Mitchel Wins in New York; Tammany Tiger is Defeated

FUSION MEN VICTORS AT POLLS

Riots Enliven Balloting in Big City Election—Heavy Vote Cast.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—John Purroy Mitchel, Fusion candidate, was elected Mayor of New York City today in one of the most bitterly contested elections Father Knickerbocker ever witnessed.

It is practically certain that the entire independent ticket was swept into office on the wave of victory that overwhelmed the Tammany Tiger at the polls.

Disorders equal to any ever witnessed here during an election were frequent. They came as the climax of the vitriolic campaign waged since William J. Gaylor was nominated in September.

The Tammany battle was managed by Joe Johnson, while Robert Adamson, who was Mayor Gaynor's secretary, was at the helm for the Mitchel ticket.

There is unusual excitement in the city to-night, and indications are the police will be kept busy, their activity being in even greater demand than it was during the turbulent day.

Predict Big Victory. Just prior to the closing of the polls Charles F. Murphy, leader of the Tammany forces and backer of Edward E. McCall, declared for a Democratic victory by an overwhelming plurality.

Simultaneous with Murphy's statement, John Purroy Mitchel, the fusionist candidate, was equally confident of his success.

"We shall win by a great majority," said Mitchel. "The people will put Tammany in the discard to-day."

Interest in Georgia in the New York election found birth in the active work of two Georgians—Robert Adamson, who has been in charge of Mitchel's campaign, and Joseph Johnson, who has guided the campaign of McCall. Both were formerly Atlanta newspaper men and are widely known here. Adamson is a close relative of Congressman Adamson, of Georgia.

Atlanta Mother and Her Daughter End Lives in Savannah

SAVANNAH, Nov. 4.—Three years ago in Atlanta the husband of Mrs. Albertine S. Mock ended his own life. Today in Savannah the lifeless bodies of Mrs. Mock and her 11-year-old daughter, Albertine, were found in their bedroom. An open gas jet told the story of their end.

A note was found in Mrs. Mock's handwriting. It told of a pitiful struggle for existence she had made for herself and son and daughter after the death of the husband and father. And it told of her failure. "It was too hard to provide," the note read. She evidently did not wish her daughter to experience the hardships she had encountered. Death was considered preferable.

Just a few days ago the son, on whom Mrs. Mock had depended, was arrested in Jacksonville, Fla., charged with stealing a ride on a freight train. This, friends of Mrs. Mock said, was the crowning blow.

She brought her family here three years ago, immediately after her husband's death. She has recently been employed as a bookkeeper by the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Oglethorpe Landing To Be Celebrated

SAVANNAH, Nov. 4.—A unique celebration is planned for the celebration of the landing of Oglethorpe at Savannah by the Georgia Historical Society in February, 1914.

At the same time the seventy-fifth anniversary of the society will be observed.

CHINESE PUPILS SHOW BRIGHTNESS IN TESTS

Ruth Jung, 11, and baby sister, Loraine. Ruth enters Williams Street School in Fifth Grade.

Mother Pleased Over Outcome of Battle to Get Children Into Atlanta Schools.

Little Ruth and Ollie Jung are busy Tuesday taking examinations at the Williams Street School to determine what grade they shall start in. Ruth, who is 11 years old, and Ollie, 3 years old, are the daughter and son of Joe Jung, a Chinaman, whose wife is a Georgia woman.

The bar which held the Chinese-American tots out of the public white schools of Atlanta was removed Saturday by City Attorney J. L. Mayson when he handed down a favorable decision in the case, which has been fought by the first Celestial citizen of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Jung have four children—Ruth, Ollie, Mary, who is 3 years old, and Loraine, a baby girl of 5 months.

"I don't like the public school a little bit, and I don't want to go there," said little Ollie Monday after coming home from the Williams Street School.

Ollie Fears Whipping. "Why not?" asked Mrs. Jung, in surprise for Ollie had long wanted to attend the big school where his little playmates went each day.

"Cause the boys told me they got whippings real often," said the dark-skinned boy, hanging his head.

And Ruth says she doesn't like the big school, either.

"There are too many boys and girls there, and they look at me too much."

But there are good reasons for the staves. She is as pretty a child as one would want to see. Her skin is a beautiful olive color and her big, soft brown eyes would attract anybody's attention.

Both of the children are exceptionally smart. Ollie will start in the third grade and Ruth in the fifth grade. They are way ahead of the average children in their classes, having had private teachers until now.

Ruth Likes Dickens. "I do like to read," said Ruth, answering the reporter's question. "I read the stories of Dickens, and I like them very much. I like to read novels by Mr. McGrath and Mr. Phillips, but mamma won't let me read many of them. Yes, I like love stories about pretty girls."

Ollie is a clever little fellow and can talk Chinese like his father. He holds a distinction that few American-born children do right there, for his English is as good as his Chinese.

Mary, the little girl, is as pretty as her sister. She knows her A B C's and is going to start in school next year.

"I am glad that the cloud which has hung over my children has been lifted," said Mrs. Jung. "I have so long wanted them to be able to attend the public schools. I am very proud of my children and there are none smarter in Atlanta. I have not a regret in the world that I married an oriental. He is a fond, loving father and a mighty good husband."

The family lives at No. 45 Scott street.

500,000 TO RECITE SPEECH. SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Nov. 4.—Five hundred thousand Illinois school children are expected to recite Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg address on the fifty-fifth anniversary of the occasion, November 12.

The long-drawn-out fight over the will of Julius Brown, brother of the former governor, disposing of an estate rated well above a million dollars, was ended Tuesday with an

WOMEN LAY AUTO DEATH TO POLICE

Mother of John Eisele, 9, Killed by Car, Would Sue City as Negligent.

The pathetic death of John K. Eisele, Jr., the 9-year-old boy who was run over by an automobile driven by Robert Caldwell, of No. 34 Gordon street, at the corner of Peachtree and Ivy streets Monday afternoon, caused his mother and a number of her women neighbors who came to her home at No. 42 Mills street Tuesday to console her, to bitterly denounce the police for their neglect of little children. But a few weeks ago a little girl was killed.

The families that live in this section, which is just two blocks from a pretentious part of West Peachtree street, are poor. They are not ashamed of the fact, but on account of it feel more keenly what they term total disregard on the part of the city.

Mrs. Eisele had been prostrated since the death of her little boy at St. Joseph's Infirmary Monday night. The good women of the neighborhood gathered at her home Tuesday to express their sympathy and help care for the smaller children.

Calls Corner Death Trap. Just at the time a reporter for The Georgian arrived at the home of J. H. Caldwell, father of the young man who had caused the accident, called to show his interest.

The woman, her eyes red and swollen from much crying, came into the little sitting room, and four little children collected about her knees.

"I don't blame your boy, although he may have been very careless," she began, and tears started flowing again. "I blame the police for permitting a death trap at that corner. Automobiles fly back and forth along there all day. From what I can learn there was no officer there yesterday afternoon when my little boy was killed on his way home from school."

"My husband takes the same view of it. I wish he were here to tell you our side of the case."

Mothers Live in Dread. "Most of the children who live in this neighborhood go to the Catholic Parochial School, for we want them to get good Christian training. They have to cross that street every day. We mothers live in awful dread that some accident will happen to them any day. Terrible as this death is it is not so much of a surprise. And we think the police are to blame."

"I am tempted to take every one of my children out of school and allow them to grow up in ignorance," broke in one of the neighbors. "I saw in the papers where the policemen were carrying little children across the streets to protect them. The pictures showed the children to be beautifully dressed. I never heard of a policeman even noticing a child of a poor family, unless it was his own."

"I see where they are always arresting persons who haven't done anything very bad, when it seems to me that their real duty should be to see that our little children are protected from harm."

Would Sue City. "If I knew how, I would sue the city," continued Mrs. Eisele.

"Not long ago there were about a dozen people to call at my home when my 15-year-old boy had been reported for throwing a rock near an old woman. The boy was not guilty of any crime. One policeman at that crowded corner yesterday afternoon would have saved my little boy's life. But the policeman was not there."

"Yes," said another neighbor, "the police are as I have seen them—are very active about unimportant things."

Sheep Flocks to Mow the Grass in City's Parks Urged

A brand-new idea of municipal efficiency was sprung by Park Commissioner L. C. Green Tuesday when he said he would introduce a resolution at the meeting of the Park Board providing for the purchase of flocks of sheep to keep the grass in Piedmont and Grant Parks mowed.

The idea has appealed to the sense of humor of Commissioner Frank Reynolds. He said he approved of the fact that Commissioner Green was learning about parks by reading up on the care of old English estates, but that if the sheep were purchased he would offer a resolution requesting them not to disturb the flowers or shrubbery.

Also he proposed that the Park Department purchase a flock of mosquito hawks to police the lakes.

Will Ask President To Waterways Meet

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 4.—President J. Hampton Moore, of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, and several of the leading members of that body will call upon President Wilson Monday to invite him to attend the convention to be held here from November 18 to 21, according to information received by the Board of Trade.

It is believed that unless other business conflicts the President can be induced to come here for at least one day. Jacksonville is to be visited by the torpedo boat destroyer Preston as well as the torpedo boats Tingey and Thornton during the convention.

Wife Says Husband Made Her 'Insane'

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—In her suit for separation filed in the Supreme Court of Brooklyn, Mrs. Edith Grady charges that she has been made temporarily insane through "mental suggestions" by her husband.

She declared that her husband had for years asserted that she was "crazy" and had often gazed into her face for long periods without uttering a word.

Gen. Young to Visit Jacksonville Soon

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 4.—Gen. Bennett H. Young, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, is expected here shortly to talk over with the people of this city the coming reunion. In a letter he predicts that the reunion will be well attended.

The convention committee of the Board of Trade met to-day to arrange for the coming of General Love.

4 Men, Including 3 Slayers, Break Jail

LEXINGTON, KY., Nov. 4.—Four prisoners, including three murderers, escaped jail in Beattyville, Lee County, by concerted action in cutting a section of the steel cage and brick wall. The murderers were John Caudill, under life sentence; James Caudill, awaiting trial; and Jesse James. The fourth man is Price Alexander, charged with placing dynamite on a railroad, which resulted in injury to twelve men. A posse is scouring the hills for the men.

300 Miles of Bonfires On Lincoln Highway

OMAHA, Nov. 4.—Three hundred miles of bonfires, distributed along the route from Omaha to North Platte, Neb., were lighted to celebrate the dedication of the new Lincoln Highway.

In Omaha a vacant block of ground near the downtown section was the scene of a big celebration, several Nebraska mayors being speakers.

Porfirio Diaz to Live Near Bryan at Miami

MIAMI, FLA., Nov. 4.—Porfirio Diaz, deposed ruler of Mexico, will return from Europe December 1, and take up his residence in Miami.

His nephew, Rafael Ruessga, Mexican Consul here, to-day engaged an imposing dwelling for Diaz, near the palatial winter home of Secretary of State Bryan.

GEORGIA MILITIAMEN REPORTED ORDERED TO BE READY FOR SERVICE

THE MEXICAN SITUATION:

Dispatches from Mexico City state that Huerta's resignation has been demanded by President Wilson.

Later dispatches announce that Huerta will ignore the demand for the time being, and has appealed to representatives of the powers for their backing.

Washington dispatches state that Secretary Bryan was at his office nearly all night, expecting more important news from Mexico. Early in the day he refused to deny or affirm the reports of an ultimatum. Later he denied that an ultimatum had been issued.

Senator Bacon of Georgia, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, says the Mexican situation has about reached a "conclusion." Navy and War Departments are active.

Dispatches from Mexico City carry a denial from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy that he had presented any ultimatum to Huerta.

Huerta refused to discuss the subject with interviewers. In diplomatic circles it is recognized that Secretary Bryan's denial mentions "ultimatum," but does not say that a note has been sent to Huerta.

Georgia militia is reported to be under orders for immediate call to service, and General Evans, who is on a vacation in Mississippi is reported to have received orders to rejoin his command at Fort McPherson to be ready for movement of troops.

Gen. Evans Reported Recalled

It was reported on apparently reliable authority Tuesday that the Georgia militia, in common with the National Guard in more than a score of States, was being equipped for service in Mexico by the Government to be in readiness for immediate service.

Transports and ambulances have been ordered and instructions given to keep the national guardsmen up to top notch, according to these reports. The War Department is prepared to move an immense detachment of militia from Georgia and neighboring states.

The same report had it that General Evans, who left for a hunting trip in Mississippi, had been recalled in the expectation that men of the Second Brigade would soon be given marching orders.

It was also said that the regiment at Fort McPherson had been given secret instructions to be in readiness. None of these reports could be officially confirmed, but militia and regulars have been expecting developments for a week past.

Huerta Bitterly Assails U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—General Huerta will ignore, for the time being at least, the demand of the United States that he resign from the Presidency made last Sunday, but just learned of by the public. His future action will depend on the outcome of conferences which he will hold with members of the diplomatic corps. The first of these took place at the National Palace last night while troops guarded entrance to the structure. None of the diplomats who took part would discuss the meeting to-day.

It is reported, however, that Huerta made a long address to the foreign envoys, told them of the steps he was taking to restore peace in Mexico and pledged himself to establish tranquility in the republic if he could have their support. It is said that he made a bitter attack on the American government, declaring that his every effort had been hampered from the beginning of his administration by Washington officials, and that had it not been for their interference he would have been able to secure a loan large enough to establish the financial stability of his government.

The conferences are expected to last several days and Huerta is expected to make his reply to President Wilson's demands only after the foreign envoys have communicated his plea to their home governments and received instructions.

Hope for Powers' Support. Huerta by this action is making a strong bid for international support, but no matter what the outcome may be, it is expected that his answer will be a complete defiance of the American demands. He has a faint hope of securing support from other powers, but if this fails he is expected to "go it alone" and lead the Mexican army in person against any invaders.

It is possible that Huerta will make no formal reply to the American demand, but will, instead, have pass-

YOUNG WOMAN, DESPONDENT, ENDS LIFE

Miss Lula Upchurch Takes Acid, Hoping to "Find Something Better in Unknown."

Life seemed to be offering a narrow and fortuneless road to Miss Lula Upchurch, 30 years old, of No. 319 Wylie street. And so Tuesday morning she went down to death by her own hand, in the hope of "finding something better on the other side."

