

SULZER TO BE TRIED AT HIGH NOON TODAY FOR HIS CIVIL LIFE

First Court of Impeachment to Pass on Acts of Governor Convenes in New York State Capitol.

SULZER IS CHEERFUL ON EVE OF HIS TRIAL

Opponents of Sulzer Predict That He Will Resign His Office Rather Than Face Cross-Examination.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 17.—The stage is set for the opening at noon tomorrow of the trial of the impeachment of William Sulzer, the governor of New York, before the first high court of impeachment ever convened in this state to pass upon charges filed against her chief executive.

While Governor Sulzer conferred tonight with his counsel, members of the assembly, board of managers who will act as prosecutors, discussed with their legal assistants methods of procedure on the morrow. Members of the court of appeals and the judges who jointly compose the high court, also mapped out their plan of action.

Friends of the impeached executive repeated their assertions that he is in good spirits, confident of the support he will draw from the voters. He will not resign, they believe, but will stand up to the trial of his civil life. They are certain that he will not resign and that he will stand up to the trial of his civil life. They are certain that he will not resign and that he will stand up to the trial of his civil life.

Probing Past of Jekyll-Hyde Priest Who Butchered Girl

Investigation was at once begun into the past history of Hans Schmidt, assistant priest at St. Joseph's Catholic church, New York, who confessed he murdered Anna Aumuller, the Hudson river girl, by a regular license. He had been regularly ordained and had long been known to his parish.

GRAY VETERANS BARRED BY BLUE

After Being Invited, Confederate Soldiers Were Not Allowed in G. A. R. Parade. Commander Beers Explains.

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 17.—Enforcement of an order excluding women and civilians from the forty-seventh annual Grand Army of the Republic parade today prevented the N. B. Forrest camp of United Confederate Veterans from participating in the parade. (Clad in their gray uniforms, the veterans were prepared to form in the line of march with the parade.)

Local police know of no suicides or mysterious deaths. The note signed "My dear wife and child," which was found in the pocket of the Southern railroad tonight, the case contained a Bible and clothing and the note was written in pencil on stationery of the Leader Dry Goods company, 64 Wood street, Atlanta.

When informed of the presumed death of her admirer Wednesday night, Miss Lewis said: "We had been engaged for some months up to September 8, when he came to me and told me that he was going to Chattanooga to join a local troupe."

"He told me then that he intended to purchase a farm in Texas as soon as he had the money necessary to do so. He said that he would like to see me as soon as he had the money necessary to do so. He said that he would like to see me as soon as he had the money necessary to do so."

The Atlanta Constitution as the Standard Southern Newspaper

THERE are various types of newspapers each with its distinct appeal and of varying degrees of popularity in different sections of the country. All of them are represented in the South.

One is the sensational newspaper. It is not as fashionable as it used to be. Many shrewd newspaper men, trained in sensing the public taste, think it is waning very fast. Faking is its foundation. Its program is to hit the reader every day between the eyes. If bona fide news serves its turn, that news is played up in blazing, hysterical headlines. The reading matter screams and smells of fire. It is merciless when it treats scandal. Sometimes it is reckless of the community welfare so long as it shocks the pennies from people's pockets. If material for these spasms is not forthcoming, it has often been known to resort to invention. Its editorial views are biased, bushwhacking and uncandid.

Another type is the feature newspaper. It is much milder than the first, but their programs have something in common. It is always in search of the picturesque, the unique, the bizarre. Often it prints accurate news. Oftener the news is "muffed" or obscured or muddled in the effort to distort a feature out of it. It abounds in graphic pictures. Its editorial, like its news policy, is casual, flippant and happy-go-lucky.

A third type is the ultra-conservative newspaper. Some mighty fine sheets are in this class. Most of them lean too far backward. They are afraid of progress in the news and public issues until progress has grown whiskers. An innovation generally gives them the palsy. For a thing to be new is to make it rest under suspicion. They never like to get from under the shadow of the established order. A great big world-thrilling event generally leaves them with a steady pulse-beat.

There are other types. These three are archtypes.

