used at the business exposition of railroad men in Chicago.

Later Mr. Field went to London, where he became chief engineer for a group of London electric railroads in Europe.

In 1871 he was married in San Francisco, Cal., to Miss Celestine Butters, who survives him with one son, David Dudley Field, of New York, and a daughter.

Mr. Field was a member of the famous family which included Cyrus Field, an uncle, who laid the first Atlantic cable; Stephen D. Field, former member of the United States supreme court, and the Rev. Dr. Henry M. Field, a famous preacher, who were also his uncles.

His father, John Edward Field, was a distinguished lawyer.

SHRINERS ARE HOME FROM TRIP TO DALLAS

Nearly 100 Shriners, the remaining ones of those who attended the convention in Dallas, and including the shrine patrol and the drum corps, arrived Sunday morning and paraded through the city in a jubilant body.

Shriners gathered to meet them, and others hailed them as they marched through town, all extending to the returning delegates the enthusiasm which Atlanta has felt in securing the great convention for 1914.

These Shriners are among the ones who were in the "hold-up" near Memphis, when masked men went through their train and took all their watches and valuables, leaving the entire crowd strapped. Later, at the reception given them in the Tennessee city the Atlantans recognized the voices of the "train robbers," and found that their possessions were returned, and they were shown all the hospitality that Memphis could extend before they took train for home.

SIX PERSONS ASSIGNED TO MISSIONARY WORK

Bowling Green, Ky., May 18.—Six persons were consecrated to mission work in foreign fields at a meeting this afternoon of the women's board of missions, which is in session out of sympathy with the Cumberland Presbyterian general assembly. Miss Kitty Wood, of McKenzie, Tenn., was assigned to China; I. K. Floyd, of Kentucky, to South America, and two Reid brothers, of Oklahoma, to India. It was announced, will not be given an assignment until she has finished school.

Visiting preachers attending the assembly occupied pulpits in the various churches throughout the city today. Several important committee reports will be considered at tomorrow's session of the assembly.

Daniels at Birthplace

Washington, N. C., May 18.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels arrived from Norfolk, Va., this afternoon for a short visit to this, his birthplace. He was met by a committee of citizens headed by Mayor Eugler, and given a formal welcome. The program of entertainment in his honor tomorrow includes a luncheon and a trip down the Pamlico river. Prior to the luncheon he will deliver a brief address. The secretary will leave for Raleigh, N. C., tomorrow afternoon.

to Council Today

The Thomson resolution, urging the appointment of a committee to investigate the necessity of a bond issue for extending the sewer system, better schools and other improvements, will be introduced in the general council this afternoon.

The resolution will ask council to appoint a committee of five from among its members. Councilman Albert Thomson, of the fourth ward, who is the author of the resolution, will probably ask also that council appoint five citizens to be selected from the city-at-large.

Council will pass on the grade adopted by the street committee last Friday afternoon for West Peachtree street.

Councilman Claude L. Ashley will introduce a resolution urging the finance committee to appropriate $1,000 to the mayor's contingent fund to be used by the heads of the various city departments to defray the expenses of entertaining officials from other cities who come to Atlanta to inspect the public improvements.

The "dirt spilling" ordinance, drafted by Councilman Ashley as a substitute for the ordinance which was repealed by council, will bring another fight in council. Alderman James W. Maddox is going to offer stiff resistance to the ordinance, which makes the driver of the cart liable to arrest and conviction for spilling dirt on the streets.

Mayor Woodward will send a stinging rebuke to council commenting on the report of the committee appointed to investigate the charges of irregularities in the fire department. The mayor's message is not a veto, however.

SPEAKING IS BARRED TO THE SUFFRAGETTES

London, May 18.—While scenes of escort from the park. Meetings also marked today as on recent Sundays when the suffragettes attempted to hold meetings the orators who were held the cause of the women found it impossible to make themselves heard on account of interruptions by the crowd and finally had to accept the services of the police in obtaining safe escort from the park. Meetings also were held at Homestead and other suburbs and the orators received similar treatment.