At 8 o'clock Miss Upchurch drank carbolic acid at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Upchurch. A few minutes later her mother came to call her and found her lying across her bed.

"Are you sick? Are you suffering?" the mother asked.

"Oh, I hurt all over," was the reply. And that was all she said. She became unconscious, and died just after reaching the Grady Hospital.

"Her health has been bad," the father said. "When she was 6 years old she suffered a stroke of paralysis, and she never has been well since."

"And then, three weeks ago, her brother, Oscar, was taken to the hospital and operated on for appendicitis," Mrs. Upchurch said. "Lula seemed to brood over that terribly. He got along all right, and we had good news from him every day. But she just got so she wouldn't speak to anybody except the members of the family, and not much to them. When visitors came in the house she would turn away from them and go to her own room. I tried never to leave her alone, because I knew she was brooding and in low spirits."

Even after the brother came home, a few days ago, nearly well after his hospital experience, Miss Upchurch showed her settled melancholy. There wasn't much in life for her, she said.

The father and mother survive, with six brothers, Oscar, Jesse, Berry, Fennie, Jake and Paul, and a sister, Mrs. Nannie Newman.

JUDGE'S WORDS GIVE LEO FRANK NEW HOPE

Attorneys Hold That Roan's Expressed Doubt Will Make Rehearing Assured.

Attorneys for Leo M. Frank Tuesday made the declaration that the Supreme Court of Georgia could avoid giving their client a new trial only by upsetting a well-established precedent and by reversing every Supreme Court decision which has borne on the trial judge's duty to set aside a verdict of guilty for which he is not convinced there was sufficient warrant.

"I am not venturing to predict what the Supreme Court will do in the matter," said Reuben R. Arnold, one of the counsel. "It seems to me, however, that the law is clear on this point. There is no escape from the fact that the Supreme Court repeatedly has ruled that the trial judge, if he is not fully satisfied that the evidence has demonstrated the guilt of the defendant, has no other course open than to order a new trial."

"We will not have to base our contention on an isolated case. The Georgia reports show that this exact point has been decided again and again by the Supreme Court. In not one of the cases, I think, did the presiding judge so strongly express his doubt of the guilt or innocence of the defendant as did Judge Roan in respect to Leo Frank."

Roan's Position Clear.
"Judge Roan went out of his way to make his stand in the matter perfectly clear. He mentioned that the case had given him much concern and worry—more than any other case over which he had presided. He then made his important declaration that, although he had listened to the evidence and arguments for 30 days, he was not yet convinced of the man's innocence or guilt."

"The law, as interpreted by the Supreme Court, clearly lays down the principle that the judge has responsibility in the matter and can not shift every ounce of the burden onto the shoulders of the jurors. Judge after judge virtually has been reprimanded for evading his duty in this respect."

Attorney Arnold mentioned a number of cases illustrating his point. In the case of Livingston vs. Taylor, 132 Georgia, the Supreme Court enunciated the principle in these words, quoting in part from a previous decision in the case of Rogers vs. the State, 101 Georgia:

"From the tenor of his order his honor seems to have been of the impression that if there was evidence to support the verdict he was not authorized to set it aside. This view is erroneous."

Gives Judge Discretion.
"From this point the decision in the Rogers case is cited:
"The law confers upon trial judges a discretion in granting or refusing new trials in cases where the verdict is alleged to be contrary to evidence or without evidence to support it, and imposes upon them the duty of exercising this discretion. This court will not allow a conviction of a crime founded upon weak, unsatisfactory and doubtful evidence to stand, when the record discloses strong reason for believing that the judge below was not himself fully satisfied with the findings of the jury."

In the Rogers case, the trial judge's remark, saying the new trial was "There is probably sufficient evidence to authorize the verdict of the jury, the motion is overruled and a new trial refused."

Bets All on 4 Aces, Loses and Goes Mad
BOTTINEAU, N. DAK., Nov. 4.—The fact that four aces were dealt him in a poker game last night with a trio of card sharps is believed by his friends to have made John Hahn insane and to have caused him to be placed in jail here after he became violent.

When Hahn received the four aces he bet all the money he had with him and lost it.

M'Manigal Missing; Ill, Says Prosecutor

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Ortie M'Manigal, star witness for the prosecution at the trials of the McNamara brothers here, and one of the 30 officials of the Structural Iron Workers' Union at Indianapolis, has disappeared. He was removed from the Los Angeles County Jail, but District Attorney Fredericks to-day refused to affirm or deny he had been released. "McManigal has tuberculosis," said Fredericks. "He would have died if he had been left in jail."

Doctor's Car Stolen Twice in One Week

Dr. B. S. Moore, of 211 Grand Opera House Building, is conducting another hunt for his automobile. It was stolen Tuesday for the second time within a few weeks. Dr. Moore left the car in front of the "House that Jack Built" Tuesday morning in the serene confidence that it would be there when he came out of his office. It was not. The machine is a five-passenger Hudson with a blue body.

How To Grow Long Beautiful Hair

By a Hair Specialist.
It is not hard to stop hair from falling out and promote its growth if the right means are used. There is no hope for the scalp where the hair roots are dead and the scalp is shiny. However, to those who have not reached this condition, immediate steps should be taken to stop it before it is too late. Here is a simple recipe which you can make at home, that will stop the hair from falling out, promote its growth and eradicate scalp eruptions and scalp humors. I know of cases where the hair has grown from four to five inches in a few months after using this simple recipe: To a half pint of water add 1 oz. bayrum, a small box of Bacto Compound and 1-4 oz. of glycerine, and apply to the hair, rubbing with the fingertips, two or three times a week. These ingredients can be obtained at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home. This recipe not only promotes the growth of the hair, but darkens streaked, faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy.

Decatur to Vote On Amendments To City's Charter

Decatur citizens will vote on amendments to the city charter Wednesday, and to-day it is the sole topic of conversation in the DeKalb County town.

A meeting was held at the courthouse in Decatur Monday night, which was attended by 160 of the 350 registered voters. A long debate was expected, but the eloquence of some of the speakers was cut off by putting the question as to whether the meeting favored the amendment or not. More than 100 men voted against it, less than 20 for it, while 40 did not express themselves.

The amendments provide for the election by the people of the City Marshal, Superintendent of the Waterworks and the City Clerk, positions heretofore filled by the Council. The amendments also provide cuts in salaries.

FAMED SPEAKERS FOR MISSION MEET

Convention of Southern Alliance Opens in Tabernacle Sunday for Week's Session.

The annual convention of the Southern District of the Christian and Missionary Alliance begins in Atlanta Sunday and will continue throughout the week, closing Sunday night, November 16.

The meetings will be held in Alliance Tabernacle, 79 Capitol avenue. There will be six or seven addresses and services daily by different speakers. Delegates and visitors from a number of States will be in attendance.

The noted speakers expected are the Rev. E. J. Richards, of New York, Home Secretary; the Rev. W. T. McArthur, of New York, evangelist; the Rev. J. A. Hubbard and R. A. Forrest, of Toccoa; the Rev. and Mrs. Van Dyck, missionaries of Central China; Mrs. McDuffie, of Durham, N. C., returned missionary to the Sudan, Africa.

Millinery Teacher Sues Ex-Assistant For Luring Pupils

Declaring that his former assistant had taken offices adjoining his, and was enticing his pupils away from him, G. O. Branning, proprietor of a millinery school at No. 100 1/2 Whitehall street, filed suit for $2,000 damages against Miss Maude Sparkman Tuesday and asked for an injunction.

Branning said he discharged Miss Sparkman October 1. Afterward, he declared, the young woman rented an office next door to his own and was in the habit of standing in the doorway and "speaking" to his pupils as they came in.

The judge pendleton granted a temporary restraining order against Miss Sparkman and set the hearing for November 8.

Muscogee Court Will Hear 2 Slaying Cases

COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—Two important criminal cases face this term of the Superior Court. One is that of Mrs. May Radcliffe, indicted for killing her husband last March, but who was sent to the insane asylum when declared insane. It is claimed her reason has been restored.

The other case is that of Bailiff R. L. Willis, who shot and killed Luther Hawkins, an Atlanta boy, over a 50-cent board bill, in September. Willis has been held since then without bail.

COUNCIL FAVORS RAISE FOR POLICE

Fifty-five Atlanta Patrolmen Will Benefit if Mayor and Aldermen Approve Measure.

If the Aldermanic Board and Mayor Woodward approve the action of the lower branch of the City Council of Monday afternoon increases in salaries aggregating more than $12,000 a year will be given to Atlanta policemen.

The new scale of salaries will be: First year, $75; second year, $80; third year, $85; fourth year, $90. The present scale is: First year, $67.50; second year, $72.50; third year, $77.50; fourth year, $82.50; fifth year, $87.50; sixth year, $90.

Fifty-five policemen will be immediately affected if the ordinance is passed. It is to go into operation January 1.

KEELY'S

That Is True

"Coffee drinking almost ruined my health before a heart and nerve specialist informed me that coffee was my whole trouble.

"I am 53 years of age, and from boyhood up to about the year 1900 I was strong and well, could eat any kind of food day or night, slept soundly, and it was said that I had no nerves.

"I began to suffer from indigestion and was getting sleepless and nervous. I took medicine, kept at work, and stuck to my coffee—the harm of it was never suggested to me.

"One morning just after dressing I collapsed, and for six weeks I was very, very sick. But I pulled through. After another rest I did not improve, but became worse. My heart got very bad, so weak at times that I would faint. I also suffered from constipation.

"In February, 1908, I was obliged to resign my position as manager.

"Finally in July, 1911, I came to San Francisco to consult the best heart and nerve specialist to be found, and was directed to Dr. _____ He made a thorough examination and several blood tests. He told me that the trouble was with my heart and nerves—brought about by coffee; that the caffeine contained in coffee was poison to me; and to stop the use of coffee absolutely and immediately. Since that time I have not tasted one drop of coffee.

"When I stopped coffee, I thought, what shall I drink. Milk has a tendency to constipate me; cold water is all right in its place, but it doesn't belong on the breakfast table. So I concluded to try Postum. It is delicious with cream and sugar. I drink it whenever I can find it, and I enjoy it as well as I once did coffee.

"My normal weight was about 170 lbs. and I had been as low as 133. In three weeks I was greatly improved; in six months I began to feel like my old self, and now, ten months after I stopped coffee, I am about well and weigh 178 lbs. I have not been constipated once—not once! My stomach seems as good as ever; I sleep well, feel well, and I am well.

"I am sure my good doctor's advice, 'stop coffee,' is the secret of my improvement.

"Of course I 'have it in' for coffee, and why shouldn't I? See what it cost me, my health, position and thousands of dollars.

"Now in conclusion, you are at liberty to use my name any way you wish. I enclose names of my doctors. My only object is to help other afflicted persons. I don't want any compensation, and would not accept any."

"There's a Reason"

NUTTING FORCES SEE VICTORY IN COUNCIL

Friends of Alderman James R. Nutting Tuesday declared that there was no longer any doubt about his election to the office of Mayor Pro Tem. They claim 17 of the 30 votes in Council. The optimistic announcement was made after a conference of the leaders, which took place immediately following the adjournment of Council Monday afternoon.

BOY, 3, TEACHES BIG BULLDOG TO LAUGH

John Delaney and Duke, His Constant Companion and Protector, at Play in John's Back Yard.

Supporters of Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, second strongest in the race for Mayor Pro Tem, are by no means willing to concede a victory to Alderman Nutting. They really expect to win, but they admit that their only chance is to get all the support that is now lined up behind Alderman J. H. Harwell.

Conceding that that strength goes to Alderman Ragsdale, the Nutting men claim that they still have their 17 votes. Alderman Nutting has been put forward as a strictly anti-Woodward party candidate and the leaders of this faction take the view that they can't afford to suffer defeat. They would regard the defeat of Nutting as a Woodward victory in Council, something that has not happened since the beginning of the present administration.

Woodward Keeps Silent.
Mayor Woodward is silent, and that adds to the uncertainty of the situation. He might exert himself before the voting takes place.

Another unsettled point is that a new member of Council must be elected from the Second Ward before the selection of the new Mayor Pro Tem. Councilman Thomas I. Lynch, senior Councilman from that ward, announced Tuesday that he would resign on December 1. His successor will be named by Council instead of by the voters of that ward. It is said that either Robert R. Otis or J. L. McCord will be the man. It is not yet known how either of these would stand in the Mayor Pro Tem. fight. But if the Nutting forces control the strength they claim, the new Councilman, whoever he may be, very likely will be a Nutting supporter. He would have to be that to get elected.

How They Line Up.
The known attitudes of the members of Council is as follows:
For Nutting—Wardlaw, Alverson, Thomson, Maddox, Slison, Wood, Boynton, Reynolds, Owens, Candler, Smith, White, Mason—13.
For Ragsdale—Knight, Shepard, Hall, Colcord, Humphrey, Kimbrough—6.
For Harwell—Ashley, McDonald—2.

22,704 Bales Cotton Are Ginned in Dodge

EASTMAN, Nov. 4.—According to the census report of cotton ginned prior to October 8 there were 22,704 bales ginned in Dodge County, as against 12,199 bales ginned up to the same time last year, an increase of 9,505 bales.

M'REYNOLDS TO VISIT PRISON ON PROBE

Attorney General Is Reported as Ready to Begin Investigation of Hawthorne Charges.

Information was received in Atlanta Tuesday that the United States Department of Justice's investigation into the charges made by Julian Hawthorne, noted writer, and others against the Federal Prison here will soon be under way.

According to one report, Attorney General McReynolds himself will pay a personal visit of inspection to the prison to acquaint himself with the general conditions.

The actual investigation, however, will be conducted by a special agent acting with either R. V. Ladow, head of the prison parole board, or J. C. Adkins, assistant United States Attorney General.

In spite of the fact that Warden W. H. Moyer, in denying all charges of bad food, mismanagement and general bad conditions, announced that the prison was open to the public to judge for themselves, visitors regarded as critics of the institution, have been refused admittance.

Mr. Moyer has taken hold of the situation with an iron hand in an effort to stay the tide of criticism, and strict orders have been issued to guards that they must not discuss conditions within the walls.