The Atlanta Constitution, as "The Standard Southern Newspaper," is distinctive enough as to have almost if not quite created a fourth pronounced type.

It is the plumb-line by which Atlanta, the state, south and nation gauge other newspapers of the same class.

Since its establishment it has been operated upon a clean-cut, definite program, with definite journalistic purposes behind it. That program has not been and is not the result of accident. It was not stumbled upon in the dark. It is the result of a keen and patient study of the paper's field, microscopic examination of the best and the worst in its contemporaries, and intimate sympathy with the ideas of its constituency.

The Constitution is an entity.

It represents the best of other types of newspapers, with an added individuality of its own.

First of all, it prints the news of other countries, its own country, its own state and its own city. The public wants in its newspaper, primarily, a report of all the news occurrences that are informative and interesting and fit to print. The Constitution gives right of way to news. The greater portion of its editorial organization is concentrated upon the task of gathering the news and presenting it properly. No newspaper of its class anywhere prints a more comprehensive news review of the world occurrences.

It gives the TRUTH in the news prime consideration. It regards itself as in a compact with its readers to deliver certain goods. It does not knowingly deliver damaged or tainted goods.

It believes allegations should be verified before they go to its readers. It does not countenance smutty or suggestive news. It stresses cleanliness.

This does not entail prudishness. It means THE TRUTH stripped of sly embellishment.

But it does not believe there is any necessity to present the news dully. "An honest tale spreads best being plainly told," but that does not mean TOLD PLAINLY.

Everyone likes a bright but accurate talker, and everyone likes a bright but accurate newspaper. The paper that described the Titanic disaster like reciting a lesson would not get very far. The Constitution employs able and highly-trained men to put GINGER into The Truth.

It believes in an attractive dress for itself. Good clothes on man, woman or newspaper represent good taste.

Typographically, The Constitution is a model. It strives for all the grace compatible with the correct estimate of every article's worth.

It employs experts who know what's what and who's who in the news, and what credit to give men and events. It is not wedded to any arbitrary typographical formulas, when important things happen.

When occasion justifies, to use street parlance, it "throws it into the high gear" in the matter of type display. But it strives always to preserve consistency between the real importance of news and its typographical presentation.

It believes in features that are entertaining—in entertainment itself.

It retains humorists and facile artists to relieve the paper of the heaviness which the printing of unflavored news only would entail.

It prints fiction, essays and various other classes of matter that are as entertaining as they are informative, so that the paper will provide interesting reading for every taste and mood.

In its editorial columns it honestly strives for what it believes to be for the good of the largest number.

It does not fawn.

It does not misrepresent.

It does not mind making enemies.

It avoids provincialism.

It tries to be national in its viewpoint.

ALTOGETHER ITS PROGRAM IS TO APPEAL TO THE JUDGMENT, THE CONFIDENCE, THE BELIEF IN THE WHOLESOME THINGS OF LIFE, THE SANE DESIRE FOR SANE PROGRESS AND FOR ALL WORTH WHILE THINGS OF EXISTENCE, OF THE BEST TYPE OF SOUTHERN PEOPLE.

The program has been undeviating.

THAT is WHY

Her captor was one of those whose passion was done. A cold, fierce worm of the sea—

What hangman shall wait his host Of butchers from coast to coast, New York to the Golden Gate—

Lust-kings with a careful plan— CHIEF BEAVERS smashed their plan in Atlanta.

September, a year ago, he made it impossible for them in the Capital of Georgia to follow that trade which demands the seduction of girls.

He has done more; his success has taught that one fearless and honest official can end the reign of "lust-kings" in other cities.

Birmingham has notified the world that her houses of shame must go. And last week the Mayor of the Capital of Texas, Austin, in directing that the red-light district close October 1, pointed to the act of your CHIEF OF POLICE.

Cities and smaller towns seeing the work that he has done in Atlanta have thrown off the disgraceful yoke.

From Tacoma, Buffalo, San Francisco, Richmond, Nashville, Charleston, Mobile and other cities come pouring inquiries as to the work of your police force and its Chief.

"Lust-kings" are aghast. Their occupation of buying, defiling and selling girls and women will become a thing of the past!