The first arrest under the so-called "cat and mouse" bill was made today when Annie Bell, a hunger striker, was taken into custody at Brighton. She was sentenced in April to three weeks' imprisonment for carrying a pistol, but was released on account of ill health, occasioned by abstaining from food.

discussing the outlook of the Presbyterian church from the pulpit of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, yesterday morning, declared that when once the great church forces become adjusted it will constitute the most powerful single influence in the world. Referring to the practical efficiency of the presbytery, Dr. Lyons said that there is a growing disposition to dedicate money and influence to the church. He pointed out that there is a widespread development of the evangelistic tendency, and referred to the conventions recently in Birmingham, Chattanooga and Memphis to emphasize his declaration that a great change is taking place in the church.

Asks Two Questions. "What would you rather be than the right kind of Presbyterian?" "When, in all the world's history, would you have rather lived than at the present time?"

Dr. Lyons asked the congregation, which thronged the church, to ask themselves the two questions. "They will have the effect of focusing your thoughts on the situation which confronts us; the situation

Raising Money.

St. Louis, Mo., May 18.—The raising of $24,871 for the Judson mission of Africa was the climax of the day's proceedings of the Southern Baptist convention. The money was raised by the Women's Missionary union at a mass meeting at which only women were present. Alabama led all the states with a contribution of $8,225. During the services a large number of young women dressed in the costumes of all the foreign countries in which the Southern Baptists have missionaries, marched into the Auditorium singing gospel songs and bearing the flags of the nations represented.

More than 400 sermons were preached by visiting Baptists in the various churches of St. Louis during the day, while some of the visiting preachers speaking three times. Probably the largest audiences were gathered in the Second and Third Baptist churches to hear Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, at Louisville, Ky., and the Rev. Dr. George V. Truett, of Dallas, Texas.

RIOTOUS DAY FEARED BY PATERSON POLICE

Pateron, N. J., May 18.—Although the day was a quiet one here, free from disorders in connection with the silk mill strike, the authorities are alert for the possibility of trouble tomorrow in view of the reported intention of some of the strikers to return to work and the announcement of Industrial Workers of the World leaders that pickets would be on guard in force.

The apprehensions of the police were not eased by the attitude of the speakers at a meeting attended by thousands of strikers, in the woods at Haledon, a suburb, this afternoon. The speeches were tame in comparison with those at the New York meetings of strikers yesterday in which orators declared that Pateron would be made an industrial wilderness as a protest against the conviction of Patrick Quinlan. But with all emphasis the leaders today in their addresses urged the strikers to get to bed early tonight and be up early in the morning and "on the job" of picketing the mills.

Another incident that attracted attention was the flinging of a huge red banner bearing the initials "I. W. W." Many of the strikers wore red neckties or carried red handkerchiefs, which they waved during the speeches. The independent dyers, known as the "small dyers," numbering several hundred, will meet tomorrow to arrange some plan of settlement of the strike.

Advertising drives the wheels of trade. Mail a circular to a man with what result? Consider yourself as the recipient. Nine times out of ten you'd toss it away after a cursory glance. Circulars cost time and thought to originate, money to print, more time and money to stamp and mail. But—Take the same time and prepare several forceful ads. Spend the same money for space in The Constitution. And nine times out of ten the man who would not read your circular will read the ads with interest. Because—The circular is a stranger. It travels alone and is not introduced. The ad in The Constitution has the prestige of the paper to back it. A prestige acquired through 45 years' honest service to a progressive people. It introduces your ad to them in their homes and vouches for you. That's why you get results. Consider the comparison, then. Phone Main 5000 and a Representative Will Call.

Atlanta Gives Glad Welcome Home to Man Who Won the Shriners

Probably the most unique welcome home in the history of the city was that accorded Forrest Adair, illustrious Potentate of Yaarab Temple, when he returned to the city Saturday afternoon from the national meeting of the Shriners in Dallas, where Atlanta won, largely through his efforts, the next imperial council.

In the upper picture is shown illustrious Potentate Forrest Adair and the big camel, and in the bottom one a part of the Shriner parade which greeted the head of Yaarab Temple on his return.