November Sale of Silks

Atlanta's Greatest Silk Occasion Begins To-morrow. Lavish Stocks of Fashionable Silks at Prices Surprisingly Low

SILKS of surpassing beauty and style in an assortment of excellent varieties at prices never before approached in lowness this season. There, in a nutshell, is the story of our best November silk sale. It brings you the Most desired and fashionable Silks at prices that approximate Half

The sale is most extraordinary. Partly because these are the very weaves and colors out of which the season's most beautiful and useful gowns are being made; more because of the low prices, but mostly because stylish silks of the desired kinds are hard to get this season at any price.

That we are able to offer such lavish assortments under price simply evidences the high position Rich's holds in the silk world. We have acquired these silks chiefly because those silk weavers and manufacturers who have helped further this great Silk Sale know they will be repaid by future orders on regular merchandise.

But that's an aside—the silks you are interested in are spread on tables throughout the enlarged silk annex, at these inviting prices:

$1.15²⁵ Chiffon Cloths, etc.

All-silk chiffon cloths and marquisettes, for the highly fashionable soft draperies, waists, blouses and trimmings. Some are $1, but most of them are $1.50 qualities. Various in Nile, black, lilac, peach, palm, light blue, turquoise, gray, pink, maize, gold and changeables. 40 to 44 inches wide.

$1.59 Chiffon Faille Silks

This identical silk has been one of our best sellers at $1.59. This new lot at $1.23 will go in a jiffy. In the soft chiffon weave, with the fashionable faille cord. Midnight and navy blues, Copenhagen, wistaria, king's blue, Russian green and wistaria. 36 inches.

75c Chiffon Taffeta Silk

Chiffon taffetas formerly selling at 59c, 75c and $1, now grouped at 33c. Included are light blues, purple, garnet, tan, rose, Copenhagen, red and changeables, 19 and 27 inches wide. In the same lot are some navy blue ratines, 36 inches wide.

$1.50 Handsome Moire Silks at Moires, the theme of every fashionable tale. Dresses are made of them, and fashionable jackets and waists for the "compose" suits and gowns. Pure silk, beautified with the fashionable velour and renaissance moire designs. Taupe, brown, Copenhagen, September Morn, rose, navy, light blue, wistaria. 36 inches.

$2.50 Silk Crepe de Chine at

Just think of getting the scarce and fashionable crepe de chine and the high-grade crepe meters at this saving of $1 a yard. Not a few pieces nor tag ends nor odd shades, but a complete assortment of over 2,500 yards in black, white, canary, king's blue, Copenhagen, Alice, midnight, light blue, taupe, brown, Russian and reseda greens, terra cotta, gray, tan, wistaria; 42 inches wide.

$2 Brocaded Silk Poptins

Soft, supple silk poplins that fall in such graceful folds. Soft and lissome, they're delightful for swirling draperies. Beautifully brocaded; one of the most fashionable silks of the season. It's an achievement to have them here in this sale. Midnight, navy and new blues, light blue, Alice, Copenhagen, light blue and wistaria. 42 in. In the same lot are a few brocaded meters.

$2.50 Canton Silk Crepes at

Two yards of the fashionable Canton crepe for the former price of one. Canton crepes for the former price of one. Canton crepes adapted for the prevailing soft draperies. Choose from this immense range of stylish shades: Navy, Copenhagen, king's blue, September Morn, terra cotta, bronze, gray, Alice, red and white. 42 inches wide.

$1.75 Brocaded Satins

For smart evening costumes; draperies under nets and laces, and hand some lining. It would be hard to find a fabric more suitable. Pure silk, yarn dyed, prettily brocaded; 36 in. wide. Pink, Copenhagen, navy and light blue.

$42.50 Silk Duvetyne Patterns at

We have dress patterns of the very exclusive silk duvetyne. One pattern each in terra cotta, Copenhagen, navy and tan. This all-silk duvetyne is worth $8.50 a yard, and there are five yards to each pattern. Four women who appreciate the smartest fabric of the season can choose any of these patterns at $19.75.

$2.50 & $3 Imported Swiss Moires at

One of the finest products of the foreign looms. Imported direct from Zurich, Switzerland, where they make silks of quality. Pure dye silk; it will wear almost forever. Navy, midnight blue, "nigger-head," wine, plum, brown, taupe. 32 inches.

$3.50 Plaid Silk Ratines

Luxurious silk ratines in the handsome Tartan and Clan plaids. Magnificent fabrics for entire waists, vestes and high-class trimmings. Just a few pieces.

$19.75

Order by Mail
Samples of these silks sent freely to our out-of-town customers.

75c & $1 Silks & Satins at

A small lot of silks and satins and serges, messalines, Bengaline and Shantung. Various colors. All 27 inches wide.

$1.75 Black Chiffon Taffeta at

Please don't confuse these silks with ordinary taffetas—they are vastly different. Made by Bonnet, of France. The purest of pure silk, and pure dye in addition. Not the zinc loaded taffetas of commerce, but the simon-pure taffetas, of one of the foremost silk makers in the world. Chiffon taffetas, mind you, soft and "supple" as mesaline with all the sturdy wearing qualities that have established Taffeta as the favorite silk for years. 36 inches wide. All Bonnet taffetas now selling like this:
$1.50 and $1.75 black taffetas, 89c.
$2 and $2.50 black taffetas, $1.19.
$3 40-inch black taffetas, $1.49.

$5 Silk Brocades & Matelasses

For smart evening coats and wraps, these silk brocades and matelasses are the fabric de luxe. The entire fabric is silk; the brocade standing out rich and handsome. Choice of black ground with blue brocade; taupe with black; brown with blue, and Copenhagen and cerise self-colored. Though these ultra-fashionable fabrics are selling freely in New York at $5, we have them here at just $1.98.

Sale at 8:30. Silk Annex, Main Floor, Left.

U. D. C. Fights Plan of Naming Canal Posts

MERIDIAN, MISS., Nov. 4.—The Colonel H. M. Street Chapter, U. D. C., of Meridian, last night adopted resolutions requesting the United Daughters of the Confederacy at the convention in New Orleans next week to draft a petition to the Army Board protesting against the naming of all the Panama Canal forts and batteries for Federal generals of the Civil War.

BACKACHE IS A DANGER SIGNAL

Kidney Troubles, Bladder Disorders, Rheumatism, and Serious Diseases Follow.

The kidneys get clogged up, the same as the bowels do. Then they become sluggish, and only filter or strain out a part of the waste or poisonous matter, all the rest remaining in the blood and poisoning the system. As soon as you notice the first indications of backache, pains in the sides, or aches around the kidneys, or if the urine is light and pale, dark colored, cloudy, thick, or has an offensive odor, burns, is scalding or irregular in passage, take a little Croxone three times a day and end these troubles before they become more serious.

There is no more effective remedy known for the prompt relief and cure of kidney, bladder troubles and rheumatism than Croxone. It soaks right into the kidneys through the walls and lining, cleans out the clogged-up pores; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter that lodge in the joints and muscles, and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter the poison from the blood and drive it out of the system.

A few days' use of this new scientific preparation is often all that is ever needed to end the worst backache, or overcome the most annoying urinary disorders.

You will find Croxone entirely different from other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it should fail in a single case.—Adv.

You will forget your troubles and be carefree and happy the rest of the day. Try it!

Gewinner in Charge Of Automobile Show Big Floral Parade

J. K. GEWINNER.

J. K. Gewinner, of the Johnson-Gewinner Company, has been placed in charge of the details of the automobile floral parade to be held during the auto show next week.

A floral parade is a new departure in Atlanta automobile circles, and is attracting widespread interest. Already hundreds of owners have made known their intention of entering the contest.

Mr. Gewinner states that the prizes offered will fully compensate anyone for the cost of decorating his car, and urges every automobilist to help make the event a memorable one for Atlanta.

There is no necessity of any formalities in entering. It is only necessary to decorate the car and report to Mr. Gewinner at the corner of Whitehall and Mitchell streets next Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The prizes will be on exhibition all this week in the show windows of the Whitehall street shops.

King George Host to 500 Workingmen

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Five hundred workingmen were entertained at dinner by the King in King's Hall, at Holborn Restaurant. The workingmen have been engaged in refacing Buckingham Palace. Probably never before has there been such a remarkable assemblage in the hall.

All classes of workmen were there—masons, scaffolders, carvers, elevator erectors and laborers of all kinds—and several of those who were unable to leave their employment in time to change appeared in working clothes. Each guest was provided with a menu card ornamented with the royal arms, in gold, and also presented with a clay pipe and a package of tobacco.

CHANCES BRIGHT FOR REGIONAL BANK HERE

Atlanta and Whole Southeast Likely to Benefit Greatly Under Wilson Currency Plan.

Even with the complexities of the income tax confronting them, Atlanta bankers Tuesday morning were inclining more and more to talk of the currency bill, its relation to a possible regional bank in Atlanta, and what that would mean to Atlanta banks and other banks in this section of the South.

"Chances look pretty bright just now," said one bank man. "President Wilson says he won't stand for as small a number as four regional banks, and while he may not get the twelve he wants, it looks pretty reasonable to believe he will get a compromise, which would be eight, in all probability."

And here is why Atlanta bankers are interested vitally in the number of regional banking divisions.

Likely to Get One of Eight. "If there are to be only four regional banks," said Henry Davis, cashier of the Lowry National Bank, "there would, of course, be just twice as much competition for them, and Atlanta's chance to land the Southeastern Division would be cut down just that much. With eight banks it seems to us in Atlanta that this city should by all means be awarded one of them."

Now as to the result of that acquisition, if realized.

"For one thing," Mr. Davis said, "it would mean that Atlanta and Southern money now kept in New York would come back to Atlanta almost in a jump. Atlanta exchange would have exactly the same standing anywhere in the United States that New York exchange now has. Atlanta banks and big business houses, in place of issuing New York exchange, would issue Atlanta exchange."

And that, Mr. Davis asserts, is only one of the big advantages of a regional bank in Atlanta. It probably would mean the borrowing of money here that formerly was borrowed in the Eastern money markets, and it certainly would mean the keeping of Southern money in the South, and, particularly, keeping it in Atlanta.

All Under U. S. Supervision. This regional bank, as at present understood, would be an institution supervised by the Government in each of the four, eight or twelve "regions," as finally decided on in the passage of the currency bill. These "regions" would thus enjoy the custody of the Government funds, in the manner of a vast national bank divided into four, eight or twelve equally important branches.

No one Atlanta bank, for example, would profit over the others in the event Atlanta was made a regional division station. The members of the Atlanta Clearing House Association would make up the great regional bank, and their relation to the Government funds would be supervised by Government officers and employees.

So it is not to wonder that Atlanta bankers are strongly in favor of the currency bill and that they favor the President's plan of regional division above that put forward by the emissaries of the unwilling and rebellious Wall street.

Also it is not to wonder that Wall street is opposing frantically the whole idea. Wall street has enjoyed the use of Southern and Western and Northern money for such a long time.

Militants to Raise Volunteer Army To Defend Cause

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. LONDON, Nov. 4.—Sylvia Pankhurst announces that a volunteer army to defend the suffragette movement is to be raised in the East End of London. She said: "Look at Sir Edward Carson. We will have to do precisely the same thing. We will have to get an army, and now the chance of having it is coming next Wednesday at Bowbatha. Sir Francis Vane, an officer of the British army who fought in the Boer war, and who is going to be our commander, is to be present at the meeting to organize our first training corps."

"It is no joke. We are absolutely in earnest. We have only got to get our army trained and we shall get as safe treatment as Sir Edward Carson does."

Coroner to Probe Death in East Point Railroad Yards

An inquest was held Tuesday into the death of G. M. Maxey, of East Point, whose mangled body was found Monday night in the East Point yards of the Central of Georgia Railroad.

It is supposed that he was struck by an express train. No witnesses of the accident have been found. The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of Greenberg & Bond, where the inquest was held. A wife and two children were dependent upon Maxey for support.

Georgia-Florida Fair Opened at Valdosta

VALDOSTA, Nov. 4.—The Georgia-Florida Fair opened here today. J. D. Price, State Commissioner of Agriculture, delivered an address in the main building at noon.

Many of the finest exhibits at the State Fair in Macon have been sent to Valdosta, while Lowndes, Berrien, Clinch and other South Georgia counties which did not make displays at Macon are represented at the fair here. The contest of the boys' corn clubs and girls' canning clubs of the Eleventh Congressional District will be held at the fair grounds on Thursday.

Judge Lindsay Is Vindicated by Jury

DENVER, Nov. 4.—After six weeks of exhaustive investigation, the committee appointed by the Taxpayers' Association to probe the record of Judge Lindsay and the Juvenile Court, have formulated and signed a report which is a complete vindication for the judge.

For several months Judge Lindsay has been a target of the "Woman's Protective League," who charged mismanagement and lax methods in the Juvenile Court and too much leniency to male offenders against young girls.

CEBARTOWN POSTOFFICE BEGUN. CEBARTOWN, Nov. 4.—The Piedmont Supply Company, of Charlottesville, Va., has commenced work on Cebartown's new postoffice, the appropriation for which was secured by Congressman Gordon Lee. Excavations are now being made.

ATLANTA GREETES CRACK NEW TRAIN

Mayor and City Officials Lead Formal Reception, Welcoming "Royal Palm" on First Trip.

Crowds greeted the "Royal Palm," the new train de luxe which will be another link between Florida and the Northwest, when it rolled into the Terminal Station Monday night on its initial trip from Chicago to Jacksonville.

Mayor Woodward headed a party of city officials which gave formal welcome to the new train for Atlanta. An informal reception was held on the platform during the "Royal Palm's" brief stay at the station. The Mayor was introduced to the travelers by Passenger Traffic Manager S. H. Hardwick, of the Southern.

Afterward a trip of inspection was made through the entire train from the engine to the observation platform. The "Royal Palm" has a schedule between Chicago and Jacksonville, a distance of 1,145 miles, of 34 hours. It makes but 26 stops. In connection with the Southern, it will use the tracks of the Queen and Crescent and Big Four routes.

TENTH LAWYER IN HUFF CASE DEAD

Alexander Proudft, Judge Speer's Closest Friend, Passes Away Unexpectedly in Macon.

MACON, Nov. 4.—Judge Alexander Proudft, one of Macon's leading lawyers and Referee in Bankruptcy for this division of the United States Court, died unexpectedly last night. He was, perhaps, Judge Emory Speer's closest personal friend, there having been a lifelong attachment between the two men. Judge Proudft came to Macon 40 years ago from Brownsville, Tenn. He leaves a wife and two daughters, and a brother who lives in Mississippi.

