at the regular meeting last Wednesday, when several members indicated that there would be a vote on the new $1,000,000 county bonds, but it is 25 mills higher than the rate in existence before the fact that since it was decided to build the courthouse the legislature has created two additional superior court judgeships and also the municipal and the children's courts, are the fact that the county board of commissioners has adopted the recommendation of the school board that the school tax be five mills this year (instead of four mills, as was the rate last year). The report from the board of education stated that additional buildings and new equipment for the county schools had made the rate necessary.

The members of the county commission decided at the meeting that they would adopt a policy of retrenchment for the year and make no increase in the rate for the year. They also said that following the completion of having far less new bonds, that they believed that the tax rate could be placed where it was five years ago.

DISQUALIFIED OR IMMUNE? The paramount issue of kissing has gone up to the board of police commissioners...

This said, who are best fitted for passing up the innocency or iniquity of kissing...

There's a reason for the question, for it is hinted that the attorney for the defense in the case of Patrolman Norman...

One of the most influential members of the board, Robert C. Clarke, is a bachelor, also are Messrs. Mason and Clarke...

There are strong arguments on both sides. The man who is married ought to know how to distinguish between the fifty-seven varieties of kissing...

Now, chairman Mason and "Bob" Clarke, who are bachelors, more yet, consensus proves that they are hopeless bachelors...

For this forward status of tariff revision while leaving alone the great staple crops of the west...

The tariff out of the way, currency reform will next be considered. That accomplished, the president will wisely cede the party's forces so far as the special session is concerned...

The farmer feedeth all, but he should strike from the list those who only get back to the soil in time for the harvest dinner-horn.

John Bassett Moore announces that he is still on the job. Not very "still," however, with the other one on the lecturing platform, John has to hustle.

It's a genuine song of Prosperity when there's a wagon-wheel accompaniment over the rising roads.

EDMONDS ON PROSPERITY. Richard H. Edmonds, editor of The Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, is the first authority on industrial matters in the southern states.

squarely corroborates the views of The Constitution touching the prosperity due the central south, and inevitably Atlanta, by reason of peculiar conditions in the cotton belt...

Atlanta is the commercial center of the central south which Mr. Edmonds, confirming The Constitution's forecast, sees as superabundantly prosperous this year.

The main requirement is in preparation. It will be the fault of the business men of Atlanta and of Georgia, if they are not equipped to gain the most from the present and the overflowing years in the state's history.

"ALL-OR-NONE," AGAIN. The Constitution publishes today a communication from Professor Rumbert G. Smith, holding the chair of mental and moral science at Emory college...

The professor holds that it is immoral to deal in futures or hedges on any commodity, cotton, wheat or corn.

It is immaterial to hedge in cotton. It is equally immaterial to hedge in wheat and corn. If all are right, all should stand.

It is distinctly outside the province of congress to experiment with southern cotton, to thrust this great southern staple into the laboratory of doubtful economies.

When congress is ready to stop hedging entirely—in everything—and can enact legislation that will not only put a stop to it here, but at the same time prevent the placing of all such contracts abroad...

NEARING THE FINISH. With the passage of the Underwood bill by the senate and its return to the house, tariff revision enters upon its last stage.

At the latest, the bill should be passed no later than October 1. The two cardinal features, wool and sugar, have already been settled as between the two houses.

Just From Georgia By FRANK L. STANTON

Love's Place in Billville. The town folk of this here town don't bother couples who "spoon" on the Town Hill steps, and he can't hear a kiss in the town square...

"Love's another," is the cry of the high command. But it's a crime against Billville Land!

What an audience "would draw" Strangest sight they ever saw! But he's far above the law.

They'll look for "spooning" couples in celestial motor-cars. Blue policemen of the skies, with badges made of stars...

Where a chap cut a wild-kiss his sweetheart when he likes. For shavin' of a apple tree an' talkin' love to Eve.

Lovin', young and old. Here your love unfold! Now, it's no moonlight's bright As a big electric light!

Don't let it be a night! Old town marshals out of sight! Don't let it be a night!

You've got to LEARN WHAT THAT WORD MEANS! Peace

There's a projected meeting going on, says The Whittier Courier, but we beg to say that we are opposed to running the devil out of town at the present time.

Not His Style. The editor of The Menard Messenger goes on record as follows: "Following split trousers are threatening to come in style."

Cashier's Answer. Autumn, you're the lavish one. Your trousers—snick it. Question, make it snicker you. And money in your pocket.

The Right Way. Philosopher Palmer, of The Lowell Republican, says: "The fault lies in the animal, and prepare for it like a pessimist."