PULPITS OF VARIED FAITHS OPENED TO PRESBYTERIANS; MANY FINE ADDRESSES MADE

In eighty-four Atlanta churches, of many varied faiths, the Presbyterian ministers who are gathered here from all parts of the world made addresses, both in the morning and at night.

M. Russell, of the U. P. assembly, at the Central Presbyterian. Prisoners Have Fine Service. Of particular interest was the service in the federal prison Sunday morning, when a quartet of young men from the Union Theological seminary, at Richmond, sang a number of songs that were greatly appreciated by the prisoners.

Outstanding addresses in the central churches of Atlanta were those made by the three moderators—Dr. John Timothy Stone, head of the U. S. A. assembly, preaching Sunday morning at the Harris Street church; Dr. J. S. Lyons, of the U. S. A. assembly, at the North Avenue Presbyterian, and Dr. R.

Christ's Power Not Accepted. Dr. Russell declared that the main cause of the church's inefficiency in the modern world is the fact that thousands of Christians have not the whole-souled conception of Christ's personality and power.

There are many leading members of the church who declare their belief in Christ, said Dr. Russell, "but who accept him only in His general relation to God and do not recognize the energizing influence of His personality upon their own souls."

Men must think of Christ not merely as the Son of God. They must recognize Him to be more than that—a personality that can so enter their own lives that a wonderful energy and power will be given them.

Dr. John Stone Preaches. "If you know the purpose of a man's life, you know him. What do you care about what others say?"

Thus is described one of the most annoying forms of rheumatism. When you feel those lumbar pains coming on take SULFOSOL quickly and faithfully. It will relieve you promptly and with safety, and will eradicate the rheumatic tendency.

Country Churches in Majority. That 70 per cent of the Presbyterian churches in America are country churches was the statement made Sunday afternoon by Dr. Warren H. Wilson, of New York city, who spoke on "The Spiritual Crisis in Farming," at the "Country Life Mass Meeting" held at the Baptist Tabernacle by members of the Presbyterian commissioners.

One of the largest congregations that ever filled the Harris Street Presbyterian church was present to listen to the new moderator, Dr. George H. Mack, of Nashville, Tenn., the organizer of the church and its former pastor, who was present, and led the opening prayer.

Unique Immigration Tableau. The feature of the meeting was the unique tableau presented by a score of children, representing the churches of America, opening their arms to the immigrants who come to this country from the rest of the world.

WHIFFS

THE JAUNT of Bill Smith's Crackers, although seven games were dropped and but seven won, was not a failure in every respect. In fact, it proved conclusively to our mind that with a little bit of luck in the luck and some more dependable pitchers, the team will be in the pennant hunt all the way.

BATTING FIERCELY.
THE TEAM hit like a house afire on the jaunt. And had Dame Fortune given it an even break, there would have been a different tale. The pitchers went bad enough, but at that they got worse than an even break in the luck with it all. In the fifteen games played, the team made 15 hits, six more than was made by the opposition on the entire trip. This was an average of nearly nine hits to the game. Ninety-five runs were scored against 105 by the opposition, an average of 5 runs to the game.

Fielding Improved.
THE LOCALS also came through with a fine brand of fielding, making only 34 errors in the 15 games, and on ground with which the majority of the team was unfamiliar. The opposition made 47 bobbles, bringing it down to brass tacks, the hitting and fielding was better than the opposition as a whole, and the run-getting practically the same, proving that the breaks went to the other fellow.

Due Big Attendance.
THE AD MEN of Atlanta, one of the liveliest organizations in Atlanta, will run the ball game at Ponce de Leon Park Wednesday afternoon. All the proceeds will go to help the deaf-blind children of the city. The ad men are deserving of the biggest attendance of the season. Their boosting has done wonders for Atlanta and here is a chance for the fans to show their appreciation.

In Tough Luck.
CARL THOMPSON, the University of Georgia pitcher now with the Birmingham Barons, has been pitching in the toughest kind of luck. He has allowed only one run every third inning and has won every two innings, yet he is charged with five straight defeats. The Barons have not made any runs behind him.