The passing of Judge Proudft marks the death of another lawyer who was connected with the celebrated W. A. Huff bankruptcy case. Since this litigation started fifteen years ago, Colonel Huff has noted the death of ten of the attorneys who participated in it and there is not now living any lawyer who was engaged in the case at its beginning.

Woman Beaten and Shot Is Near Death

SWAINSBORO, Nov. 4.—Mrs. L. A. Kennedy, who was, it is alleged, beaten and shot by her husband, is worse. Infection has set in, but the doctors can not say yet whether this change will cause her death.

Woman Beaten and Shot Is Near Death

QUICK AND SURE STOMACH DOCTOR

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends Indigestion, Gas, Sourness in Five Minutes.

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeding in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach was not there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.—Adv.

Keeps complexions clear and healthy

WHEN you wash your face do you realize that it is not enough to remove the dirt—that your skin needs a soothing, healing influence to keep your complexion fresh and free from blemish?

Ordinary toilet soaps do not assert this influence. Many of them contain free alkali which tends to dry the skin and destroy its delicate texture. Even the best of such soaps can only clean, they cannot heal and protect the skin. Resinol Soap, besides being an absolutely pure toilet soap, contains the same soothing, healing, antiseptic balsams as Resinol Ointment, the value of which in the treatment of skin affections is known throughout the medical profession.

That is why Resinol Soap does for the skin what cosmetics are supposed to do—it insures not only a clean skin, but a healthy skin, and a fair, clear complexion.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are sold by all druggists. For free trial, write to Dept. 15-S, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

ALKAHEST LYCEUM COURSE OPENS WEDNESDAY

LATEST NEWS

KIEFF, Nov. 4.—The defense in the "ritual murder" case of Mendel Beilis, the Jewish workman accused of slaying to death Andrew Yushinsky, a 13-year-old Christian boy, rested to-day after further expert testimony had been given in behalf of the defendant.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—The Los Angeles-Yuma road race was won by Davis in a Locomobile. The time was 18 hours and 50 minutes.

ABILENE, TEXAS, Nov. 4.—The New York Giants-Chicago White Sox game here this afternoon was postponed on account of rain. The two teams left on their special train at 4 o'clock for El Paso, where it was announced Mathewson and Leverage will be the opposing pitchers to-morrow.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Taking advantage of the absence of police on election duty, burglars to-day smashed a window of a jewelry store at Thirty-seventh street and Broadway and escaped unobserved with close to $3,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, Nov. 4.—The yacht Wakiva, belonging to officials of the Mexican Oil Company, is ashore somewhere near and sending out S. O. S. signals. She says she is pounding herself to pieces. Her position is not known, but it is thought to be some 140 miles west of Galveston. Several fast tugs have been sent to her assistance. The yacht was formerly owned by Lord Cowdray of Essex, and was recently seized at the disposal of oil magnates in Mexico. It is not known how many persons are aboard.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 4.—President Wilson returned to the shades of Old Nassau to-day to cast his vote. He was given a mighty reception by the Princeton students when his special car drew into the quiet little college town and was compelled to make a brief speech on the steps of the university hall.

DENVER, Nov. 4.—Informations charging murder have been drawn but not yet filed against John D. Rockefeller, J. F. Welborn, president and general manager of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company; J. C. Osgeed, president of the Victor American Fuel Company, and D. W. Brown, vice president of the Rocky Mountain Fuel Company. Leaders of the United Mine Workers of America are the complaining witnesses. The information are the result of the killing of strikers in the Southern coal fields since the big strike was called there a few weeks ago. Eighteen men have been killed in excess since the beginning of the strike.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—Activity was renewed at the Philadelphia Navy Yard to-day, Captain W. S. Benson, commandant, and his officers, were on duty earlier than usual. The task of provisioning warships and transports has begun, long lines of men being engaged in carrying casks, chests and provisions aboard. In the absence of specific orders from the Navy Department, officers at the yard still decline to discuss the activity or to admit that it is anything out of the ordinary.

More than 100 Spring street property owners met at the City Hall Tuesday afternoon to discuss the widening of that thoroughfare from the Terminal station to Peachtree road. J. R. Smith was elected chairman of the meeting. Plans to urge Council and the County Commission to aid in the project were formed. Speeches were made by Councilman-elect A. W. Farlinger, Frank P. Rice and others.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—That the State militia will be called out to-morrow to protect the street car company in its effort to run cars was the general belief last night. Two members of the militia said this afternoon they had orders to report for duty at 4 o'clock to-morrow morning. Members of Battery A, I. N. G., which has been under instructions to be in readiness for instant call, are anticipating service in the South in connection with the Mexican situation.

Combined wealth estimated at $500,000,000 was represented to-day at a gigantic business men's anti-home rule mass meeting in the historic Ulster Hall. George Ewart, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided.

100 Tons Australian Butter in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—More than 100 tons of Australian New Zealand butter has just gone on the market. This is the first of shipments stimulated by the Underwood bill's reduction of duty to 2 1/2 cents a pound. Dealers are curious about the butter's flavor, because on this depends the extent of its sale. It can be produced and shipped cheaper than the California article.

MADRID, Nov. 4.—Joseph E. Willard, of Virginia, the first United States Ambassador to Spain, has been received by King Alfonso.

Moonshiners Fight Officers; Boy Killed

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 4.—Intercour revenue officers to-day are scouring the mountains in the vicinity of Waynesville in search of the illicit distiller who fired upon a posse of Federal officers last night.

Mayor Keeps Up War On Fire Alarm Plan

Mayor Woodward Tuesday called Fire Chief Cummings to his office for another conference on the new $100,000 fire alarm system. The Mayor objected strenuously to the abandonment of the old alarm system before this new system is accepted.

POLICE BLAMED BY WOMEN FOR AUTO DEATH

They arrested my little son once for throwing a ball in the streets. "When there was a disorderly house across the way last summer and we reported it they came out, smiled at the woman and walked away. After they were gone the woman made faces at us and said they would not be arrested.

Caldwell," she said, turning to the driver's father. "I heard that he passed back and forth on that street in his car five times before he struck little John. This morning I heard, he made like he didn't think he had hurt the boy.

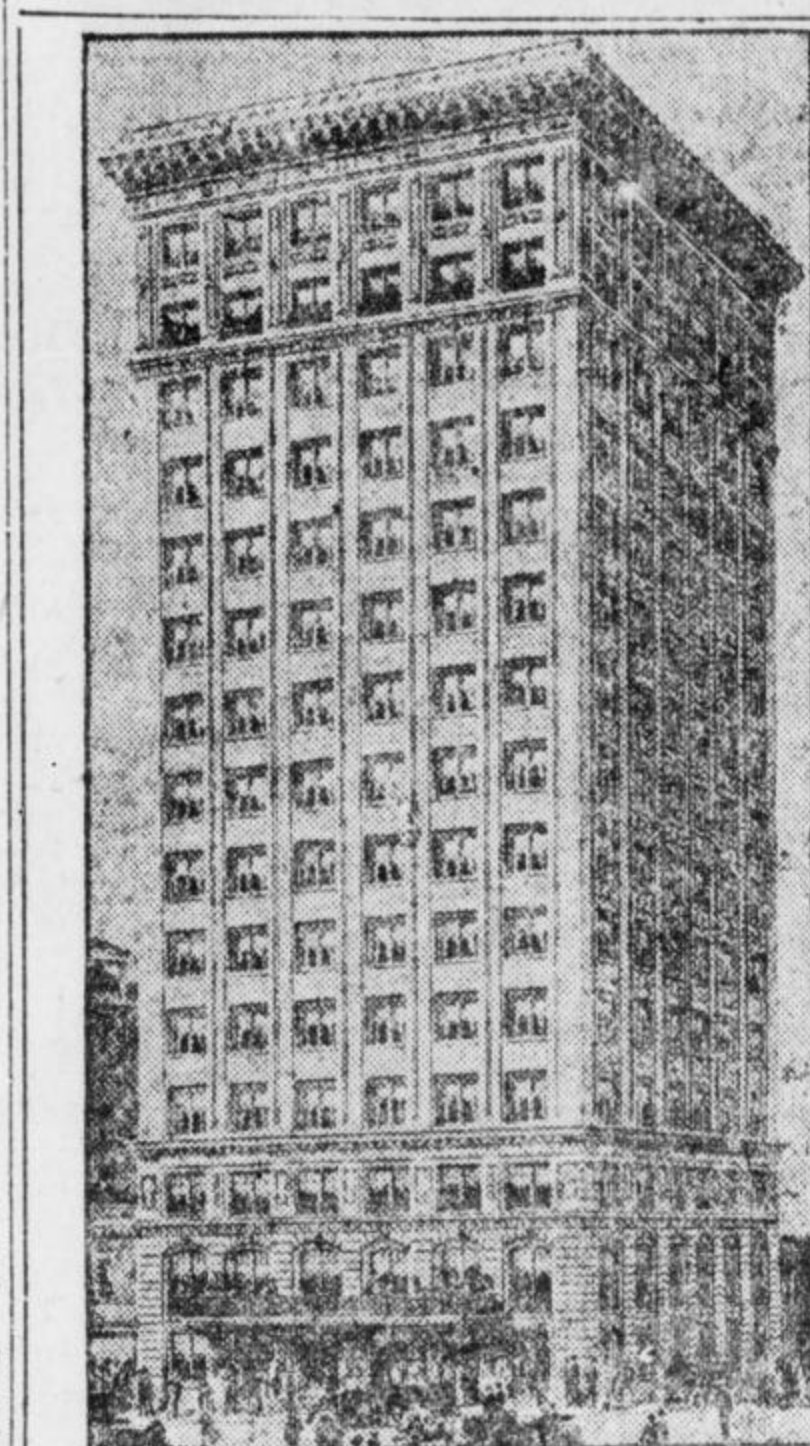

"He took him to the hospital in his automobile, and someone came and got me in a car. I know your boy would have run over my child for anything in the world if he had stopped to think.

"That's why we blame the police, because they allow people to race their cars up and down the street and don't look out for little children." The women decided they would attempt some sort of concerted action for the protection of the children of their neighborhood.

SHOP EARLY

Buy your Christmas presents EARLY—Early in the day and do it now. That will be your biggest gift of the holidays to the workers behind the counters and on the delivery wagons.

People wait till they reach the store before they begin to formulate their shopping plans. Thus they must do their thinking, deciding and acting in the time that should be devoted solely to acting.

We want to show you that deferred shopping, after all, is more distressing to you than it is to our clerks. The latter suffer only mental and physical fatigue; while you suffer both and then get unsatisfactory purchases. Plan your gifts at leisure, it's more satisfactory in every way.

We are ready to interest you in every part of our big BILLING SERVICE store at your convenience. Incidentally might say many of our buyers are now in the Eastern markets gathering large stocks for you to make your selections from.

Just follow daily our announcements in the papers, they will convey much to interest you, we think! Always at your service.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX. THAT IS IMPOSSIBLE. DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am deeply in love with a young man of my age. We had a quarrel, for which neither he nor I was to blame. He speaks to me when we meet on the street. I have seen him with a few girls but still I love him and cannot take to any other young man. I would like to keep his company. MARGARET.

WISDOM TO REFUSE. DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: A young boy whom my parents have known for a long time was visiting at our house. Before leaving he asked me for a kiss. Was it proper for me to do so? ANXIOUS MARY.

KEEP IT UP. DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am twenty and in love with a girl of twenty-one. I have taken this young lady home from the office every evening. I have also taken her out to lunch. But no matter how I try I can't seem to make any impression on her. I know she has many other admirers. She is good looking, popular, and is very good company. E. M. G.

TRY LOVING HIM LESS. DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I am eighteen. About four months ago I met a young man at a party. I love him very much. But some girls told me he goes out too much with other girls. He has a little love for me, but it seems very little. How can I get him to love me? HELEN V.

MAN is such a perverse creature that he is more often attracted by the girl who appears indifferent to him than by the one who courts his favor.

Try it, my dear. Begin by refusing to care how many girls he goes with.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HER WORK

On Account of Her Weakness, But Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Brought Back Strength.

Summit, Va.—Mrs. Leonora Walker, of this place, has the following to say regarding her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic: "Before I began to take Cardui, I suffered with womanly trouble, and also with what I thought was stomach trouble. I was so weak I had to give up all my housework, and could not do any of the cooking."

"I commenced taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and after the third day I began to feel better. Have now used five bottles, and am well, and can do all of my housework and cooking by myself. In fact, I feel like a new woman."

"I shall be only too glad to do anything I can to help praise the Cardui Home Treatment, for it is so good for suffering women. I shall never be without it."

For over half a century Cardui has been helping to build weak, nervous, tired-out women back to strength and health. It goes to the seat of the trouble and builds up womanly strength where it is most needed.

Cardui may be the very medicine your system has long been needing. Get a bottle from your druggist today. It can not harm you, and should surely do for you what it has done for so many thousands of others.

Natural Loveliness

Charming Edna Goodrich Gives Her Rules

The Manicure Lady

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

"And so beauty of mind is the first thing we must seek to attain. And around ourselves we must weave an atmosphere of beauty. But we must not forget that all the beautiful things in the world will make no impression upon us if we do not make ourselves amenable to them. So it is important first to have our minds impressionistic."

Think beautiful thoughts.

Beauty of mind, then beauty of soul.

Be impressionistic.

By MAUDE MILLER.

WOULD you like to live in Arcadia? Where love rules and perfect happiness abides? It seems like a long way off from this world of modern things, but it would be well worth while to search and find the way.

Without any color about her save her black eyes and hair. "Facial beauty means so little," she murmured, as she gave me ten minutes from the beautiful land that is not given me to enter. "Beauty of mind and soul are the things we are searching for to-day and are the things that are hardest to attain. Beauty of mind we may strive for, but beauty of soul slips in to us unawares and points the way to Arcadia."

Most of us, dazzled by new and unexpected vistas, think that we have gained the quest, and, folding our wings, are content to spend out lives at the very border-line of the land we are seeking.

"Of course, it is not possible to allow you that you can, and take ten minutes apart from every day if you are too busy for more. And in those ten minutes think beautiful thoughts, create an atmosphere for yourself which will result in a strong personality."

"So get all the beautiful things around you that you can, and take ten minutes apart from every day if you are too busy for more. And in those ten minutes think beautiful thoughts, create an atmosphere for yourself which will result in a strong personality."