Hard Lines. "About all he got out of the railroad fight if it ran over his wife's Georgia paper," was a wooden leg, and his second wife bit him side the head with it, and the poor man has been afflicted with the rattle of the brain ever since.

All Hubberin'. "I'll take a tumble down the hill, my winter coat. If I fall on them they'll grumble. Yet they just want from under!"

How They Save the Country. This is one of many cheering messages from the farm: "They've never read their little card, when congressmen are rowing. I lose six statesmen-by the year. Who beat the country plowing?"

He Keeps A-Goin'. "It's hard to keep some men down," says The Town Philosopher. "We know of one who, after being in a civil service job, appointed himself president of an academy, falling in with the crowd."

An Autumn Holiday. Come out, O Sunshine. Fill up the day. Here's a little cloud of grief—Shine it all away!

When the mowman with his scythe is getting gay; when all the old sweethearts are married off, and the young ones are in the red-garden in front of it, have been absorbed by the skyscraper, it's high time to break the law by manufacturing Georgia moonshine.

INFLUENCE OF BOOKS. "Please let me call your attention to this wonderful set of books I am introducing to the public," said the loquacious man...

"I wouldn't have your books under any circumstances," interrupted Mr. Curlew. "The best thing you can do to go your several ways and not waste my time and your own."

"But that isn't the worst of it, bad as it is," Mr. Curlew continued, "open and devour a book and then forget it, I wouldn't care how many magnificent volumes he bought."

The World's Mysteries WHO WROTE THIS EPIGRAM?

For years a controversy has been going on as to who was the author of the following clever epigram: "If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better man, than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a better path to it."

TOO MANY ARRESTS FOR TRIVIAL OFFENSES

Editor Constitution: While we are on the subject of arrests for trivial offenses, suppose we pause for a moment and see wherein the real trouble lies.

ALL CONTRACTORS GET EQUAL CHANCE

Action Stopped on Awarding of Contract for Refreshment Stand, and New Bids Are Asked.

Action was stopped on the awarding of a contract for the construction of a new public comfort and refreshment building at Grant park when, at the meeting of the park board yesterday afternoon, L. C. Green declared that he did not want the contract awarded until all Atlanta contractors had been given a fair chance to submit bids.

Four bids were submitted and the board was due to take action on them at the meeting Wednesday. President J. O. Cochran was in the act of calling for a vote after several minutes had elapsed, when the bid of C. W. Bernhardt, which was the lowest and amounted to something over $8,000, was accepted, when Mr. Green interrupted.

Could Not Get Copy. "It strikes me as a decidedly strange thing out of the many contractors in Atlanta that we have only four bids for this piece of work," he said.

"I'm making no attempt to fight the 'Jobbers' Exchange," he added, "but I'll tell you that more than 99 per cent of the change can get a chance to bid on city work."

On motion the board then decided to reject all bids and ask for new ones with the understanding that any and all contractors might have copies of the specifications furnished by the board.

All of the members of the board expressed regret that certain contractors had been unable to obtain copies of the specifications.

LIFE AFTER DEATH SAYS NOTED SCIENTIST

other waves in 1888, the discovery of X-rays in 1895, the discovery of radioactivity in 1896 and the isolation of the electron in 1897, regarded as further achievements become vivid and novel, and speculative, have been showered upon us even more than centuries ago. That is why I speak of rapid progress.

Fundamental Scepticism. Sir Oliver explained by fundamental scepticism that he did not mean "well-worn and almost antique theme of theological scepticism." That conference was practically in abeyance last now.

In philosophy the conflict rages round vitalism, the idea, in chemistry the debate concerns atomic structure. In biology the dispute is on the lines of investigation, in economic and political science, or sociology, what is there that is not under discussion? In the vast group of mathematical and physical science, present day criticism concerns what, if I had to express it in one word, I should call continuity.

Philosophers have begun to question some of the larger generalizations of science. Not by philosophers only, but by scientists, who also, ancient initiators are being pulled up by the roots.

In most parts of physics simplicity has sooner or later to give place to complexity, though certainly I urge that the simple laws were true, the law is not really destroyed, it is merely modified. The action of a known additional cause. Hence it is all in the direction of progress, and if we had to summarize the main trend of the controversy at present, I feel inclined to urge that it is in the direction of continuity.

Sir Oliver then discussed the atomic theory at length which he said might be expressed as an invasion of number into unnumbered regions, and also the controversial topic of the principle of relativity.

"If this principle in an extreme sense establishes itself," he said, "it would seem as if even light is weary in atoms, as money is holed out in penny coins, instead of continuously, in which case our customary estimate of the speed of light would be continuous than the events on a great agent of continuity, the ether of space will be relegated to the museum of historical curiosities."