They strive to stem the tide. "COLD, FIERCE WORMS" willing and anxious to enrich themselves by the sale of the souls of women and girls—these today are trying to poison your minds against your Chief of Police: IN THIS WAY they hope to destroy the discipline and efficiency of your police force.

But not yet has the day dawned in Georgia—never will that day come in our State—when the criminal element can ruin a man simply because he loves honor more than gold.

Chief Beavers is safe. BUT OUR CITY and State have suffered. God forbid that more damage be done!

The eyes of the world are upon the meeting of our Police Commissioners tonight—Wednesday. You are not a fool: you know that neither the Chief, nor any of the men under him, oppose or knowingly interfere with innocent love-making in our parks; you are not blind.

And squids cannot emit enough of ink to hide the truth, or obscure THE REAL ISSUES. They are these—

For the third time charges have been preferred against one man now holding a captain's commission on the force. A second time the charges involve the relations of this man with women. Twice he has been cleared. If innocent, he should be cleared again. But this time he stands accused of improper conduct in one of our city parks where children play.

The man is married. Chief Beavers suspended him. What has this to do with the "lust-kings" and their plans? EVERYTHING. The Chief must have power to prevent the contamination of our children's playgrounds; if a married man, an officer of our force, offends, DUTY DEMANDS the more that the Chief remove him. If the Board should condone such actions upon the part of subordinates, where would be the discipline of our force? Who would be responsible for the just contempt with which men would view the officers of the law?

For the third time charges have been preferred against one man now holding a captain's commission on the force. A second time the charges involve the relations of this man with women. Twice he has been cleared. If innocent, he should be cleared again. But this time he stands accused of improper conduct in one of our city parks where children play.

The man is married. Chief Beavers suspended him. What has this to do with the "lust-kings" and their plans? EVERYTHING. The Chief must have power to prevent the contamination of our children's playgrounds; if a married man, an officer of our force, offends, DUTY DEMANDS the more that the Chief remove him. If the Board should condone such actions upon the part of subordinates, where would be the discipline of our force? Who would be responsible for the just contempt with which men would view the officers of the law?

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE MEN AND RELIGION FORWARD MOVEMENT

HONEST CONTRACT FOR COTTON TRADE

Effort to Secure Such Contract and Modify the Clarke Tax on Deals in Futures—Wilson's Aid Sought.

By John Corliss, Jr., Washington, September 17.—(Special)—Strong efforts are being made to have President Wilson help in securing an amendment of the Clarke futures tax which will require the New York cotton exchange to adopt an honest contract based on government standard grades of cotton.

The house conferees are in favor of modifying the Clarke amendment. The house has once gone on record in favor of abolishing speculative trading entirely by denying the use of the mails or wires for carrying on such trade.

Advocates of the new plan believe this can be done through the use of the government's taxing power. It will be tendered on contracts by attaching severe penalties to the tenor of "dog-eared" or waste cotton.

As conditions are now the New York exchange arbitrarily fixes the premiums and discounts on the grades above and below middling cotton twice a year. No matter how much these grades may fluctuate in the spot market, the arbitrary value given them on the exchange is not changed.

It would be just as reasonable to try to fix in advance the difference between the value of New York Central and Georgia Central railroad stock throughout the year. It could be done with just as much justice or reason.

Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, who fought for the Smith-Lever compromise and today he doubted if the Clarke amendment would prohibit gambling. The tax would simply be passed on to the cotton farmer through debiting the much from the price offered to him for his staple. It might prevent some speculative sale where $1 or $2 a bale is put up as margin, but would not prevent the great volume of gambling.

"What we ought to do," said Senator Smith, "is to require the cotton exchange to be a real cotton market, where a man could buy a contract for a determinable lot of cotton he could ship. Such exchanges would furnish a wider market for cotton and advance prices. The custom which permits a trade to include waste cotton of a 'dog-eared' or fair valuation artificially fixed on it

What helps to reduce the price of cotton in the farmers' hands?"