"Beauty of mind and then beauty of soul. Of course, one follows the other. Isn't it evident in the expression of the eyes, the curve of the lips? Can any facial beauty be compared with the inward beauty of the soul? And when we have attained beauty of mind and soul we are on our way to Arcadia. The glamour of love is in the air, the spirit of kindness is our guide, and once we have gained that faraway country we may dwell there forever and a day—for Arcadia, the land of happiness, spreads wide its lands only to those who have paid the price of entrance."

TO-DAY'S INSTALLMENT.

"BUT he is in love with her. At first both Mrs. Atherley and the girl kept him at arm's length. She was too poor, he too rich. That difficulty was smoothed over quite recently, and they meet now nearly every day. Langdon hasn't a dog's chance, and if all goes well the happy pair will soon be off to Norway or Switzerland for their honeymoon."

"Oh, indeed. Then where does all your clever scheming come in? He went to Sussex. You wouldn't let me follow him. He was out late several nights on his motor car along the North Road. I would have met him and smashed his face in with a life preserver, but you held me back. What are you driving at? What's your game?"

"You shall see." Grenier went to a cupboard and took out a small box. From this he produced a single check, and several slips of paper on which were written names and signatures.

to his fiancée and to his agent, Abington, who used to be stipendiary magistrate at Clerkenwell. Now don't interrupt. You spoil my train of thought. Philip Anson will live again for days after you have—disposed of him. By that time you will have established such an alibi that an archangel's testimony would not shake it.

"I don't quite mean that," he said. "You can depend on me for my part of the bargain."

"What about me when the thing is done?" "Oh, you are beginning to appreciate the other side of events. Now, we will assume that Philip Anson has been dead a couple of months, and Victor Grenier has amassed a fortune by a sheer run of luck on the turf. It is fairly evident that Victor Grenier's ingenious idea not only offered him a reliable means of escape, but promised a rich harvest of wealth. Certainly it was worth trying. Not once but many times during the preceding month, Grenier had withheld the murderer's willing hand. When it did fall, what keener satisfaction could he have than the knowledge that he would be enriched by the deed? "I can't see ahead like you," said Mason, at last. "But I will obey orders. You tell me where and when; I will be there."

"I will acquit you with certain facts on which you may rely absolutely. I will forthwith act myself on the assumption that the real Philip Anson won't interfere with me. That is all."

"I'll see you in ten minutes." "I'll see you in ten minutes." "I'll see you in ten minutes." "I'll see you in ten minutes."

us drink to a glorious future." He reached for a decanter, but a sudden knock at the door jarred the nerves of both men considerably.

"Where's Victor?" he said eagerly. "In his room; he will be here in a moment. What's the matter? You look pretty grim."

"I've had a piece of wretched luck. I was at Mrs. Atherley's 'At Home' today, when Anson turned up. I met him without winking, but he knew me at once. He called me outside and treated me like a dog."

him. Only on the guarantee that I would never meet Miss Atherley again would he consent not to expose me. I'm done. My last chance is gone. I have wasted my money on Grenier's mad notions, and was fool enough to think you meant what you said when you swore to have Anson's life."

"Does Philip Anson know that Mr. James Crichton Langdon is Sir Philip Morland's stepson?" he asked. "I can't tell. What does it matter, anyhow?"

"Think, man, think! Does he even know your name?" "He can easily find out."

"Not he. This young spark has a fine sense of honor. You promised to keep away from the lady in future. He will never even mention you. And your money is not lost. It has been well spent, every farthing. Take care, Miss Evelyn, does not see you until she is heartbroken about Philip Anson. She will be; can be quite sure of it. Then your opportunity will come."

My Own Beauty Secrets BY ANNA HELD

How to Obtain a Beautiful Figure

By Anna Held.

(Star of John Cort's All-Star Valetete Jubilee.)

(Copyright, 1913, International News Service.)

"WHAT would I not give to have a beautiful figure?" Every day you hear this remark; every day you hear women complaining over their desire to add beauty or form to the list of their charms.

Madame, what would you give to have a beautiful figure? What is it worth while to give? Not your health

Exercise every part of your body. If your waist is too large, do the bending to the floor without bending the knees exercise. Touch the finger tips to the floor ten times the first day. Increase five counts a day until you have reached fifty counts. Then increase ten at a time up to one hundred.

The Erect Poise.

It will keep every part of your body active, supple and free from fat.

PRACTISE AT HOME.

For added grace and suppleness practice in your own room when your clothing is loose many of the little dancing steps that you see on the stage and all about you.

Avoid sweets, rich saucers, pastries, starches, oil dressings, cereals, dark fish, veal, pork, cream and all made dishes and fried foods if you would be proud of your figure. Drink weak tea with lemon. Never relax just after your meals. Pay the price of eternal energy and vigilance, and without any injury to health or strength or the buoyancy that adds spring to your figure, you will be gracefully well-built.

In the two pictures accompanying my little talk I have illustrated my own ideal of la belle figure.

Erect poise of body, firmly held head and throat are illustrated in the right-hand view. Learn to poise yourself on the ball of the foot, with the springy look of the athlete about to leap into action. Hold your chest high, so the lungs may breathe in air to carry oxygen to your blood and nerve to your every motion. Hold the hips back and the walls of the abdomen up. Do not sag or droop anywhere. Whatever the tad of the day, a firmly held, upright figure is always most charming, and a sagging, wear one makes the observer weary, too.

In the other figure I show you how the back should be held firm, flat, with the shoulders back.

In the human figure, as in the art of dressing, you must ever keep in mind one principle—long, continuous lines make for grace. And long, unbroken lines are yours if you will bathe, exercise and diet sanely and tediously. Nature builds slowly; do not try to sid her or to overcome her on fortunate tendencies in a week or a month.

What would you give for a beautiful figure? Give time and patience and care, and season with fresh air and exercise and a sane diet!

Exercise every part of your body. If your waist is too large do the bending to the floor without bending the knees exercise. Touch the finger-tips to the floor ten times the first day, increase five counts a day until you have reached fifty counts, and then increase ten at a time up to one hundred. For large hips kick with each foot alternately. As soon as you can elevate the toes above the head as do our petite danseuses, take the count from ten to one hundred as in the waist exercise. For fat at the chest or shoulder blades swing the arms in the shoulder sockets with the hands at the shoulders.

In this way study out exercises

Beatrice Fairfax Answers the Questions:

Do Men Really Like Fools?

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

Dear Miss Fairfax: Do men like fools? My mother says they don't—but I say they do. I have a sister who is very pretty and awfully sweet, and my brother says that the reason men don't like her is because she knows too much. Is this true? I believe it is, for everywhere I go I see men perfectly crazy about girls who haven't sense enough to go in when it rains, and I see them passing by nice girls who are intelligent and sensible and just as pretty as the other ones. What do you think about it? PERPLEXED.

WELL, Perplexed, I don't blame you a bit. Men perplex me, too, a good many times. Talk about the illogical sex—if ever there was a man on earth who showed the least bit of common sense about women, I'd like to meet him and gaze into his eyes. The average man says one thing—and does another—as no woman in the world would ever dare to do.

HE POKES FUN.

He makes fun of a girl for powdering and painting; he says a girl who's always thinking about her looks makes him tired; he admires, he says, a good, sensible girl with her own complexion and her own figure—and every time that man has a pair of tickets to a good play he invites to go with him—what sort of girl?

You know as well as I do, a little, stammering, silly, feather-headed goose, so made up that you can't tell whether she's a blonde or brunette, pinched in here and puffed out there, uttering and tossing her head and making eyes every time a man speaks to her.

Where is the good, sensible girl that he says he admires so much? At home—darning socks for father or turning brother's neckties so they'll look as if they were brand new.

Men hate a flirt, so they'll tell you. The fact is, they're crazy about them.

All this wouldn't matter so much except that the consequences are sometimes serious.

WHAT HE EXPECTS.

A man marries one of these silly little featherheads and the minute the ring is on her finger he expects her to turn right around in her tracks and be a nice, cosy, little home body, without a thought in the world but him and his comfort and happiness.

He seems to think that the wedding ceremony is some sort of a magic rite that will turn a parrot with gay feathers into a good little brown hen, just to please him.

And sometimes the poor parrot, who sometimes has a good heart under all her fine feathers, is very unhappy about it and the man goes around calling marriage a failure.

I wish I could comfort you, Perplexed, but this is the best I can do, right now.

If you want to make a man like you, don't let him see that you know more than he does.

Don't let him even suspect that you know half as much.

Little Bobbie's Pa

A NEW beau calm to see Alice last nite. I guess my cousin is going to have a different beau every nite that she stays in town. The name of this beau was Eliza & he stayed three hours. I thought he wud never go hoam.

Pa had a lot of fun with Eliza. Pa & Ma & me was in the living room wen he called to see Alice & we all got to talking about how young men drink nowadays. The way it calm up Eliza was telling about a young man that worked for the saim firm that he did, & how he got fired because the boss saw him talking a glass of beer, & it served him rite, too, sed Eliza. The wicked man!

Wicked man is rite, sed Pa. I am glad that he left the place ware you work. There is always danger of a bad companyn teaching a dozen other boys bad habits. Do you ever drink, Eliza? sed Pa.

Not I, sed Eliza. Pure, cold water is what I drink, & vary littel of that.

You are a kind of a dry cuss, ain't you, sed Pa. Wen I was yure age I was quite a tank, sed Pa. There was sumthing wet going down my throate a good part of the time. My employers knew it, too, sed Pa, & thay wud have liked to fire me only they cudent get anybody to talk my place. As I grew oalder I realized the folly of drink, Pa sed, & now I never touch anything. I was just going to call Pa a fibber but he winked at me.

I used to drink, too, sed Eliza. Wen I was a few years yunger than I am now I galy whiskey a terrible battle. I drank sumtimes as much as half a dozen high balls in a day, he sed. But I seen that it was wrecking by health, sed Eliza, so I cut down to one a day, & after a while, wen I thought my nerves & my hart wud stand the shock, I quit altogether.

You must have been vary, vary brave, sed Cousin Alice.

I think I may say that it took a grate deel of courage, sed her beau. For months & months after I quit I was in a friteful state of nervous collapse, but in the course of time my strong constitushun calm to my aid, & I began to feel myself growing stronger. It was a different kind of strength, too, he sed. Not the strength born of half a dozen high balls, but the reel strength that cums from good food & fresh air. Today all the old craving has gone away, sed Eliza, & the three years that I drank seem like three years of sum strange dream. I do not suppose that I was ever reely sober during all that time.

I do not suppose you were, sed Pa. You certinly passed thru a dredful ordeal & calm out of it with flying colors. It is not every yung man that wud have the courage to quit drinking after he had got to the point ware he took six drinks in a singel day. I think it is wonderful, sed Pa.

After Eliza was gone Ma sed There is a yung man to be admired.

Yes, indeed, sed Pa. Jest think of it, six drinks in a singel day. If I ever drank that much I wud almost be ashamed to tell of it, sed Pa. Doant ever start drinking, Alice, sed Pa, because I am sure Eliza feels that lips which touch liquor shall never touch his.

I doant ever intend to drink, sed Alice, but I ain't going to marry Eliza. He wudent get along with papa, sed Alice. Papa can drink six highballs at once. Papa wud dislike Eliza, sed Pa. & papa wud be rite, & after a while, wen I thought my

A Fashionable Fur Coat and a Gown

FULLY DESCRIBED BY OLIVETTE

By Olivette

THE gown we picture to-day is a fancy of the moment in gay Paree.

If you are the sort of woman who discards her gowns after a very few wearings, by all means follow the model and buy the perishable but beautiful "velour frange," as Paris calls its embossed velvet.

But if you are the sensible little woman to whom I delight to talk—if you get your gowns with the same idea of service as well as beauty, please purchase some less noticeable and startling material—duvety, broadcloth (the ever-serviceable), crepe de Chine in a heavy weave, or velvet.

The color of our model is a delightful "prairie green." It is just as restful and pleasing to the eye as the Western prairies from which it takes its name. Whatever material you choose, be sure you retain the delightful color of the original.

Let us suppose you choose green velvet. Make the bodice with a kimono having long and semi-fitted sleeves of velvet. The blouse of the bodice, the draped belt and the upper tunic of the skirt are of woad brown faille. There is a little yoke of white net which shirs into a round bebe neck. Over this the brown faille turns back in narrow revers. The "basque" of the faille lengthens to a point front and back—and is filled to give a semblance of the minaret effect. The skirt has a draped foundation, over which falls a full tunic of knee length.

On the left is a very wonderful coat of seal and marten. It may cost a thousand dollars if it is genuine seal and of real marten. But it will be as effective and just one-fifth as expensive if it is fashioned of one of the many effective imitations of seal and trimmed in skunk or soft brown fox.

The coat is cut to the knee, and is slightly raised and tightened in front. It crosses in surplus fashion and is edged with the becoming long-haired fur. The wide sleeves end just above the wrists. Because of the deep armholes this coat may be used for street or evening wear, for it will guard a soft, filmy gown as effectively as would a cape.

Slightly Mixed.

Deaf and Dumb Beggar (at unexpected receiving a dime)—Oh, thanks, sir!

Benevolent Passer—Eh? What does this mean, sir? You can talk!

Beggar (in worse confusion)—Yes, sir. Ye see, sir, I'm only minding this corner for 'r poor deaf and dumb man wot belongs here.

Benevolent Passer—Where is he? Beggar (in worse confusion)—He's—he's gone to 'r park 'r hear the music.