Great Engine of Continuity. Sir Oliver then discussed the difficulties that in his experiments in the ether and the results to date.

"The great engine of continuity," he said, "may be made more or less material, but it is not material at all."

But that science is incompetent to make comprehensive details, even of the ether, and that it goes wrong when it makes the attempt.

This led the speaker to his utterance concerning life after death. Attributing the school of arbitrary materialism, he attempted to account for all that by precise scientific laws, he said.

"You account for things up to a point. But do they stop there? Do they account for our own feeling of joy and sorrow, for our sense of beauty, for the manifold beauty existing throughout the universe? Do not the things get something higher and nobler and more spiritual, something for the sake of which all struggle for existence goes on?"

Striving Towards Life. "But these explanations cannot be final," he still has more to say in the deserts. We have further to explain this competitive striving towards life. Surely the effort must have some significance, the development some significance itself and the meaning of evolution. If we dogmatically set a negative direction and say that we now reduce everything to physics and chemistry, we gobble ourselves as indignantly as those who are falling short of the richness and fullness of our human inheritance. Now, if preferable is the reverent attitude of the eastern people, who bent upon their feet stands in awe with all its might.

"If we have learnt from science that evolution is real, we have learnt a great deal. I must not venture to philosophize, but certainly from the point of view of science evolution is a great reality."

Death of Some Sort. "Either we are immortal beings or we are not. We may not know our destiny, but we must have a death of some sort. Those who make dogmatic assertions as to the nature of those who make assertions, in fact, should be asserted, they are in a negative form. Science may not be able to reveal human destiny, but it certainly should not obscure it. I am one of those who think that the methods of science are not so limited in their scope as has been thought; that they can be applied much more widely and that the psychic region can be studied and brought under law, too. Allow us anyhow to make the attempt, give us a fair field."

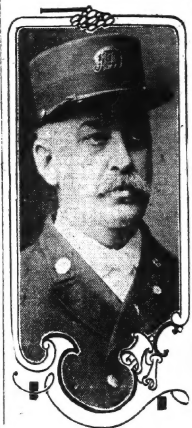

Concluding Sir Oliver said: "Men and brethren, we are trustees of the truth of the physical universe, as scientifically explored; let us be faithful to our trust."

Nature religion has its roots deep down in the heart of humanity and in the unity of things. It is not surprising that by our methods we fail to grasp it, the actions of the deity make no appeal to any special sensibility, our spiritual apprehensions and our methods are, as we know, incompetent to detect complete uniformity. There is a principle of relativity here and unless we acknowledge that we are deaf and blind, therefore, to the immediate grandeur around us, unless we have insight enough to appreciate the whole and to recognize in the seven fabric of existence, however steadily from the moon, an infinite progress towards perfection, the ever steady garment of a transcendent God."

$20,000.00 WANTED FOR SWAMP LANDS. Washington, September 10.—The board of governors of the National Drainage Congress and a committee on Federal action went into session here today to prepare for conferences with Vice President Arambal, Speaker Clark, Secretaries Lane and Houston, and others for the introduction of a $20,000,000 bill for reclamation of swamp lands and flood prevention, under the direction of the department of the interior. Veteran Fireman and Life Saver Has Answered Bell Last Time

Lieut. J. M. Shields, Who in Fire Years Ago, Rescued Several of His Comrades From the Flames, Passes Away.

LIEUTENANT J. M. SHIELDS.

Atlanta's fire department lost its sixth oldest member last night when Lieutenant Joseph Matthew Shields, aged 42, of No. 4 fire house, passed away at his family residence, 353 Luckie street, after a comparatively short illness.

Lieutenant Shields is survived by his widow and four children, three daughters and one boy.

When Lieutenant Shields came to the Atlanta fire department in 1877, there were but four companies of fire fighters in the then small city. He had been with the department three years as hose man when he was transferred to No. 4 fire house, remaining there until his death.

Officials high in the department praised Lieutenant Shields' record last night when the news of his death reached his comrades. In the Fourth (Ludlow fire) Shields saved the lives of several of his men through efforts which won the commendation of the fire board.

Lieutenant Shields was severely injured when a truck which he was driving collided with a street car in 1911, hurrying him to the street and dragging him for some distance, injuring his spine at that time contributed to his death, according to his old comrades.

While no definite funeral services have yet been arranged, it is known that Lieutenant Shields' department comrades will act as pallbearers.