A Big Venture.
JACK PRINCE has undertaken a big proposition in his motordrome on the old circus grounds. An idea of its immensity can be gained from this: A half million feet of lumber was used in its construction, and thirty tons of nails. It is a quarter of a mile around and will have a seating capacity of 5,000 when completed. The first practice was held yesterday. The track is going to be one of several Mr. Prince plans in a southern circuit.

Touts Him.
ELLIOTT DENT is given a little boost from the sporting department of the Washington Post. In a letter to the sporting editor of The Constitution, enclosing the photo of Dent which is reproduced elsewhere, the sporting editor of the Post says: "Dent is a mighty fine fellow and should prove a worthy acquisition to your pitching staff."

Was Proven.
A GOLFER can drive a ball over the centerfield fence at the polo grounds. This was proven to the satisfaction of Manager McGraw, of the Giants and his team mates, last Friday, when Grandland Rice, the sporting editor of the New York Mail, accomplished the feat. Oswald Kirby also attempted to hit the ball over the fence on four attempts and Kirby twice. A strong wind blowing directly against the players made the task doubly hard. Where the ball sailed over the centerfield fence, it was 50 feet high and estimated as 200 yards from the plate where the ball was driven from.

Record Smashers.
IF THE RECORDS of George Stovall are good for nothing else, they can certainly break up a long winning streak of some team or ruin a great pitching record. For example, in 1908 they trimmed Cleveland and permitted Detroit to win the pennant by half a game. Broke the winning streak of Krause in 1910 after he had won 11 straight. Smashed Walter Johnson's consecutive win mark, beating him after he had won 16 straight. And last, but not least, scored the first run off of Johnson the other day, breaking his record for longest record. Such is the perversity of fate.

Accompanying Him.
"HANS WAGNER" arrived last night from Philadelphia, says the New York Globe, "and will play the Giants four times in succession at the Polo grounds. Bonus has been having a tough time of it around the eastern circuit, having won only the game in eight. He dropped seven straight, but managed to beat the Phillies in the eighth. The Pittsburgh baseball team is traveling with Wagner."

Not Surprising.
OFFIS CLYMER was fined $10 by Billy Klem, the National league umpire, at the Polo grounds the other day. For what? Nothing at all. Klem just made a bad guess. He guessed him, and stuck the ten iron men fine to him. But he guessed wrong as usual. Some of our umpires are poor guessers. Some in this league bet their right hand that their left does not know what its doing and win every time.

The Loud Notes.
THE TRAMPING of elephants is heard more plainly every day. Connie Mack's tuskars are tramping through the American league like a brass masher boss through Bermuda grass. It will take considerable hunting to bring the Athletics game into camp this season.

Crackers Close Road Trip With Defeat and a Tie; Games Closely Fought

By Sam L. Gilbert.
 New Orleans, May 18.—Chief Charlie Frank's tall-end Pelicans made a last stand Sunday, beating the invading Atlanta Crackers in the first game of the Birdville double-header in the eleventh inning, 6 to 5, and holding the visitors to a 1 to 1 tie in the second game, which was called at the end of the seventh inning to allow the teams to catch their breaths.

Harry McIntyre was lucky to twist a victory over the Crackers' best bet, Pitcher Price, in the first game. The visitors batted Harry freely and errors by Manush, coupled with clean hits, gave them a three-run lead in the first two innings. The locals showed Price, a wallow and a miscue, and the score was tied until the eleventh. McIntyre felt pretty fine in the tenth inning when Welchance, who had singled and made third on a sacrifice and an infield out, was left stranded there on a double.

He was also forced to grin when James and Spencer winged flies off the bats of Dunn and Price to begin the eleventh. The Big Eleventh. When Long doubled to right and over to McIntyre's double to left, however, it began to look like the game. Alpermann made matters worse by wallopping out a clean single to center which brought Bailey home. Welchance ended the spree by a rocket to Hendryx and the score was 5 to 3 in Atlanta's favor.