WHAT A RAILROAD CONDUCTOR SAYS

Mr. H. White, railroad conductor on the Southern from Atlanta to Redlin, Ala., has for some time suffered with stomach trouble and kidney trouble. In his weak run-down condition, his stomach caused him much distress after eating even the lightest foods. He was annoyed with bloating, belching and shortness of breath, and sometimes had dizzy spells. Like most railroad men, he was affected with kidney trouble. He would have to get up several times at night; had a dull pain across the small of his back. During this time he has used many so-called kidney pills, plasters, etc., without the least benefit. His condition began to alarm him, his vility was passing away, he had no ambition and nothing he took seemed to benefit him in the least. Finally, a friend of his, a brother railroad man who had been using the Quaker Extract for catarrh of the stomach and who had received wonderful benefits, advised him to try the Quaker Extract. He did, and, to his surprise, he commenced to feel better after the first day, and to-day says that Quaker Extract is the most wonderful medicine in the world, and he would not take $5,000 for the benefits he has received. He eats anything without the slightest distress; the pains and trouble from the kidneys have disappeared and he feels 20 years younger. Every nerve and muscle in his body is built up and proves that the Quaker Extract which the Health Teacher has introduced at Coursey & Munn's drug store is worth its weight in gold. Remember, these are the remedies that are curing so many people of rheumatism, catarrh, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder, indigestion, constipation—in fact, they are doing the work others have left undone. Quaker Extract, $1; 3 for $2.50, or 6 for $5. Oil of Balm, 25c, or 5 for $1. These remedies can always be had at Coursey & Munn's drug store, 29 Marietta street. MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERS WILL ALL RETAIN JOBS

First Time in National Circuit History That No Changes Are Announced by Owners.

By Damon Runyon.
ONE record has already been established by the fall of 1913. With the first of November hard by, it seems to be generally admitted that there will be no managerial changes in the dear old National League next season, something unprecedented in the history of that celebrated organization.

This is indeed tough on Roger Bresnahan, Fiebler Jones and the other property possibilities of the day—but it is true, nevertheless. A few weeks ago rumors began popping all along the firing line until it sounded like the usual fusillade, but gradually the noise died away, until now you hear only an occasional spent paragraph flailing out in some column way, 'way down in the sticks.

Bill Dahlen's sentence to Brooklyn for another year has practically been confirmed by Charles Hercules Ebbets, Charles reserving the right, of course, to change his mind at any time without notice, and any time Dahlen's fate is settled, the books close on the managerial situation throughout the league.

Miller Huggins, despite a rather indifferent showing, hangs on at St. Louis, Charley Dorn sticks in Philadelphia, while there has never been any doubt about John J. McGraw, George Stallings and Fred Clarke. There had been some talk of a change at Cincinnati, but Harry Herrmann's boat in letting Honney O'Day go without a second-year term, after Benny had made a great showing with the Reds, taught Harry a lesson and Tinker has been signed for another year.

Tinker Deserves a Chance.
No manager can be expected to produce results in a single year, unless said manager be a George Stallings, which most managers are not, and while Tinker's finish was a great disappointment to his friends, he is entitled to at least one more crack at the job before he is discarded as a failure.

The beginning of the season of 1914 is a long way off, and a lot of things can happen in a few months, but just at present there is no war, or even rumors of war, in connection with the managerial jobs, and with most everything else that might be productive of argument in the National League circles settled, the annual meeting is likely to be a dull and dreary affair.

James E. Gaffney is the only owner who has announced any improvements for next year. He expects to put a new stand on the field now occupied by the Boston Braves, or to construct an entirely new plant.

Despite the fact that he spent in the neighborhood of $300,000 last year, and that Gaffney made over $50,000, and he is putting that and more with it back into the club in one way or another.

Ty Cobb May Go to Red Sox Speaker for Yanks; Big Deal

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Boston is responsible for the latest sensational baseball story to the effect that negotiations are under way for a big three-cornered deal involving the New York Americans, the Detroit and Red Sox, by which Ty Cobb will become a member of Chance's team and Ty Cobb will go to the Hub. In the absence of Manager Chance, President Farrell, of the New Yorks, said yesterday that he had no knowledge of the supposed deal. There is no doubt, however, that Farrell and Chance would agree to almost any proposition that would bring Speaker to this city. President Navin, of the Detroit club, stated recently that he might agree to trade Cobb for Speaker, but that no other transaction would appeal to him.

Those who have started the story in Boston say that Manager Carrigan, of the Red Sox, had a talk with Speaker just before the season closed, and that it was agreed that Speaker should go elsewhere providing the Red Sox could obtain the services of Cobb. According to the yarn, President McAleer consulted Ban Johnson and the latter suggested that arrangements should be made by which Speaker might become the New Yorks' center fielder. In order to bring this about, the Boston gossips say that if Chance will agree to turn over half a dozen players to Detroit to replace Cobb, the big deal can be swung.

The originators of the story seem to think that Navin and Jennings would seriously consider a trade by which Chance would release Ford Sweeney, Cree, McHale, Knight and Jimmy Walsh, the Athletics' young outfielder, whose release to the New Yorks has already been promised, while Cree and Walsh would fill the gap left in the outfield by the loss of Cobb. Jennings also would bolster his team behind the bat with Sweeney, Inasmuch as he is more experienced than McHale and is able to play flyball better than the veteran Stange.

Chance, it is known, will trade Cree, Knight, McHale and Cree if he can see his way clear. When the season closed he said that he intended to keep Sweeney, as he didn't know how he could get a better catcher. President Farrell declared the other day that he hadn't closed the deal for Walsh, but he admitted that negotiations had been under way for some time.

The fact that Ban Johnson, during the World's Series, revealed his prediction that the New Yorks would have "one of the greatest outfielders in the American League next season" is ground for the belief that he knows something about the plan to shift Speaker here if the Detroit club can have sufficient playing talent to make up for the loss of Cobb. It is known that Cobb is tired of Detroit and is anxious to be traded to a larger city, also that Speaker is somewhat dissatisfied with his surroundings in Boston, due to the release of Jake Stahl last summer and the appointment of Carrigan as Stahl's successor.

GEORGIA STARTS HARD WORK FOR CLEMSON GAME

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 4.—The Red and Black football team will resume hard practice this afternoon for the game against Clemson in Augusta Thursday. To get back to strenuous work so soon after Saturday's game is something unusual for the Athenians, who have been allowed by Cunningham to loaf for a couple of days, but the nearness of the Tiger game and the strength of the South Carolinians is causing a bit of uneasiness in the Red and Black camps.

The chances of the Red and Black against Tech and Auburn depend to a great extent on the form of the players who are now out of the game. Henderson at tackle, Carey at half, Conklin at end and Crump at half and quarter. Crump shows signs of rounding into shape for the game this week, but will hardly be well enough acquainted with the plays to be of any advantage. His work the rest of the season will very probably be an assignment at quarter to relieve Padlock should he get knocked out. Right now Georgia is minus an available quarter for substitution, as both Dorsey and Flournoy are too light for the important games that remain on the schedule. Crump was worked at this position during the Dalton game and was showing great form when he was knocked out.

Harvard Favorite Over Tigers Princeton Will Rely on 'Luck'

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Football enthusiasts will have no just cause to complain of a dearth of championship football games scheduled for next Saturday. It should mark the banner day of the 1913 season. More than $5 collegiate matches are to be played, not to mention the thousands of other contests that are scheduled between club and school teams throughout the country.

Gridiron history is sure to be written when the various battles have been finished. In fact, seldom before have supporters of the popular college game been afforded the opportunity to witness such sterling exhibitions as next Saturday's contests promise to be.

The game which no doubt will be watched with the keenest interest by experts will be the struggle at Princeton, when Johnny Harvard's Big Red team endeavors to subdue the Princeton Tiger.

This battle should prove a memorable affair. Harvard, equipped with a veteran line, namely, Captain Storer and Hitchcock at tackles, Trumbull, Panock and Gilman, in the center line; O'Brien, Colledge and Mihajland, at the flanks, and supported in the backfield by stars of such magnitude as Hartwick, Brickley, Bralove and Alban, the like of whom has rarely, if ever, been brought together before, looks to have a shaft in the Tiger aggregation.

But Princeton has lots of faith in the eleven that Blumenthal and Andrews, the Orange and Black team's coaches, have decided to put on the gridiron. In Captain "Hobby" Baker the Jersey men have a back who is expected to shine in open-field playing, especially in the running back of punts. Concerning Glick, Stroit, E. Trencaman, Merrit, Emmons and "Stew" Baker—the remaining backfield material—the coaches are in an uncertain state of mind as to just whom they will pick to start.

All these players are far above the ordinary caliber of varsity material, and it would not be surprising if two sets of backs were used in the contest. If this course is decided upon, the freshness of the new men will add greatly to the efficiency of the team.

In the line Princeton can not show the experience of her opponents. All

POLICE MUTINY AID CARMEN ON STRIKE

Indianapolis Officers Refuse to Ride Trolleys and Protect the Non-Union Crews.

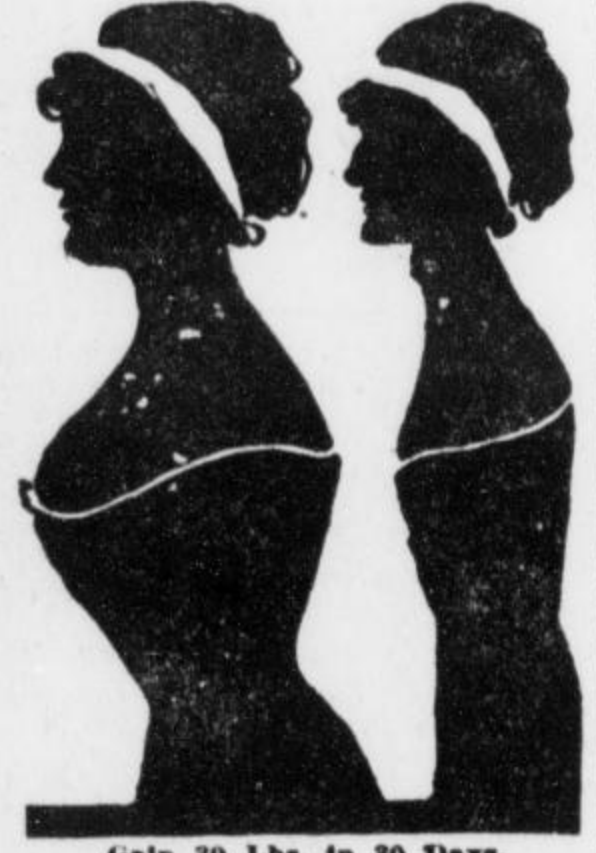

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—A future attempt was made to run an old-fashioned riot scarred car over the tracks of the street car company at 10 o'clock this morning.

Manned by fourteen imported strikebreakers and Superintendent Mahoney, of the traction company, the car was run out of the Louisiana street barn one-half block to Georgia street, where 28 policemen were ordered to board it. The policemen mutinied and walked away with smiling faces. The mob in the vicinity cheered the policemen.

The 28 patrolmen who refused to board a car surrendered their badges, but the police department refused to permit them to resign. The officers said they would "go through hell on the street, but would not protect imported strikebreakers in their attempts to operate cars."

All Around The Town

Little Facts and Fancies About Well-Known Atlantans.

Ed McCandless, just back from a prolonged stay at Carlisbad, is mighty glad to get home.

"Atlanta," said Mr. McCandless, "looks good to Atlantans every day in the year, of course, even if they ever get out of town. But if you want Atlanta to look genuinely and generously good to you, go away for a few months, and then have a look in on it. That piazza just outside the Terminal Station, or that old Kimball House just outside the Union Station—they certainly are friendly and appealing things to cast your peepers on!"

"Carlisbad is all right in its way—and it did me much good, physically, to stay there a few months. I know—but it isn't Atlanta any more than anywhere else other than Atlanta is Atlanta. It's good to be home!"

"There is a negro out at the stock yards," said Albert Trueheart, "who has had one remarkable accident. He has broken almost every bone in his body, and he is little the worse for wear. He has, from time to time, succeeded in breaking his collarbone, his big toe, his forearm, two of his ribs, his ankle, his wrist and his skull. The only thing he hasn't broken yet is his neck. I am watching him closely, for sooner or later I feel sure he will break his neck. I think it will be most interesting and exciting to see a man break his neck, and there isn't anything left for this ambitious bone-breaker to break!"

It is a well-known fact in Atlanta that "Charlie" Northern could be an Alderman from his ward any time he would take the job, and without opposition, if only he would agree to accept the place. He is, however, Clerk of the State Senate, and as such is prohibited by law from holding another official position. The clerkship of the Senate, besides paying fairly well, is a most pleasant job—and nobody ever thinks of running against "Stump" Northern for the place—and what would be the use, anyway? Still, most folks in Atlanta would grab off an Aldermanic plum in a jiffy, if it might be had for the mere grabbing.

Friends of D. B. Gilbert, a well-known insurance man, who lives at the Aragon Hotel, had him running around in little circles last Saturday night. Gilbert is the man who furnished the tip that caught the three pickpockets who tried to operate at the opening of the Winecoff, and his friends heard of it Saturday they began throwing out hints about their being $500 reward offered for the arrest of one of the men, and later in the evening one of his friends hurried up to Gilbert and told him he had just learned that policemen were looking for him to give him the reward. Gilbert bustled around and "spent" the money half a dozen times before he realized that he was being "kidded."

It was with the fond hope that he would be free from moonshiners for at least a week that Hooper Alexander, the new Federal District Attorney, went to Athens last Sunday to take care of the court's business there. He has tried hardly anything but moonshiners since he succeeded Colonel Tate, and he was getting tired of it. No one has tried to guess his feelings when, only a few hours before he left for Athens, he found that there are 175 moonshine cases on the docket there this week.

Duchess Won't Do Queen's Bargaining

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Duchess of Devonshire, who, after considerable absence, has just returned to her duties as mistress of the robes, has stipulated with Queen Mary that she must be relieved of the work of passing upon the Queen's dress accounts.

This work necessitated a great amount of bargaining with the modistes of the Queen and involved the Duchess in much unpleasantness.

NEW PASTOR AT CEDARTOWN.

CEDARTOWN, Nov. 4.—The Rev. T. M. Strubbing, of Commerce, Texas, who accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church here, has arrived, and commenced his work.

AD MEN ASKED TO AID BLIND'S HOME

An appeal to the Atlanta Ad Men's Association for aid in raising funds with which to relieve the Industrial Home for the Blind from being sold to satisfy a mortgage will be made today by the men in charge of the institution. Sale of the property is scheduled for Tuesday, but it is believed it can be postponed for a few days.

The sum of $5,000 is needed. At a meeting at the First Baptist Church, which was expected to draw a large crowd, but a dozen men attended. Upon suggestion of David Woodward, it was decided to appoint a committee to wait on the Ad Men's Association today and enlist their support.