THREE LIVING WIVES AND ONE IN THE GRAVE

SCHOOL SHOES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS WE WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

Ann Arbor, Mich., September 10.—When informed by local authorities tonight that a warrant had been issued charging him with bigamy, David Cole, 48 years of age, contracted to the prosecuting attorney that he had three wives living and a fourth wife is dead.

"I don't care whether I live or not," said Cole. "If I am sent up for bigamy I shan't live long."

The bigamy warrant was the third issued for Cole's arrest. He first was taken into custody at Reading, Wis., Saturday on a grand larceny charge preferred by a local bookskeeper.

Then Mrs. Edith Alespach Cole, of Huntington, Ind., whom court records show he married in Toledo June 10, last, had a warrant sworn out against her. Rumors to the effect that Cole had several wives living came to the authorities yesterday when they secured evidence of an incriminating nature today. Cole's latest wife, signifying the bigamy complaint.

The other women whom Cole married in his life are Mrs. Jane Hamilton, at Marion, Mo., July 16, 1910, and Grace Brand, at LaPorte, Ind., May 21, 1912. The name of the dead woman was not made public.

Cole for a short time was employed as clerk in a local hotel.

But there are those who would stand idly by while girls were being destroyed in the very shadow of the capitol's dome. Again we thank God, for these are in the minority! And they do not, can not control Atlanta's police force. The city is awake. Another effort to undermine Chief Beavers— Another attempt to fly-blow a policy of decency and public purity has failed. MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN No. 77 PARKS, POLICEMEN, PURITY

Atlanta is not sex-mad. Your daughters are safe in the city parks. Proper Police protection will be given girls and children.

Of certain men, Peter said: "These, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of things that they understand not—

"Spots they are and blemishes— "Having eyes full of adultery, and that can not cease from sin— "Which have forsaken the right way— "While they promise liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption."

Such men are still here. But—God be praised! The growth of knowledge among all classes is making it harder for this type of men to live.

A short while, and they will have disappeared; for men are thinking; and, where men think, the man who favors moral corruption has to go.

Watching makes life impossible for him. Hence, he always favors a corrupt police force.

An honest policeman, LIKE CHIEF BEAVERS, backed by an incorruptible police court judge, LIKE RECORDER BROYLES, means the undoing of such a man.

Therefore a fight to control the police force and limit the power of honest officials is inevitable in every city.

Cities of America and the world are today looking to Atlanta. For here our police force is controlled by its Chief. And he has put an end to protected vice.

Men under him are safeguarding the public. For over a year they have kept vice on the run. Further, they are protecting girls from beasts that prey. They will continue this.

For Atlanta is too small and YET TOO BIG to shelter men of that type. You understand. To publish the girl's name in the newspapers to the world was cruelty, but to arrest her when found late at night in a compromising position with a man in the Capitol entrance was merciful.

What might have happened? Had it been your sister—if it were your daughter, you would have thanked God for the arrest and have acknowledged your eternal obligation to the officer who made it. People think. THEY SEE THE TRAGEDIES which lie beyond these supposed kisses.

In "UNMARRIED MOTHERS," an article recently published in Harper's Weekly, Edith Livingston Smith says: "A girl stays innocent until she is awakened. It is the kiss, the touch, the sense stirred that makes her, in the glory of her womanhood or in her shame, acknowledge her sex.

"Our cities are full of mere children who have felt the glow of freedom and the necessity of toil. "Our factories and shops are run by them. "It is but natural that they should obey the call of the times; but they leave their toys and their spelling books to go into wage-earning competition, where life crowds and entices, enchants, dominates AND SOMETIMES KILLS.

"Whose fault is this?" Nicholas Vachel Lindsay sings: "She was taught desire in the street, Not at the angels' feet! By the good no word was said Of the worth of a bridal bed. The secret was learned from the vile, Not from her mother's smile. Home spoke not. And the girl Was caught in the public whirl.

"In Liberty's name we cry For these women about to die.

"What shall be said of a State Where traps for the white bride wait? Of sellers of drink who play The game for extra pay? Of statesmen in league with all Who hope for the girl-child's fall? Of banks where hell's money is paid And Pharisees all afraid Of panders that help them sin? When will our wrath begin?"

Thank God, IT HAS BEGUN in Georgia! Our Legislature, just adjourned, in no uncertain terms gave notice to the world that our representatives have regard for the welfare of the girl.