Price had been a little unsteady at times, but only three Pelicans had faced him in the tenth. It was a big surprise, therefore, when the Pelis put over the knockout punch in their half. "Rebel" Williams did it. The un-reconstructed Kentucky youth pasted the pit over left field fence for four bags to start the locals' part of the period. The blow jarred Pitcher Price awfully, but it didn't tie the score. Price felt that he was slipping and when he failed to get them over for Angermer, who walked, Price tossed up the sponge and voluntarily left the mound.

Chappelle took his place. Clancy ran for Angermer. Then our brave boys simply broke and pitched him the first ball. Clancy hit to left center for two sacks, Clancy showing speed in dashing all the way round from first to the scoring stone. Then good old Jakey Atz slammed a clean single to left and "Mac" won his own game by racing home.

Exciting Pastime.
 It was easily the most exciting game of the season and ended so satisfactorily to Pelican supporters that it won't be forgotten in a long time. Manush's errors aided the visitors, but he distinguished himself in the eighth. He pitched the ball in a straight form and had received perfect support. Williams drew a pass and after Angermer's out to Agler McIntyre walked. Atz rolled to Bistand, who retired McIntyre. Then Manush doubled to deep right, driving in Williams base hit. The game was called when Atz muffed a Dunn's throw of James' punt. James was out trying to pitter.

The Crackers tallied in the first on Manush's boot of Long's grounder, which was followed by Bailey's sacrifice and Alpermann's single. A chance at second was hit but he and Whitey were left to languish.

Manush's fumble of Agler's smash in the second, followed by Dunn's single and Price's double and an infield out, gave the visitors a couple more. There was not a single inning except one in which the visitors had one or more safeties off McIntyre.

Second Game.
 Tim Hendryx opened the second inning of the second game with a two-timer to left. Spencer sacrificed and after Snedecker had been retired, Williams sent him home with the next two batters. This looked like enough to beat Brady and the Crackers' for Umpire Wright had announced prior to the game that it would be called at 6 o'clock and up to a few minutes to that hour Brenton had pitched too well to permit Billy Smith's boys to tally.

At 10 minutes to 6 o'clock the sixth inning ended. The umpires concluded there was time for the seventh and then the trouble commenced. "Wallie" Smith, first Atlanta batsman, walked and Bistand forced him out. He tried to rally to the right and sacrificed. Agler, who had fanned his two previous times at bat, murdered the pellet for a two timer to right center, slow handling of the ball by permitting Bistand to get home. The next two were sac.

Some of the large number of fans present thought that the battle should be terminated as soon as 6 o'clock arrived, but the rules require the conclusion of an inning, if started before the hour agreed upon for stopping. Umpire Wright was urged by the grand-standers to call off hostilities, the thought being uppermost in the minds of the shouters to walk away with both games, by making the score revert to even inauk. However, the game played it out, and gave the Crackers a juicy scare when they stuffed the bases in their half of the seventh.

Hendryx singled and Spencer did the same, sending Tim around to third. It looked easy, but Snedecker raised the anchor. Williams hit to Brady and Hendryx perished at the pan; and after Evans, batting for Angermer, had been given four wide, filling the bags, Clancy hit for Brenton and struck out.

Captain Jakey Atz threatened to protest the first game in the eleventh inning when Umpire Rudderham didn't call the game immediately on some bleacherite tossing a foul batted ball back into the diamond, and considerable time was spent in wrangling.

Alpermann and Welchance Have Driven in Most Runs

By Dick Jemison.
 "Whitey" Alpermann, the Crackers' field leader, is still the leading pinch hitter of the local team, 34 tallies having resulted from his mighty bludgeon to date. Harry Welchance comes next with 28, and Wallie Smith third, with 22.

The figures given below include the game at New Orleans Saturday and show runs scored by these batters from every source. An explanation of some of the points is probably necessary. By outs is meant a run being sent home on an infield out by the batter. By errors is meant a run scoring on an error by the opposing fielder following a hit by the batter mentioned.

The one run scored by Agler on a stolen base is the result of a double steal. The three by bases on balls were when the batter forced home a run by getting a free ticket with the bases full.