A substitute for the Clarke amendment submitted to the conferees by Representative Lever, of South Carolina, would provide that the tax of 50 cents per bale shall not be assessed where the cotton contracts call for the regular government grades, and such grades actually are delivered; or where the difference in price is paid if another grade is delivered. This and other changes will be considered. It is believed that the cotton futures amendment finally will be retained as a regulatory provision as well as a revenue raising feature.

Representative Lever said today that he substitutes for the Clarke cotton futures amendment had the approval of many southern senators, with whom he had talked.

The proposal is in the nature of a compromise, and was drawn by Lever after conferences with experts of the department of agriculture, and Postmaster General Burleson. It is intended to regulate cotton exchange contracts rather than abolish the exchange.

Under the substitute, if actual delivery of cotton sold on exchange were not made, a settlement would be required on the basis of actual commercial differences as established in the spot cotton market, for six days previously between the grade tendered and the basic grade named on the contract, which is usually middling cotton. A nominal tax of 5 cents per bale would be imposed for non-delivery.

What Exchange Men Say. Representatives of the cotton exchanges have presented objections to such a compromise, and have asked that a small tax be levied—approximately the same as that imposed as a revenue raiser during the Spanish war—and government commission be created to study the taxation of cotton futures as an economic measure.

The cotton men who object to the compromise declare that the taxing of cotton, for grades which the government has created standard types, will cover only certain grades of white cotton, and will exclude not only certain lower grades of white cotton, but also all colored and stained cotton, which normally constitutes about 28 per cent of the crop, and which they claim in years of storm is a much greater proportion.

The effect of the compromise, they claim, would be to take the tax off the hands of the farmer, and place it on the hands of the speculator. They also claim that the tax would be paid by the farmer through debiting the much from the price offered to him for his staple. It might prevent some speculative sale where $1 or $2 a bale is put up as margin, but would not prevent the great volume of gambling.

Marshall Pleads Guilty. Birmingham, Ala., September 17.—J. Marshall today plead guilty in United States court here on charges of using the mails to defraud. He was given 18 months in Federal penitentiary. Marshall was former president of the American Concrete and Steel Co., of Birmingham, and is alleged to have sold several thousand dollars worth of worthless bonds in the company.

ENGLAND THREATENED BY GREATEST STRIKE

Lockouts of Workmen Seem Likely to Cause General Labor Trouble.

London, September 17.—England is threatened with the most serious strike in history, according to union leaders here today.

The trouble began with lockouts of many workmen in Dublin last week, due to a strike of transport workers because of the employment of non-union laborers. The sympathetic Liverpool dock workers and six Birmingham already has crippled the three great trunk railways serving the midland counties of England and the Manchester Ship Canal company also is contending with a strike of dock laborers.

At Liverpool, seven of the great freight depots were idle this morning and others are likely soon to be closed. All attempts have failed to settle the Dublin trouble. The difficulty of getting provisions into the Irish capital has become so great that it is believed the markets there will be closed.

London has been only indirectly affected by the railroad strikes. The metropolis is more interested in the threatened strike of motor omnibus drivers, because the employers refuse to allow employees to wear union badges. A resolution favoring a strike, which would tie up all the motor omnibuses and trolleys in London.

HEAVY DOCKETS KEEP FULTON JUDGES BUSY

On account of having one of the heaviest dockets of the year in the criminal division of the city court, Judge Andrew E. Calhoun has decided to hold court another week. After that the criminal division of superior court is due to meet, as these courts do not have separate rooms and cannot meet at the same time. Solicitor Hugh M. Dorey is said to be looking for a judge from another circuit who can preside temporarily in Fulton until the tangled cases by changes can be straightened out. His docket is even more crowded than was the city court docket.

WRECKER SUSPECTS PUT UNDER ARREST

Engineer Ragsdale, of Central, Notices Absence of Lamp and Stops Train in Time.

Sheriff L. D. Hutson of Spaulding county and two railroad detectives tonight have three young white men under suspicion for the attempt to wreck the Dixie Flyer late Tuesday night as it sped through the yards of Hampton, Ga. It is expected that arrests will be made within the next 18 hours.