But there are those who would stand idly by while girls were being destroyed in the very shadow of the capitol's dome. Again we thank God, for these are in the minority! And they do not, can not control Atlanta's police force. The city is awake. Another effort to undermine Chief Beavers— Another attempt to fly-blow a policy of decency and public purity has failed. A special meeting of the milk committee of the chamber of commerce has been called for 12:30 today in the office of Dr. R. A. Dr. Vianassa and his associates raising the benefit thereof." While Dr. Vianassa would not reply to the charges verbally before the meeting today took place he was evidently much exercised over the matter and hinted that he would leave the matter entirely in the hands of his committee for action. It is expected that when the committee meets its report will be a hectic refutation of any and all charges of commercialism in connection with the chamber of commerce's creation for a pure milk supply for the city.

He immediately put up a deafening shout in the meter the club was wrenched of the policeman's hand and his finger was bitten. Then the negro drew his revolver, but the policeman was too quick for him, pulling his gun and shooting the assailant in the breast. The negro fell to the floor and expired before the weapon as he fell. He was removed to the Grady hospital, where it was stated there would be a slight chance that he would live.

ECZEMA DISFIGURED FACE BADLY

Also on Hands. Broke Out in Pimples. Itched Badly. Spread All Over Body. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Hampson Springs, Fla.—"I had had eczema on my face and hands for about three years. My face was badly disfigured. The eczema broke out in pimples and itched so very badly I would scratch it all the time. It was the most irritating disease I have ever had. It started on my face and hands and it spread all over my body. I had great large sores all over me, caused from the eczema. It bothered me day and night so that I could not rest at all."

"I used three remedies for skin disease and they didn't give relief at all. I was almost terrified until a friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. They helped me from the time I started to use them. I used the Cuticura Soap and warm water as a wash and then put the Cuticura Ointment on the sore places. I only used two boxes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and was cured." (Signed) Mrs. E. C. Parker, Dec. 7, 1912. "When you buy a skin-soap think of the advantages Cuticura Soap possesses over the most expensive toilet soap ever made. In addition to being especially pure and thoroughly fragrant, it is delicately yet effectively medicated, giving you two soaps in one, a toilet and a skin soap at one price. Hold throughout the world. Sample of each mailed free, with 25c Skin Book. Address post-paid—Cuticura, Dept. 7, Boston, Mass. Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp."

ation, and that Judge J. B. Roan, of the Stone Mountain circuit, who, by special act of the legislature, has been holding the original division of the superior court in Fulton, will be selected to succeed Judge Hill. The Fulton judgeship was placed on the court of appeals, of which Judge Hill is now chief. The vacancy was caused by the death of Judge Charles S. Reid in a candidate for that position, and it is generally believed that he will be appointed in November. Judge W. H. Roan is also a candidate for the judgeship. The Fulton judgeship pays $5,000 per year, while the judge of the court of appeals receives $7,000. Judge Hill is expected to be chosen chief justice of the court of appeals in the event that Judge Hill leaves that body.

RODEN COMPANY WINS.

Awarded $1,569.50 Against the Overland Southern.

The Hudson Automobile company, through Attorneys R. C. and F. H. Nelson, were awarded a verdict of $1,569.50 in Judge Harce M. Hester's division of the city court yesterday against the Overland Southern Motor company.

The claim of the petitioning company was that on October 27, 1912, they entered into a contract with the Overland Southern to sell automobiles for them in certain Alabama counties, and that the Overland company failed to live up to its end of the contract. The Hudson company stated in its petition that, as required, it deposited with the Overland company the sum of $2,000 of this amount, and allowed them $124.40 for merchandise and freight. The total of these amounts was interest made the amount awarded.

Jesse W. Armistead, president of the geographical union, is a candidate for alderman from the seventh ward and is receiving many assurances of support from his friends. ### SPLENDID CHINA MADE FROM GEORGIA KAOLIN

Dr. McCallie Shows Samples Manufactured From Local Materials.

"That high-grade china may be made from Georgia kaolin and that all the ingredients necessary to manufacture it may be found in this state, was proved by State Geologist R. W. McCallie when he exhibited at the regular quarterly meeting of the state geological board yesterday morning some fine specimens of porcelain manufactured by the Behring potteries at Sebring, Ohio, from Georgia materials he had sent them."

The clay from which the china of a high-grade of whiteness and almost translucent was made came from the Dry Branch section of Twigg county. The mica and feldspar which go into the manufacture of china along with kaolin also came from Georgia. There are large deposits of these materials to be found in sections of the state just north of the section where the kaolin is located.

Dr. McCallie thinks that if pottery manufacturers could be induced to locate in towns midway between the kaolin and mica-feldspar regions, such as Macon, Columbus or Augusta, or even Atlanta, a thriving industry might be established and the people of Georgia get vastly more money from their kaolin deposits than they do now.