Here are the figures:

PLAYERS—	H.	S.	O.	E.	BB.	SS.	Total
Alpermann	23	0	1	0	1	0	25
Welchance	18	3	2	4	1	0	28

Motorcycle Riders Will Try Out Motordrome Today

The surfacing of the track was finished Saturday afternoon and the riders could not get to train, as it was near dark when the last nail was put in. But today the riders that are now in Atlanta will uncrate the big racing machines and try out the new motordrome.

Shields, Lockner, Lewis, Schwartz, Richards, McNeal, Luther, Glenn, with several of the local amateurs, there should be at least ten men riding this afternoon about 6 o'clock, and as many as five on the track at once.

Those who go out to watch this afternoon will get an idea of what motorcycle racing will look like. Quite a large bunch of the members of the Atlanta Motorcycle club will go out to the circus grounds this afternoon to see the riders spin around, and Jack Prince will be there to show and explain all about the track and what he expects to put on in the way of racing.

The entrance of the track will be facing Jackson street, and on the left of the entrance will be a large space set aside for the parking of automobiles. In the arena will be a space arranged for the motorcycle riders, who can take their machines inside to be parked. Everything will be done to make everyone comfortable. The motordrome being on the old circus grounds, insures the very best of car service and being only ten minutes' walk from Peachtree street.

Barons 4, Gulls 2.

Mobile, Ala., May 18.—Though Mobile outlast Birmingham this afternoon, the locals could not hit in the pinches and Birmingham won, 4 to 2. Mobile had fifteen men left on bases and had one or more runners on the bases in every inning, but when always luckily pulled out of trouble, except in one inning. The victory gives Birmingham a clean sweep of the three-game series.

Schools Play Off Tie At Marist Wednesday

The public school baseball fans of the city are on edge in anticipation of the outcome of the game at Marist college Wednesday afternoon between the Formwalt and Edgewood schools. This game will settle the public school championship of the city, Formwalt having won the pennant on the south side and Edgewood on the north side and they have broken even in the two post season games played to date.

Crackers Back Home Today; Play Turtles at Ponce Park; Ad Men's Day Wednesday

Billy Smith and his Crackers blow in here at noon today from New Orleans after an absence of eighteen days on foreign soil, during which time they made a complete junket of the circuit. They are glad to be back, but not half as glad as the fans, who are eager for some good baseball after a lapse of three weeks, and will welcome the local athletes with loud acclamations and in big numbers.

While the road trip did not come up to expectations in the percentage of games won, still it was a success in many other respects. It showed the local fans that they have a ball club that is going to make a fight for that tag all throughout the pennant chase.

"Break" Goes Wrong.
 The little "break" in the game, that has so much to do with the winning or losing of contests in the great national pastime, and on which many a close-fought contest hinges, in practically every case went to the opposition, a base on balls, or an error at a critical time doing untold damage, when the local pitcher apparently had the opposition in check.

The team hit like a house afire, averaging nine hits to the game and scoring an average of five runs to the game. If they can play this kind of ball on level soil, when they get back to familiar ground, with the support of the home routers and the psychological effect that home surroundings always have to do with ball games, watch their smoke.

Bill Smith said when he left on the road trip that if the team came back in the first division he would be satisfied, and certain that whatever ground had been lost would be recovered on the home stay. Well, they came back in the first division, and we are ready to see them start their chase, after the Mobile Gulls again.

Deal Is Made.
 Elliott Dent, the new pitcher purchased from Washington, is in Atlanta waiting for the team to return home to sign his contract and take his regular turn in the box. Just whose place he will take on the hurling corps has not been announced, and will not be until Manager Smith gets here, but Furchner seems slated for the cinchers.

Two Weeks at Home.
 The following week New Orleans and Montgomery will be the attraction and then the Crackers start their jumping point, playing a series in Nashville, then home to Birmingham and back home, and then to Birmingham and back home, etc. After which the second long jaunt begins.

On this home stay the Crackers ought to start getting up their victory and head down the Gulls from their jolly perch. Brady, Price, Musser, Dent and Weaver are expected to pitch great baseball now, if they do the present home stay will be a prosperous one, as the batters will take care of their end. We expect that they will.