This is the second time that an attempt to wreck the Dixie Flyer has been made at this place, the previous one occurring about the same time ago. The train has also been stopped several times near Hampton. Although detectives have made thorough investigations of these previous outrages there have been unable to place the blame on anyone.

The attempt was frustrated by T. R. Ragsdale, engineer, who happened to note the absence of the switch lamp at the bridge switch. The train was driving at high speed when Ragsdale saw the customary lamp was missing.

He brought his train to a halt within 100 yards of the place where the engine coming upon the displaced switch. Investigation revealed the switch lamp burning in a nearby cornfield, where it evidently had been thrown.

Officials of the Central road, the tracks of which receive the flyer on route to Atlanta, have ordered immediate investigation. Bloodhounds are on the trail of the supposed would-be-wreckers, and a squad of detectives are at work on the case.

NEGRO VETERANS PARADE

Fully 12,000 union survivors of the civil war marched through the streets of Chattanooga today in the Grand Army of the Republic's forty-seventh annual parade. In the face of a steady rain the veterans trudged between human walls of cheering spectators which lined the entire route.

Singing familiar songs and waving battleflags, "Old Glory" and department banners, the veterans presented a picturesque sight which will long be remembered in Dixie.

Half a dozen confederate veterans clad in gray uniforms, were taken prisoners by union veterans during the progress of the parade and amid shouts of laughter forced to participate in it. Laughing and chatting with their captors, the confederate veterans brought forth repeated cheering from the spectators.

Negro Veterans in Parade. Many union veterans headed the demonstration. Umbrellas were more numerous by far than arms. In many instances red, white and blue pennants were substituted for guns and the Louisiana-Mississippi mostly composed of negroes, carried staves of sugarcane, topped with cotton bolls.

Good-natured remarks were exchanged continuously between the marchers and the cheering throng of veterans was asked, "What do you think of the south?"

Turning to his comrades, he waved both arms and called for "Three cheers for the south!" He then turned to cheer his false teeth became dislodged, fell to the street and slid on the wet asphalt. Undaunted, the veteran recovered the teeth and proceeded on his way cheering.

"My Old Kentucky Home." During the greater part of the march the "My Old Kentucky Home" was sung. The refrain was picked up by the spectators, who joined in with great zeal.

A picturesque feature was the presence in the parade of only one woman, clad in white and gold and carrying two immense United States flags she headed the Chicago delegation.

Interspersed throughout the entire parade were several brass bands and scores of fife and drum corps. "The Bonnie Blue Flag," "Yankee Doodle," "Dixie" and other well-known selections rendered brought forth much cheering. No partiality was evidenced for any one tune. "Yankee Doodle" arousing as much a demonstration as any other.

Other events of interest in connection with the annual encampment were a reproduction of the battle of Missionary Ridge this afternoon and a Grand Army camp fire and the city auditorium tonight.

DON'T LEAVE THE FAT CLAM BED

Would you let a BIG DOLLAR roll away? A merchant who has been a merchant for many years was rolling Big Dollars down a RAT HOLE yesterday. He claims to be successful.

But he isn't. He is overlooking the piles and piles of money that you prosperous people would spend WITH HIM if he only could convince you that he had the goods of quality and bargain prices that he thinks he has.

He may have the best in the world at the lowest prices; but YOU don't KNOW it. Therefore he must confine his sales to a small proportion of customers.

This merchant is like the boy digging for clams who left a bed of FAT, TENDER CLAMS for another part of the Bay and found NO CLAMS at all. He walked right over thousands of the richest clams in the ocean as he hurried to an unfruitful spot. After a while he returned to his starting place, but the tide had covered the flats. His basket was empty, and he went home DEFEATED. The boys who REMAINED at the PLENTIFUL bed FILLED MANY BASKETS and MADE MANY SALES.

This merchant and thousands of you are PASSING BY the fat, rich, tender clams—the fruitful, thriving opportunities that bristle in the air all about you.

Why don't you GRASP them? Buy a WANT AD. TELL the people what you want. Somebody in Atlanta HAS the thing you need. Is it a home, a room, a job, a sewing machine or an automobile? Someone has it. Don't be the boy with the empty basket. TELEPHONE a WANT AD to The Constitution TODAY. Answers tomorrow.