"At present," Dr. McCallie said, "Georgians are getting only about $7 a ton for kaolin. Manufactured into fine china, it would be worth hundreds of times that amount."

It was demonstrated to northern manufacturers the capabilities of the Georgia kaolin that Dr. McCallie sent the specimens north to be made up. He read a letter from the manufacturer in question praising a high compliment to the qualities of Georgia kaolin.

HOWARD TRANSFERRED TO ARKANSAS PRISON

In charge of a deputy marshal he will leave Atlanta today for Little Rock, where he will be granted for trial on the charges now pending.

DOINGS OF "VICE SQUAD" BOB UP IN COMMITTEE

While Shooting at Dogs, Stray Bullet Struck Attorney W. C. Monday.

The doings of the "vice squad" bobbed up to another place Wednesday afternoon when Attorney W. C. Monday, of 419 Glenn street, put in a petition for damages before the district committee of council for delinquencies committed on the now famous capitol grounds.

From Mr. Monday's petition it seems that two officers, whose names he did not give, were "chasing" several dogs at midnight on August 12, and that in their anxiety to kill the dog which was the cause of the disturbance, one of them fired and a stray bullet struck Mr. Monday.

Mr. Monday was forced to go to the Grady hospital for treatment. He declared that he received a very painful, but not serious flesh wound, and believed that the city should reimburse him. The committee agreed with him and recommended that his hospital expenses be paid and that he should receive a nominal sum for the discomfort caused. He was on his way home from lodge meeting at the time the accident occurred. He was very responsible in a case like this, but we felt that Monday was due something," explained Chairman Jesse M. Wood.

"The city is certainly not responsible for what the policeman did and I thank the Lord for it," commented Monday. "If it had not been for the dog, the policeman would not have shot at me. It is a good thing that the law does not hold the police responsible. As he added, 'for if it did, we could exhaust the treasury in no time, the way some of them act.'"

Lounsbury, chairman of the chamber committee on commercial travelers, was authorized to call a meeting of his committee on the 15th inst. and means of drawing that body of men and of the manner more closely together.

That would be the greatest advertisement that Atlanta could have," said W. H. Leahy, acting secretary of the chamber. "If we can bring the great body of traveling men into cooperation with us, we can aid them in many ways, and they in turn will be the greatest advertising force for our city that we could possibly have."

"We are going after that convention with a vim," said Mr. Houser yesterday. "and we stand a mighty good chance to get it, too. Getting that convention would mean that several thousand prominent men from all parts of the country would come to Atlanta, and we would have the good of securing better roads and road legislation for the south as well."

Winn was appointed official delegate to the American road congress which meets in Detroit September 22, 23, 24, by the directors of the chamber at their monthly meeting yesterday. O'NEAL REBUKES HOBBSON IN CAUSTIC STATEMENT

Declares Self-Respect Prevents Him From Descending to the Same Level as Congressman.

Montgomery, Ala., September 10.—(Special.)—Gov. O'Neal's own rebuke to the editor of the press for the use of decent speech—the dignity of the office he hold and the opinion of the people of Alabama, whose commission I bear—prevent me from descending to the low plane of scurrilous abuse and coarse and vulgar language which characterized the involved and incoherent statement issued by Captain R. P. Hobson.

With these words Governor O'Neal began his statement in reply to Captain Hobson's recent attack upon him. The governor's statement is by far the most caustic he has issued since he became chief executive of the state. He declares that the people of Alabama should feel a deep sense of humiliation that a man who had been honored by election to congress should "so far forget every instinct of gentlemanly breeding as to indulge in language which would disgrace the lowest and coarsest wretch ever reared amid the blindest view of the portliness of the worst pig in the land."

Governor O'Neal states that Captain Hobson knew that he could not dishonor the high office he held and bring discredit and disgrace upon the people of the state by making that reply which he did. He said that his recent statement would have required "a rebuke."

"I submit it to the fair and candid judgment of the people of Alabama whether it was the act of a brave man or a coward—to grossly insult another whose situation Mr. Hobson has made such that recrimination could not follow," declares the governor.

The governor again takes up the senatorial question, reiterating his former charge that Captain Hobson was the first man to approach him on the subject of filling the vacancy, and asserting that Judge Edward de Graffenried had advised Mr. Hobson not to apply for the office.

The executive committee to Captain Hobson the words of the State Master. "Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man."

The governor characterizes Mr. Hobson as the "pecksniff of Alabama politics," the "pastmaster in the art of bilking," declaring that a deep sense of public duty has compelled him to "sorrow more than in anger, to rebuke him."