A number of blind people have been given employment at the home in the manufacture of brooms. It has been quite a struggle to get started, but with a little timely assistance it is believed the home can be put on a sound basis. The board of directors is composed of L. S. Bauknicht, president; Dr. J. W. Blosser, vice president; S. P. Moncrief, treasurer; P. E. Bauknicht, secretary; F. M. Smith, J. M. Sanders, James Gillespy and J. D. T. Lawrence.

Offers to Sell Land He Walked to Get

DALTON, Nov. 4.—A. Wandrel, of St. Louis, is now advertising for sale property he obtained near Dalton, after walking here from St. Louis to prove his rights to the property.

Before starting on his long walk, Wandrel was of the opinion that his uncle, J. J. Stand, who disappeared about thirteen years ago, had left a farm of about 250 acres and a bank account here. When he arrived in Dalton, he discovered that the estate consisted of nothing more than a 25-acre tract of land.

Lumber Plant Fire Causes $20,000 Loss

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 4.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the planing mill of J. C. Lovelace here, entailing a loss estimated at $20,000. The mill was not insured, the proprietor having allowed his policy to lapse six months ago.

The office building, containing all of the concern's papers, was destroyed, as well as the mill and thousands of feet of dressed lumber. Much of the machinery was ruined.

Declares He Is Dead; Succumbs in Coma

SAVANNAH, Nov. 4.—Seven weeks ago, Louis Ira Watson, who died at a local hospital to-day, stretched himself out on a couch, and when asked if he was sick, replied: "No, I am dead."

These were his last words. Watson was carried to a hospital and treated for insanity. For three weeks before his death, he had been in a coma, and to-day physicians announced him dead. His physical condition was perfect and he had no ailment.

2 NEW DIRECTORS FOR OGLETHORPE

Thornwell Jacobs, secretary of the board of directors of Oglethorpe University, has just returned from a trip to Mobile and Galveston in the interest of the university. He signed two new members for the Board, who pledged $1,000 each to rebuild the school.

In Houston, Texas, Mr. Jacobs was informed that that city had a quarter of a million dollar bonus for the establishment of the Oglethorpe School there.

"All Atlantans will remember the fact that a board of directors of approximately 200 prominent men in the Southern Presbyterian Church has been formed," said Mr. Jacobs. "We have 160 members already, and it is the purpose of my trips to get the remaining 40."

"I had no difficulty in getting one member in Mobile and one in Galveston. 'People all over the South, I have found, are well pleased with Atlanta being selected as the city for the location of the new school.'"

Of the 160 members who have signed the board of directors' pledge 70 are Atlantans.

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their best laxative because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "Fruit Laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy, they know a teaspoonful to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Ask your druggist for a 50c bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advt.

Bottle Floats Down Ohio and Crosses Sea

ROCHESTER, PA., Nov. 4.—When the Beaver River was at flood height last March, Clarence Mitchell wrote and signed his name and address, sealing it in a bottle and tossed the bottle into the flood. Last night he received a letter from Frank Warthing, in Glasgow, Scotland, saying he had picked up the bottle on the Scotch coast two weeks ago.

The bottle had floated down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers to the Gulf of Mexico, thence to Scotland.

Standard Oil Pays $2,700,000 as 'Extra'

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The Standard Oil Company of Indiana has declared an extra dividend of $2 per share in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of $2 per share. This amounts to a $2,700,000 extra dividend on the $30,000,000 capital stock.

On the strength of the declaration the stock here rose from 32 to 40.

A Million Wearers

Do you realize the vastness of the demand for Queen Quality shoes? Over a million women in this country wear them regularly.

Their wonderful popularity is not due to chance; it is due to the fact that in style, fit and wearing qualities, Queen Quality shoes excel all others.

An Advance Display of Winter Millinery that is beautiful to behold! Brimming over with newness.

There is a notable new tendency in the lines of hats. Trimmings are arranged differently.

Paris ideas, of course, and of such recent origin that we may justly call this an advance display.

It will be an open secret after to-morrow morning, we will tell it now.

Brimms turn away from the face, to let the hair show beneath, over the forehead and ears.

Effective hats if ever Paris evolved such. It is the matter of lines, in other words of artistry.

None but an artist could so curve brims, could so place feathers and flowers and aigrettes.

A hat of transparent gold crown has a black velvet brim almost as high as the crown, the underbrim is outlined with fitch.

A tete de negre velvet hat turns back at the side, gourah edging is placed beneath the brim at the front, and on top at the side.

A rich brown moire tricorne has a seal brim and an upstanding numidie.

A small seal hat has its brim caught up at the side with a cluster of French flowers, a French blue moire band around the brim.

You are going to like such hats. To-morrow, then, their first showing.

The Dress Goods and the Silks Most Favored in the Fashions This Season

Below is a very matter-of-fact list of the anything but matter-of-fact woolsens and silks of the season. Use it as a guide to shopping.

The fabrics—every one of them—are representative, from the viewpoint of style and of value.

No mistakes, no "off" shades, right is written across them boldly.

The Dress Goods

BULLISH CABLES STEADY COTTON

Holiday in New York Causes Dull and Narrow Market—Opinion Is Bullish—Bad Weather.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 4.—In response to firm cables the local cotton market opened steady today.

According to Dun's Review, those with bearish proclivities justify their position by pointing out that the crop movement for the present at least indicates that a bullish character are largely ignored.

H. F. Bachman & Co. say: "The general business situation should be its influence on fluctuations in the future market."

The New Orleans Times-Democrat says: "Movement, encouraging weather and lower spot markets in the South were the obvious explanations of Monday's market decline."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—With the exception of local rains in the East Gulf States and Southern Florida, the weather will be fair to good Tuesday over the eastern half of the country.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The New York Cotton, Stock, Cotton Seed Oil, Produce and Coffee Exchanges were closed today on account of election day.

Mrs. Harriman's Effort to Develop and Encourage American Workers.

It Sets a Good Example to MEN with Money. Better Develop ONE American of Ability Than Enrich the Foreign Art Dealers. Free Trade Enthusiasts, Please Notice.

E. H. Harriman left one of the biggest fortunes and one of the shortest wills on record.

He had collected in his lifetime, through his extraordinary genius for organization and constructive work, a great network of railroads. He was on the way to be the most powerful man in the country when death ended his labors.

Everything that he had, his entire fortune, his railroads—EVERYTHING he left to his wife.

It should interest Americans, especially those who make a specialty of spending their money abroad, and who believe that buying old stuff proves good taste, to learn one particular thing about the widow to whom Mr. Harriman left his fortune and his affairs.

ALL OF THE MONEY THAT SHE SPENDS IS SPENT IN AMERICA TO ENCOURAGE AMERICAN WORK AND DEVELOP AMERICAN RESOURCES

Harriman gathered together a good many tens of millions of American money in his short life. His widow is spending the money WHERE HE MADE IT.

When Mrs. Harriman wants art work done she hires an American artist.

When she builds a house, she doesn't tear down fireplaces in Europe, or pull the locks and bolts off the doors of old convents, or bribe somebody to sell the inside of a church.

She instructs American architects to find American workmen, American artists, sculptors and others, capable of doing the work that she wants done.

Mrs. Harriman probably knows that this is not by any means "an art age" in America. She is well aware that nobody living either in this country or abroad can do the work that was done in the days of Francis the First.

But she knows also that the work of such men as Michael Angelo, Benvenuto, Leonardo and others would never have been done had not those who possessed money combined with that money sufficient patriotism to encourage the workers of their own land.

The idea that a thing must be OLD in order to be GOOD is not a new or an American idea.

When Michael Angelo was young he chiseled out a piece of sculpture, imitating the ancient Greek style, buried it in the ground and let it get reasonably aged and changed in appearance.

Then he sent it to a rich Cardinal in Rome fond of antiques.

The Cardinal was delighted and wanted to know where Michael Angelo had done his digging. The artist replied that he could dig up as many of those statues as the Cardinal desired—as he was able to make them in any quantity and better things more modern.

Fortunately the Cardinal was good natured, and could see real merit, and he helped the young artist.

When the Pope wanted his own statue made, and the great church of St. Peter built, he did not hire some one to imitate the Greek style of sculpture or copy a Greek temple.

He let Michael Angelo make the statue, build the great dome, and do the wonderful painting in the Sistine Chapel. The paintings in that chapel are worth all the other paintings in the world.

That was the culmination of the genius of a great nation. Italy's greatness in that age was due to the fact that those who preceded Michael Angelo and his day were willing to encourage their own countrymen.

(It may interest you to know that the older Medici, whose son did so much for his country's art, was almost the exact image of our John D. Rockefeller.)

It isn't likely that Mrs. Harriman will live to see any great outburst of genius in American art. But at least she will have the satisfaction of doing what she can to help the country in which she and her husband were born, to encourage the ability of that country, be it great or little. And she will also have the satisfaction of knowing that the seed of encouragement sown to-day will bear fruit in the future. Men who think women their inferiors, please take notice.

P. S.—We call Mrs. Harriman's method to the attention of free trade enthusiasts who are doing their best to give people outside of America a chance to do the work that Americans ought to do.

What Mrs. Harriman has done voluntarily and intelligently, using her influence and power to build up American art and American mechanics, our tariff has done to a large extent automatically—and that fact should not be forgotten.

Originally England could make steel much better and cheaper than America. But the tariff helped our steel men and now we have beaten the English.