Friday and Saturday and Sunday are Big days this week. Don't pass them by; each is full of big chances for success.

These Are the Silks for Fall
Here in Atlanta, at Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.'s, are the silks that such dress-wizards as—
PAQUIN BECHOFF CALLOT
DOUCET AGNES WORTH
ZIMMERMAN LUCILE JENNY
PREMET MAYER RONDEAU
have stamped with the mark of distinction. They have used these silks this season—have made them into the models that set the fashion for Fall.
This is the "Sterling" mark of silks.
The words in this pen cannot tell their beauty. It remains for your eyes and your "color sense" to appreciate them—and so now, with the wealth and novelties of the silk world to show you, we invite you to the Silk Section and its surprises and beauties.
Season after season our Silk Section harbors the silks of fashion—Atlantans know this, but Atlantans do not know what it offers this season, and cannot until they have visited it.
Modern and semi-Oriental fabrics in designs and colors—the recent art movement, with its "queer" figures and bold splashing of colors, and the picturesque Oriental patterns and blendings of colors vie with one another for your favor—one time they are reflected in high piled fabrics and again they are lissome and limp as gossamer—and still again they are combined.
Here—
Voile Velour Brocade—a voile of the substance of a humming bird's wing, weighted with a heavy velour brocade—colors, scattered over a silk—
Ratine Voiles—great "rough" patterns, scattered over a silk—
Crepe Broche—the beauty of the supplest silk crepe, with a raised velvet pattern.
Crepe Faille—in a more weighty fabric it would be termed cordé. A fashion to fit in with the draped styles of the season.
Velour de-Laine—a novelty of the corded fabrics, and at the same time of the pile fabrics.
Moire Renaissance—a poplin moire that has been brocaded; new.
Charmeuse Matelasse—the winding matelasse patterns on a ground of shimmering charmeuse.
Moire Charmeuse—as the name implies, a rippled effect on this soft fabric.
And so we might go on telling of the fabrics, the Oriental and Dresden vestings (important themselves in the fashions), the pebble back and the serge back charmeuse, the uncut velvets, the crepe meteors, the crepe de chimes, the embroidered chiffons and the wonderful robes with their gold and burnished silver ornaments—we might tell much of these fabrics that lift our Silk Section to its commanding eminence. But we would rather you see them in their exquisite texture and their colors—which are these novelties:

FOOD SO MUCH BETTER THAT PRICE IS HIGHER

So Dr. Wiley Expands Advance in Living Cost—Men Never Before So Well Fed.

Chicago, Ill., September 15.—The six sections of the International Congress and Exposition of Refrigeration arranged their temporary organization today preparatory to a week's discussion of the most modern means of preserving, conserving and transporting foods.

- The six sections of the congress are: 1. Liquid gases and units. 2. The design, construction, operation and methods of testing refrigerating machinery and insulating materials. 3. The application of refrigeration to foods for the purpose of conserving and preserving them. 4. The use of refrigerating apparatus in the industrial arts. 5. Consideration of refrigeration in railway and steamship transportation. 6. Consideration of questions relating to legislation and administration.

The cost of living and means of reducing it were discussed by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief of the chemistry division of the department of agriculture.

The increasing price of food is not due solely to the war, it is said. There never was a time when food was so well fed as at the present. We do not have in food the same quality of the increased cost of food.

First, people are eating more food than ever before, and second, the purchasing medium, namely, money, is relatively far more abundant than ever before. The extra quantity of food it will purchase is directly less than the great staples, the cereals, potatoes, are not so expensive at the present time as during the war.

For a day a laborer can buy more wheat than he could buy a year ago. It is the part of scientific nutrition as well as of scientific agriculture to increase the quantity of cereals in our foods and to increase the quantity of the other products of the soil, which are of less importance. The great staples, the cereals, potatoes, are not so expensive at the present time as during the war.

Farmers flock to Farmer. The factory in a farm neighborhood is a bad thing, it is said, for it forces the farmer to leave his land and the cost of transportation of his goods is increased. The factory in a farm neighborhood is a bad thing, it is said, for it forces the farmer to leave his land and the cost of transportation of his goods is increased.