GIRL ARRESTED AT ROME TAKEN HOME BY FATHER

The father telegraphed local officials to take them into custody, and the girl's father returned to Jacksonville with the assurance of the father that the family would move back to Georgia next week.

ADAMS WILL NOT MAKE CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Gainesville, Ga., September 10.—(Special.)—Colonel J. O. Adams issues a statement in reply to the report published in The Atlanta Georgian to the effect that Senator Hoke Smith would stump the district for him for congress at next Congressmen's ball. This publication brought on considerable talk in the district. The Constitution's correspondent referring to it yesterday.

Council Adams says that the reports is "hatched up" by a few sore-heads who wish to see it appear that Senator Smith is trying to conduct a party in local politics in this district," and continuing, he says:

"I have no idea of running for congress, have never spoken or conferred with Senator Smith, direct or indirectly, about making the race, and those hatching up the story evidently did it, knowing the facts. I know the Atlanta papers are in no way responsible for the story."

NEW ROAD MACHINERY FOR LAURENS COUNTY

TOO MANY "COLONELS," DECLARE MEMBERS OF THE BAR AT ROME, GA.

Roma, Ga., September 10.—(Special.) To stop the promiscuous use of honorary titles is the object of a crusade started by members of the Rome Bar association. They want such names as "Judge," "Colonel" and "Captain" applied only to people who have earned the right to use them.

An investigation developed the fact that there are twenty-three people in Rome habitually using the name of Judge, whereas the total membership of the Rome bar is only forty-one, and the people entitled to the name in reality are the present and past judges of the city or county and superior courts who do not number more than half a dozen.

The lawyers are likewise protesting against the application of the name "colonel" to all members of the name alike, whether they be beardless youths or patriarchs, and have requested their friends not to call them "colonel."

THE TRUTH ABOUT ENGRAVINGS

THE MOST EXPENSIVE THING IN THE WORLD IS A CHEAP HALFTONE.

It is expensive because the purchaser does not get what he wants or expects.

It is expensive to the printer because it compels him to waste time in an effort to get results that are impossible.

When finally printed, if it ever is, it is expensive to the party who uses it because it does not bring the results expected.

It is expensive to the engraver who sells it because a customer does not come back the second time for cheap work.

Chas. P. Byrd, one of the oldest and best-known printers in the South, has the following to say in a recent issue of Byrd's-Eye-View, the house organ of the Byrd Printing Company:

"To those who have not learned by experience it often seems advisable to buy engravings as inexpensively as possible and put it up to the printer to get results.

"The plates may be very shallow and improperly etched. They may give good results on an engraver's proof-press, but not on a rapidly-running cylinder.

"There is a certain price below which engravings cannot go and remain satisfactory, no matter what the engraver's proof-press is indicating."

Mr. Byrd knows what he is talking about. He never made an engraving in his life, but he has bought thousands of them, and he knows exactly the kind of plates that will give good results when it comes to printing.

He knows what kind of results to expect from a cheap halftone and what kind of results can be secured from a first-class plate.

He KNOWS when he pays the Southern Engraving Company more for a halftone than he would some other that he is getting a better plate than he would if he bought it at a cheaper price.

He knows that he is getting a plate that he can print in a manner creditable to himself and satisfactorily for his customer.

THE SOUTHERN ENGRAVING COMPANY IS NOT A CHEAP HOUSE.

We have the largest photo-engraving plant in the South. We pay our men higher wages than anywhere else in the South because they are BETTER WORKMEN.

We get higher prices for our work than any other house in the South because we turn out BETTER WORK. When it comes to quality we have no competitors in this section and no superiors in America.

We turn out more work than any two houses in the South because with our superior workmen and our day and night forces we can turn it out quicker and better than any of the little fellows.

We have demonstrated to the users of engravings that our plates are SUPERIOR to those turned out by the cheap houses and they are willing to pay higher prices when they know that they are getting the BEST that money can buy.

NO OTHER ENGRAVING OR PRINTING ESTABLISHMENT IN THE SOUTH CAN HANDLE YOUR CATALOG JOB IN ITS ENTIRETY.

With our staff of photographers, artists, designers and engravers we are prepared to get out catalogs, from furnishing you with ideas to the printed job complete.

If you are looking for cheap, makeshift work, please do not waste our time.

If you want the BEST let us show you what we are doing for others.

Kissing and Kissers Defended

By Park Commissioner Green

Kissing in the parks, or in any place, was not mentioned at the meeting of the park board yesterday afternoon until the improvement committee met after the board had adjourned. Then it came up.