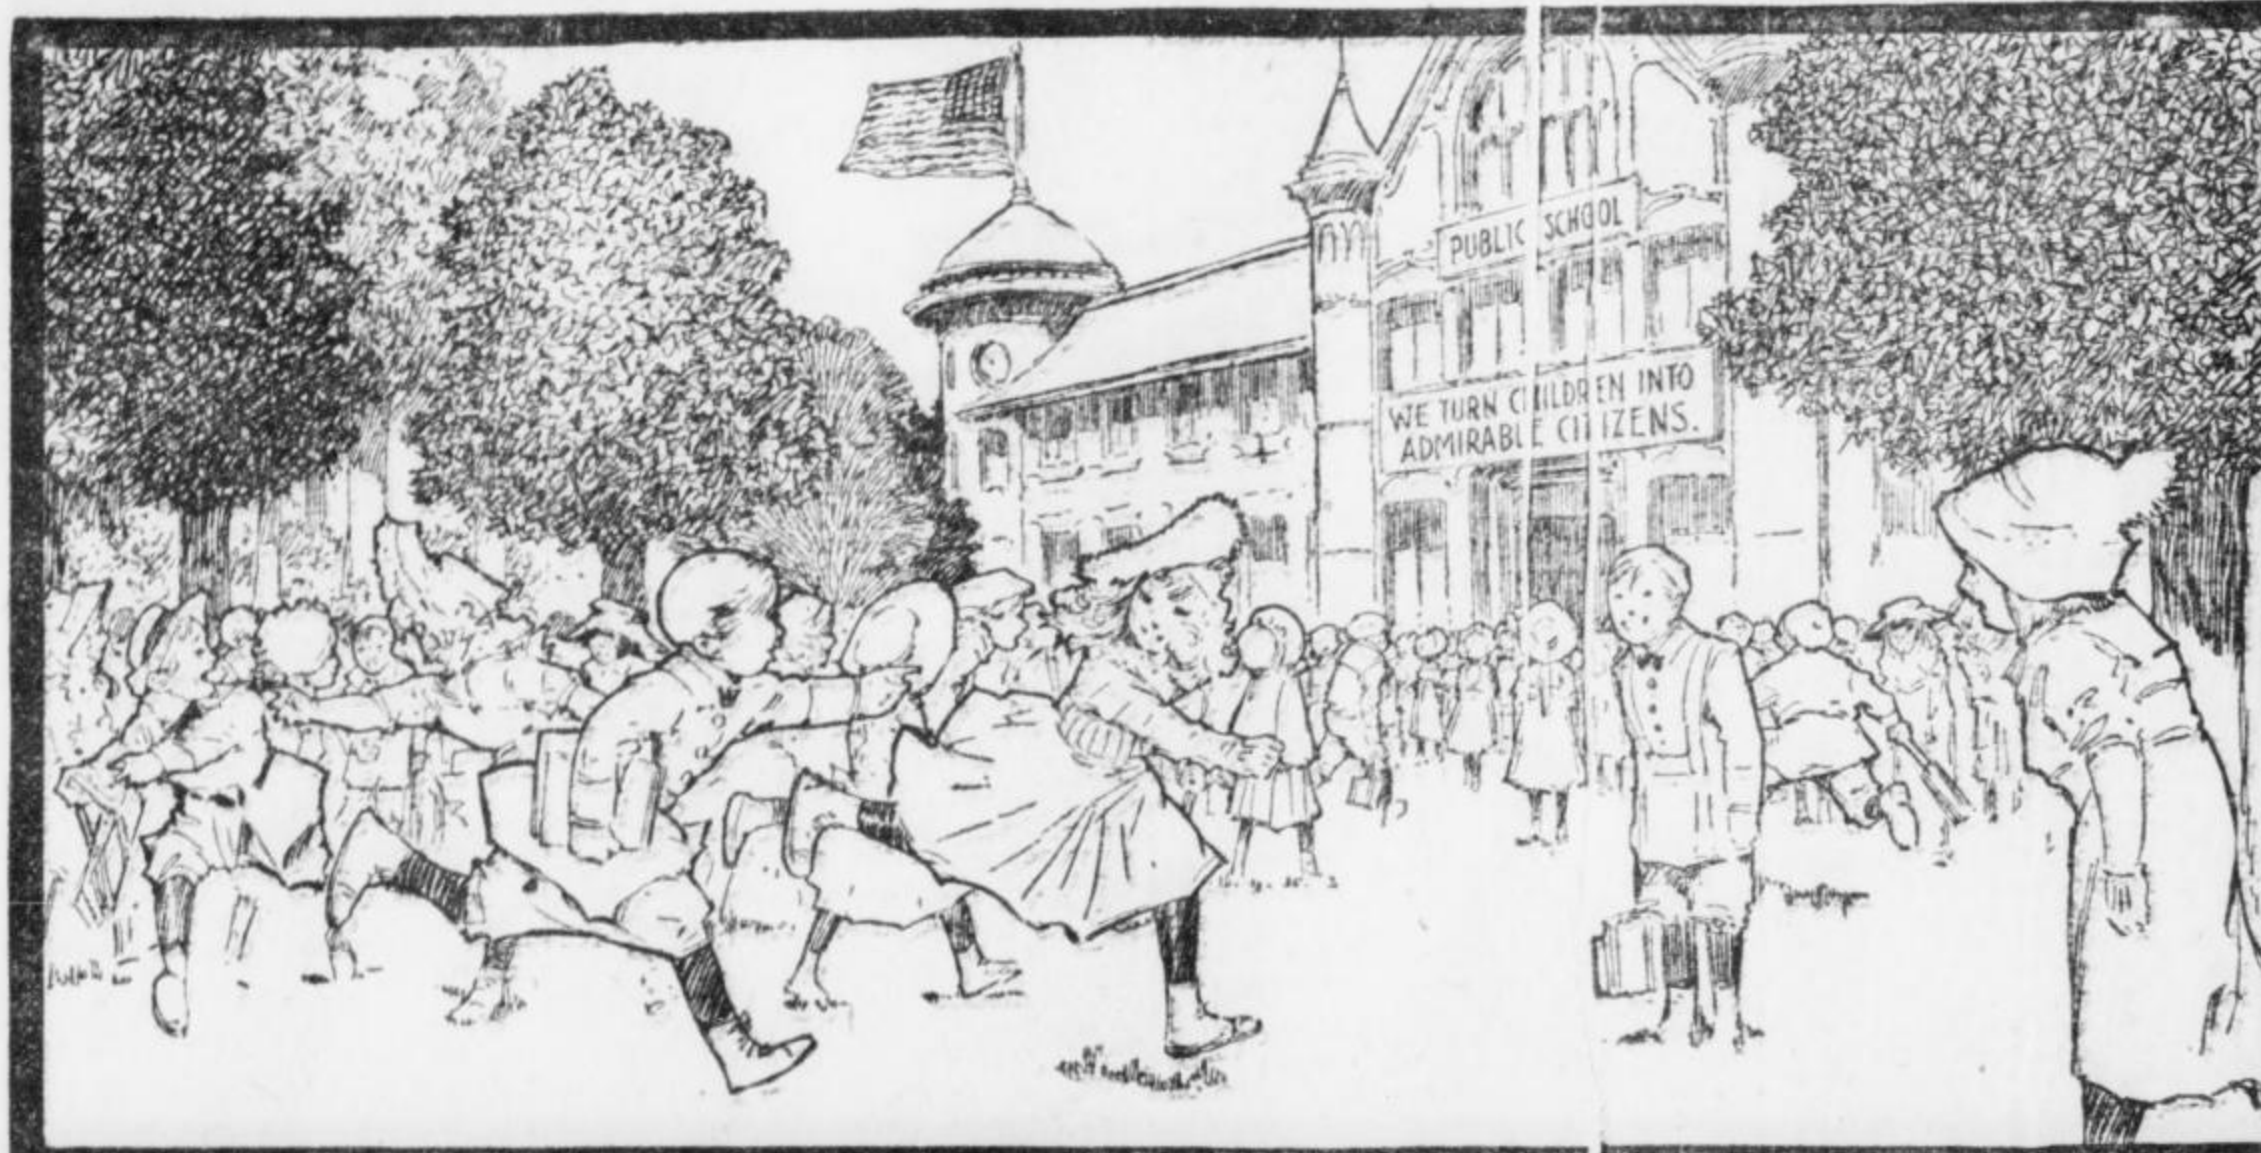

Originally we did not make plate glass in this country or any one of a thousand other necessary things. But the tariff made it worth while for manufacturers to start here and teach Americans how to do the work.

It was rather hard for our farmers to clear away our forests, keep back the Indians and keep off the mortgage owner at the same time. But the tariff on farm products encouraged the American worker and our various "billion-dollar crops" are the result.

The enthusiastic gentlemen at Washington who are doing what they can under Mr. Wilson's guidance to give foreigners a chance to get the American market and do the work for Americans that Americans have hitherto been doing for each other might learn something if they sent a commission to talk to Mrs. Harriman about the importance of SPENDING YOUR MONEY WHERE IT IS EARNED and keeping it in the family.

"SCHOOL DAYS"

Copyright, 1913, International News Service.

HERE are two pictures whose originals may be easily found in this country of civilization. There is one kind of a factory that makes useful, admirable men and women out of the children; another kind that makes money out of them for the creatures that conduct the factories, and misery and unhappiness not only for the children but for the world where these children must live—if, indeed, they live at all, when their childish strength has been squeezed into dollars in the dingy factories.

Perhaps the shame of the child-money factory would not be so great if we had not learned how to educate children as they should be educated. But we have learned how, as thousands of well-conducted schools testify. Ought there to be any place in a country which can supply this first picture for such a horror as is shown in the second?

Bringing German Literature to America The Publication of "German Classics" Will Help Relax Existing Tension.

By DR. CHARLES H. PARKHURST

IT will interest both the German and English readers of The Georgian to know something of the splendid English, in English that is now in course of preparation. Three volumes of "The German Classics of the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries," out of the proposed twenty, have already been delivered to subscribers.

If we who live in the States understand German as well as all educated or even half educated Germans understand English, we should not be under the humiliating necessity of having German thoughts dressed out for us in our American vocabulary.

Luckily There Are Those Who Can Interpret Them to Us.

It is occasion for gratitude, however, that there are those who are to such degree masters of both languages that they can interpret to us, in terms of our own speech the product of Teutonic minds that have been doing their thinking on the other side of the water.

Prior to this undertaking scarcely ten per cent of the more prominent German authors had had their writings translated into English. This is the more lamentable, as much of the finest and most sterling writing ever produced, both prose and poetry, has been done on German ground.

It is time for the American mind to come out from its seclusion and appreciate the privilege of membership in the universal republic of letters. We have reached that stage of our national development along material lines when it becomes us to betrink ourselves of matters and interests lying off from the level of manufactures and commerce and general financial aggrandizement. Railroads and canals, mines and immense harvests sustain a certain relation to national greatness, but the mind of a man has a significance not attaching either to his stomach or his purse; and what is true of a man, considered as an individual, is peculiarly true of man considered collectively and nationally.

The United States has shown rather a frenzied ambition to extend its landed domain, but the opening up to us of the treasures of a foreign literature, means a finer expansion than the acquisition of new acres and miles of tillage and pasturage.

Our country, if it is going to count as a great universal asset, has got to learn to cultivate itself more and more on the finer side of its nature and in the more superb reach of its possibilities.

Another result to which the publication of this great work may be expected to contribute will be the relaxing of that international tension which exists between us and Germany.

That does not mean that there are on the side of either party any sentiments of actual enmity, but there exists among all peoples sufficient of original barbarism to make every nation regard every other nation with a degree of suspicion and disfavor, and to hold it in a state of continual wonderment as to how long it will be before there is a resumption of hostilities.

This feeling is fostered by all the unfortunate talk we are obliged to listen to about adding to our army and navy and strengthening our defenses. International cordiality will have to be achieved by other means more pacific and less jingoistic. Our ambassadorial relations do something toward accomplishing this. So does the social interchange effected by international travel. To this should be added such reciprocity between the universities of two nations, like that which is being maintained between us and Germany, by which each gives to the other the temporary loan of its more distinguished professors. This enables the two peoples to think more and more in each other's thoughts, encouraging thus a sympathy certain to result when minds flow along side by side in the same channel.

Still more effective in the same direction will be this new literary enterprise, conceived by Dr. Isidor Singer, the originator of the Jewish Encyclopedia, worked out under the editorial management of Professor Kuno Francke, chief of the German Department of Harvard University, and having behind it the push and financial experience of Messrs. Huntley and Peale, publishers of Warner's Library and the Encyclopedia Americana.

The work is issued under the distinguished patronage, among others, of President Wilson, ex-Ambassador Bryce, Hon. Joseph H. Choate, President Butler, of Columbia, and Cardinal Gibbons.

Eighty Per Cent of Them Have Never Appeared in English.

Fully 80 per cent of the authors whose writings appear in "The German Classics" have never appeared in English, and thus have been held beyond the reach of Americans, except the limited few who have some understanding of German, and the majority of those, probably, would get more from a good translation than by reading the original.

The publication of this work is thus the opening of a new continent to the intellectual occupancy of Americans, whose possession by us will widen and enrich our treasury of thought and create a new sense of fraternal relation with a people of the same stock as ourselves and one with us in all that is best in our national life.

MORE ABOUT JURY TRIALS

Editor The Georgian: I have read your editorial in Saturday's issue on Judge Roan's remarks in the Frank case with a good deal of interest and some astonishment. The standard you propose in criminal cases would destroy our system of jury trials, and substitute therefor ABSOLUTE KNOWLEDGE by the COURT before a conviction could stand. This would let a large majority of criminals go scot free, and there would be no use for juries.

civilized country. The jury must be satisfied to a moral and reasonable certainty, and beyond a REASONABLE DOUBT, but the judge is not so required. The jury watches the evidence to ascertain what it PROVES, while the judge watches it only to see that it is ADMISSIBLE. Under these circumstances it is to be expected that the jury will know more about the proof than cases of ABSOLUTE CERTAINTY, and require ALL DOUBT to be removed, you simply take the bridge off and open the door for every species of crime. JOHN AWTRY, Marietta, Ga.

Writes on Woman and Business

He Tells of a Widow Who Has Lifted the Mortgage From the Farm and Is Making Money Raising Steers and Hogs for Market.

By ELBERT HUBBARD

THE other day a woman from Kansas spent a few hours at East Aurora, having dropped in on her way home from an excursion to Niagara Falls.

This woman was left a widow six years ago, with a brood of seven youngsters, the oldest one fifteen.

At the time her husband passed away I remember sending her a letter of sympathy and condolence. I thought of how hard and difficult her position in life was, and I expressed my feelings in good conventional English sob stuff.

But when I met the lady the other day I did not waste any of the lachrymose on her case. She informed me, in the course of a little talk, that her oldest son was manager of an elevator at fifteen hundred a year, and the oldest daughter was teaching school and drawing eighty dollars a month.

Successful Farmer. Then the lady went on to tell us she had just sold five carloads of steers that netted her in Chicago an even ninety dollars a head.

There were sixteen steers in a carload, which makes eighty head in all.

The amount of good mazuma this woman received, after deducting freight, was a trifle over seven thousand dollars.

She told us that she was raising cattle with the intention of marketing a hundred head a year.

She also was raising hogs so as to send to the packers about three hundred head a year. These at present prices would bring at least twenty dollars each. And she keeps no more live stock than she can raise feed for.

She has cleaned up the mortgage since her husband's death, and, all things considered, is getting along fairly well.

And yet we are sometimes told that women have no head for business.

What is business, anyway, beyond supplying human wants? And that is just what housekeeping is. Farming is running a garden and keeping house on a little bigger scale than the average housewife does.

The reason this woman is not miserable is because she is busy. She is making money. She is bringing to bear a degree of attention to details and a wise supervision which the average man, perhaps, does not and can not.

Also, let nobody feel sorry for the farmers of America.

High prices mean prosperity for the farmers, and when the farmers have money to buy with, business is on a safe footing.

We hear considerable about business being dull, this for the reason that banks have not had money to loan equal to the demand.

Instead of business being poor, however, this tokens that business is good.

Merchants have not over-bought. Stocks carried are small.

There has been very little over-expansion.

Everybody who can work and will work has a job.

Good Business.

Wages were never so high as they are to-day, and the common people never had so much money as they have now. This is shown by the fact that railroads and steamship lines report the best summer's business they ever had.

Altogether, the general situation is improving slowly, surely, steadily.

Women's Struggle

From EDWIN MARKHAM.

HERMAN SCHEFFAUER, in a translation from the German printed by Doran, presents a thoughtful study of the women's movements as seen by the well-known European writer, Rosa Mayreder. From one of the chapters I note these suggestive thoughts:

"It is undeniable that there are many women who go far beyond the average in regard to intellect and strength of character, and many who are well qualified for careers and occupations other than those customary to the sex. There are many—but are these enough?"

"At all periods of the world's history there have been women who have equaled or even excelled the majority of men in intelligence and in energy; yet they have not been able to alter the social position of their sex either in the matter of the law or in regard to standards of opinion. They were exceptions, and have been treated as such. They were exceptions—that is to say, they were not specimens of a new line of development; they were not pioneers opening up new routes for a future generation to follow and develop; they had no successors."

"But the battle between the normal majority and the individual deviating from the normal and striving to break down its tyranny goes down deep into the constitution of society; and the process is nothing less than the organic evolution of civilization."

"There are some who will have nothing to do with external rules, they will not obey the traditional code of laws, but will listen only to the behests of their own nature. The destiny of such innovators varies according to the force of their personality, irrespective of their field of intellectual activity. They may be merely ridiculed or ignored, they may be misunderstood or persecuted, their end may be misery, insanity or a martyr's death."

"Such men are in truth martyrs in the cause of humanity. To them we owe every forward step in the progress of the race from the condition of beasts up to the noblest and loftiest civilization. And when a people ceases to produce such individuals it sinks into petrification or stagnation; its power of development dies away. This conflict between the two opposing tendencies is eternally waged. So long as the revolutionary individual stands alone he is outlawed; it is only when he acquires a following, an adequate number of sympathizers and supporters, that accepted ideas begin to give way before him.

"The progressive individual in the case of a woman, has, therefore, two-fold struggle with conformity; she has to contend with the accepted type, with the ruling masculine notion has set up for womanhood, and also with the actual predominant womanly type which stands for the average of the sex as it is at this moment."

"The classical example of this tendency toward progress in the female sex is offered by those women who first introduced the feminist movement. For over a century they and their successors had to be content to be reckoned as degenerates. They were generally regarded as perverted types, not to be ranked among worthy specimens of their sex. Indeed, it is not so long since they were spoken of as 'men-women.' It was not possible to view as other than freaks and abnormalities these creatures who came upsetting established ideas and questioning approved tenets. The new paths they sought to make for themselves could be held to be nothing but blind alleys down which the sex was being enticed astray from its natural sphere and its 'natural destiny.' Even now we may hear the voices of those who persist in regarding the entire feminist movement as a symptom of degeneration."

"So long as the feminist movement was entirely revolutionary, women were right in directing their energies not against average humanity in general, but against their active Philistine opponents in particular. They could require this type of humanity, and regard it as their enemy so far as feminine problems were concerned. But the time has already come when the revolutionary has passed into the organized state; that is to say, when the movement must be in normal relation to its adherents. Their demands are beginning to have results. The equity of them is being recognized, and economic conditions are rapidly preparing the way for their realization."