The unpromising condition now existing of producing so-called fresh foods in an advanced state of civilization and of providing foods which should be properly secured in an advanced state. The general idea is ready for distribution within three weeks of slaughter and the four-year-old wheat is made in four.

The proper methods of distributing food and of making reasonable use of cereals and potatoes are marked in the Wiley report, which is the proper method of production and of the general proper preservation of food products.

HARRY THAW GREETED BY CHEERING CROWDS

His Trip From Littleton to Concord Was a Continuous Ovation.

Concord, N. H., September 15.—Harry K. Thaw, who was brought to the capital of New Hampshire this afternoon to await a hearing before Governor Palmer on Tuesday next on the matter of his extradition to New York. If extradition is refused he will be a free man to go where he will within the borders of this state. If it is granted, his case will be reviewed by the United States district court on a writ of habeas corpus granted by Judge Edgar A. Tamm, and perhaps appealed to the supreme court of the United States.

Thaw reached here from Littleton, N. H., where yesterday his lawyers obtained continuance of the federal writ of habeas corpus in his behalf, shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. A crowd which cheered him with lusty enthusiasm gathered at the station and followed him to his hotel. Tonight he remained in seclusion, conferring with William A. Stone, a governor of Pennsylvania, who has acted in the double capacity of counsel for Thaw and personal representative for the Thaw family.

Thaw Sleeps in "Throne Room"

The stateroom stands almost directly opposite the Eagle hotel, where Thaw is held under the joint custody of United States Marshal, Nye, and Sheriff Drew, of Coos county. The structure was built in 1818 and, except for additions, stands as in the original. Thaw slept tonight in "the throne room" of the Eagle hotel, a chamber well known to the conference headquarters of New Hampshire politicians in days gone by and since occupied by Tamm and Roosevelt on their campaign tour.

The curious, the sympathetic and the enthusiastic greeted Thaw at every station between here and Littleton today. Two women school teachers, a minister and a venerable man of 80 were among the many who wished him good luck and good cheer.

At Portsmouth, where the fugitive launched the restaurant proprietor protest, and a venerable man of 80 promptly purchased two boxes of cigars and left them with the remark: "Give these to Jerome."

LUCY COBB INSTITUTE BEGINS 5TH YEAR

Athens, Ga., September 15.—(Special.) Lucy Cobb Institute opened Wednesday morning its fifty-seventh year with a larger attendance than last year.

Miss Mott has returned from two years in Germany and takes the piano department. Miss Hall of the Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, as the head of the new domestic science department. The class of former Governor Joseph M. Brown, daughter of former Governor Joseph M. Brown, who graduated last summer, is in school for a post graduate course. In fact, every member of the graduating class of last June is back for post graduate work.

Thaw Plays Piano

Thaw returned the court victory of yesterday over William Travers J. At Portsmouth, where the fugitive was playing the piano in the parlor of the hotel where he had been quartered at Littleton. Around him was an admiring throng of hotel guests and the piano formed a part of the program of the evening. For over an hour he was at the piano and he would have played longer had not his custodian, United States Marshal Nye and Sheriff Drew, told him it was bedtime.

CITIZENSHIP MEETING WILL BEGIN TOMORROW

Prominent citizens of most of their heading organizations identified with the civic progress of the city and nation will gather Friday night at the auditorium for the opening session of the Southern Citizenship Congress.

The local committee in charge of the congress, headed by Eugene Everett, are enthusiastic over the untold success of the gathering, and are bending every energy to make the congress a permanent and national affair in six years.

MUST ENFORCE RULES AGAINST ALL ALIKE

Railway conductors must enforce anti-smoking rules against all alike according to a decision handed down by the court of appeals yesterday in the case of the Seaboard Air Line Railway company against Lindsey.

Lindsey got judgment in the city court of Atlanta for $1,000 against the railroad because the conductor insisted on his stopping smoking when other passengers in the same car were puffing the weed.