"I wish we could do something to keep automobiles from backing over the grass at Grant park when they want to turn around," said Superintendent Dan Carey, "and I think I can ask Chief Beavers to have a few of them arrested."

"Oh, would never get them arrested for that, the police are too busy watching for kissers," replied President J. O. Brown, a member of the committee.

"I wish we could just catch a couple kissing in an auto while the driver was turning around and cutting up our grass, we'd make it hot for them."

There was a general laugh at this, and there followed in quick order a motion to not "take up" the kissing question in the improvement committee.

No more mention of the matter was made while the meeting was in session, after which were covered several matters were talking of the matter.

"I'll tell you, if I were an unmarried man, I wouldn't care how many times they caught me kissing a girl in the park. If she was pretty," said L. C. Green.

"This is a pretty ticklish question, and I would rather not discuss it," stated Frank Reynolds.

"Oh, if they ever brought me up, I'd have to plead guilty to I don't know how many counts," replied Mr. Green.

"Well, it's a matter calling for great discretion on the part of the boy, the girl, and especially the patrolman, but in Charles J. Branon, 'and I would hate to have any one say that we have opened the parks and invited everybody to kiss out there!"

THROWER BUILDING FOR COURTHOUSE

At the meeting of the county commissioners Wednesday it was decided to rent the Thrower building, for which the lease expires on September 30, for $120 per month, with the county having the right to terminate its tenancy with 30 days' notice to the owner. The present lease calls for $100 per month, but was a year lease and the owners refused to let the building again so cheaply.

Commissioner Clifford L. Anderson declared that he expected that by next March or April that the county would get into the new courthouse and would not need the Thrower building any longer.

The county now rents the Thrower building and also the old city hall, now owned by Attorney Reuben R. Arnold, paying $100 per month for the latter. It was stated at the meeting that the county had to spend $3,000 on the Thrower building and about half that amount on the old city hall before they could be got in shape for use.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

All the News of Real Estate and Building

Ans G. Chandler, W. T. Ashford, Charles P. Glover have signed up with certain Southern rail road officials to construct an underpass under the Southern railroad tracks east of the Capital City country club, and to extend Brookhaven drive eastward from Peachtree. The distance is practically 3 miles to the Williams Mill road.

The entire work will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. When completed, the road will be fully 40 feet wide, and one of the best in that section.

Work will start immediately, said Charles P. Glover Wednesday. The contracts have been signed, and the railroad is anxious to get the work completed while they are working on their double-tracking.

$20,000 Cash Sale. It was announced yesterday that George W. Parrott, through H. M. Wheeler, has purchased from W. F. Wheeler, east part of the present site of the street on the corner of Inman street and Savannah street, containing 12,324.00 sq. ft. for $20,000 cash.

This tract is one of the most valuable portions of the city, and has a fine view. No special plan for the improvement of the property has been given by the purchaser.

Druary Street Sales Increasing. The Atlanta development company has made a number of sales recently in their new subdivision known as Drury street. Among the recent sales are 123 sq. ft. Drury street, 5520 sq. ft. to R. McDonald. Mr. McDonald is erecting a handsome residence on this property, all of the appropriate cost being $10,000. It is said that business is very good for those who have the right property on the market at the present time, said F. C. Jones, of the firm.

We have an excellent building here, especially that of small residences and bungalows. This is the best territory in the city, and there has been little building for some time past, and the population has been steadily increasing. Likewise money is not quite so tight as formerly, and the prospects of big cities and government money to move them, it looks as though these things will be brighter.

By a mistake in the report given out, it was stated in The Constitution Wednesday that No. 13 Manhattan avenue had been sold. Instead it was No. 13, which brought a price of $75,000. The deal was handled by Gordon & Gorrie.

COTTON NERVOUS AND IRREGULAR

Liverpool Cables Were Weak and Caused the New York Market to Open at Decline. Prices Rallied Late in Day.

New York, September 10.—The cotton market showed continued nervousness and irregularity during today's trading, although the intense excitement and activity of the past several days appeared to be subsiding and fluctuations were less violent. At times reactionary, if not bearish, sentiment seemed to be gaining ground, owing to reports that the demand from exporters had failed to materialize to the extent expected. The market rallied late in the day, however, on the report that the demand for cotton in the United States was still active and the market opened at a good deal of support on declines. Late in the afternoon, however, several points on the market were reported with the close steady at the level of 12 to 12 1/2 cents.

Liverpool attributed relatively weak cables to American and continental selling, combined with interest in the market. The market opened at a decline of 1/16 to 1/8 points in response to the English shipping and a report of yesterday's selling market. The market was well taken at the initial figures, with some reaction to the report of interest in the market.