GRIFPIN SCHOOL BOARD ELECTED BY THE PEOPLE

Atlanta, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—In the first election for members of the school board held here today the following were elected: J. P. Carline, T. J. Brook, S. H. Wilson, D. Patterson, H. C. T. Burt, J. H. Hub in, Wheaton, A. P. Persons and M. P. Pearson.

Saved by Game Law

Liverty, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—The number of game birds and animals in this section of the state have greatly multiplied during the past closed season, it being reported that there are quite a number of quail this fall. The squirrel tribe has also greatly multiplied, the sportmen saying that these little animals are numerous in the woods, as they have not been in years.

JUDGE COBB ADDRESSES UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

There was a "blessed" commencement address at the "commencement" of the school year at the University of Georgia today when Judge Andrew J. Cobb, formerly of the Georgia supreme court, at the invitation of the faculty, addressed the young men and the visitors in an opening talk.

"Conservation of Real Democracy" might have been the theme of the address, which was a strong arraignment of the need of new law of conservation of conservatism, the holding steady to the first principles of government, the eschewing of the fads which are dangerous to liberty and to the best government. These fads, Judge Cobb declared, appear in many forms of delusive popularity—the recall and the initiative and referendum, the election of judges and senators, justices and other officers by popular majority. He deplored the craze for throwing everything into politics.

The freshman class at the university this year seems now to be smaller than last year—though there may be many yet to register. There are more former students, however, who are back early in the opening week than for several years. The enrollment for the first two days was just one less than the registration of the first two days of 1913.

ODD FELLOWS GATHER AT SUMMERVILLE TODAY

Rome, Ga., September 15.—(Special.) Odd Fellows from six north Georgia counties, Floyd, Polk, Walker, Chattooga and Dade, will gather tomorrow at Summerville to attend the semi-annual convention of the seventeenth division of the order. The gathering will be made notable by the presence of all of the grand lodge officers, Grand Master J. M. Hayes, of Savannah, and Deputy Grand Master W. B. Egan, of Gainesville, will make addresses.

The program for Thursday includes a public demonstration, at which Past Grand Master John P. Davis, of Rome, will be master of ceremonies, and a parade at which W. L. Parson, of Summerville, will act as marshal of the day.

Friday will be devoted to deersaw work. There will be a prize contest with entries from the Rome, Condon, Trion and Chickamauga lodges.

FOUR CARS A DAY

There are but two logical methods of building motor cars. One method is to produce cars in enormous quantities so as to bring the price down as low as possible. The other method is to produce cars in limited quantities so that each car will be of the highest quality.

Each system has but one real exponent. In a middle Western city, "mass production" enables a good small car to be made and sold at a low figure. In a New England city, "The Best Built Car in America" is produced practically car by car, by the finest mechanics in the world.

One car carries out one ideal, the other a totally different ideal. Both are right. Both are built, not assembled. One company makes 1,000 cars a day, the other company Four Cars a Day. The idea back of one car is to give the most for the money; the idea back of the other is to give the best, regardless of price.

The smaller car is turned out like the well-known and worth while "dollar watch." The greater car is built like a Chronometer. Any other car—is a compromise.

The Locomobile now occupies a peculiar position. It is the only high-grade car whose sales have increased during the past two years. This success of the Locomobile is due to the policy of building not more than four cars a day. All of the power and the experience of the Locomobile organization has been concentrated on a limited production.

Years ago we concluded that just so surely as the best cheap car could only be produced in very large number, just so surely could the car of highest quality be produced only in limited quantities.

Our policy from the very start was to build cars in small lots so that each car could have the most intimate attention. When others were increasing their plants and building more cars, we were increasing our quality, striving to make the Locomobile "The Best Built Car in America."

Every Locomobile has been built like every other Locomobile. Every Locomobile has been built with the utmost care. Every Locomobile has been built to carry out the ideal of quality, not a commonplace, commercial ideal.

The Locomobile will be made as it always has been made, in limited quantity—and with unlimited care. (Despite the present demand for the Locomobile and despite any rumor to the contrary, we will not increase our production and make more cars.)

There will always be a demand for the limited number of cars we make. Because we have been building for the future, our plants will always run at capacity, without reducing the quality of our product, or its price, or both.
