Germany Crushed by Wreck of Greatest Vessel of Empire's Aerial Fleet.

As shocking as were the revelations of alleged conditions in the Atlanta Federal prison made by the Atlanta Hawthorne when the doors opened to let him free, they were surpassed in their ugliness by a story told in the Georgia Prisoner by another man—on a convict recently liberated, as was Hawthorne, but a guard who has been working at the prison for years and who hopes to work there many more if the authorities do not succeed in learning his identity.

The tragedy, following so closely after the loss of a sister airship, the L-1, which was wrecked over North Sea in September with a loss of thirteen lives, created consternation throughout Germany.

WOMEN GEAR UP FOR FRANK BATTLE

Fight for New Trial to Open Before Judge Roan Next Wednesday Morning.

The way was cleared Saturday for the actual beginning of the fight over the motion to give Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, a new trial. The battle will open before Judge Roan Wednesday with both sides primed for a vigorous contest in which charges against jurors accused of bias will play a large part.

The defense, headed by Luther Z. Rosser, relies in large part on the evidence showing that Juror A. H. Henrie, a resident of the county, was present at the trial, and that Frank before the trial opened, winning a new trial for the prisoner because of the character of the witnesses who swear that Henrie said he was sure Frank was guilty and would like to see him hanged.

On the other hand the State will present a number of these witnesses and will try to show through Henrie himself that the sentiments against Frank were expressed after the trial.

Will Exchange All Papers.

WILMINGTON, Oct. 18.—The Georgia, was formally filed for the opening of the arguments by Judge Roan Saturday. At the same time the defense and State agreed to exchange all new papers in the case. A number of important documents, it is said, have not yet been made public.

In the discussion of the case Mr. Rosser made the offer to exchange all new affidavits for the new papers in possession of the State, and Solicitor General agreed.

While declaring that delay undoubtedly would benefit their client, Luther Rosser, for the defense, urged that this motion be brought to a speedy hearing.

He pointed out that he had been neglecting his civil business for the Frank case, and said that if the fight over the new motion were not disposed of Monday a week he would have to ask that it be put over on some other day.

Roan Urges Haste.

It was, he said, impossible to want the case to be put over until December.

Judge Roan interrupted with the remark that he was anxious to pass on the case as quickly as possible, and would be against any delay until December, and the same sentiments were expressed by Solicitor Dorsey.

The Solicitor pointed out that he had given every moment of his time to preparing his answer to the lengthy plea filed by the defense, and that he would continue to do everything toward hastening the hearing.

Senator Declares Money Measure Will Pass, Despite Bitter Opposition—Home for Rest.

Senator Hoke Smith, taking advantage of a temporary lull in the legislative work at Washington, is at the home, No. 147 West Peachtree street, for a week's rest. His interest in a number of the measures which have been before Congress this session has kept him busy, and he has been awaiting the opportunity for a few days in which he might get away from the Capitol.

Senator Smith refused to make any comment upon the sensation which has been stirred up by the amazing charges of Julian Hawthorne and Dr. W. J. Morton in respect to conditions in the Atlanta Federal Prison.

Referring to the currency measure, for which he has been very active, Senator Smith said: "We are going to pass the currency bill before any other important matter is permitted to occupy our floor. There are men on the floor now who are prepared to stop any effort to give any other measure precedence, just as I, the other day, blocked a move to have a certain measure come up on January 7."

"I said that I hoped and expected the currency measure would be passed and out of the way before that time, but that I wasn't going to take any chances on having its progress interrupted even temporarily."

"The bill now is in committee and should reach the Senate between November 16 and 20. I hope it will be the earlier date."

"All of the fight on the broad principles of the bill has been abandoned. Everyone is convinced of the necessity of the government having more of a hand in the expansion and contraction of the national currency. And they are agreed in general as to the manner in which the new undertaking of the government shall be undertaken."

Details Are Important.

The only difference of opinion is on some of the minor details, such as exactly how the board to administer the new law shall be made up. Some would have more Cabinet officers on the board. Still others differ on the total number of members that should constitute the board.

These details will not affect the main principle of the measure, are by no means unimportant and must be considered carefully.

"It is hoped to be rather quiet in Washington for a week or two, and I took this opportunity to come home and get a good rest. I am not going to do anything but loaf until I take the train back to the Capitol. My return has no significance except to mean that I'm going to take it easy for a while."

MILITANTS' CHIEF TO APPEAL RULING

Famous Suffragette Argues Case in Person Before Immigration Board at Ellis Island.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of English militant suffragettes, was taken into custody by immigration officials when she arrived here today on the liner La Provence.

She immediately was taken to Ellis Island, where she was given a hearing before a special board of inquiry.

The board decided that Mrs. Pankhurst should be excluded from the United States. She announced that an appeal would be taken from this decision, and that her case is being decided by Commissioner of Immigration "Caminetti" at Washington as well as held at Ellis Island.

Mrs. Pankhurst appeared in person before the board and admitted that she had been sentenced to jail in England for conspiracy. This crime involves "moral turpitude," and because of this fact the special board decided that she should be barred.

Has Room Castro Mad.

Dunkirk, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Mrs. Pankhurst will occupy the same room that was assigned to "Cipriano Castro, the 'Suroy' of Venezuela," when he was detained here.

Mrs. Pankhurst showed no traces of illness from which she suffered while in an English prison. Mildly mannered, sweet faced and smiling, she appeared nervous but an "appearance of violence" as she chatted with newspaper men.

She wore a blue real coat over a dark blue suit, a dark blue hat surrounded by a black quilt and brown silk gloves.

Mrs. Pankhurst, the little woman who has made official England fear her as if never has feared another woman in history, greeted the inspectors with a cheery smile.

"Good morning," said Inspector Williams, who was first to approach Mrs. Pankhurst.

Cheerily Greets Inspector.

"Good morning," was the smiling reply. Williams at once got down to business. He explained his errand to the leader of the English militants and she listened gravely and patiently.

"I understand that you were imprisoned in England on the charge of arson," said Williams.

"That is not so," replied Mrs. Pankhurst. "I was arrested and convicted of a conspiracy, and I served my term in prison. I was released because of the serious condition of my health. I am far from being a well woman."

"It is my duty to detain you temporarily until the special board of inquiry can pass upon your case," said Williams. "You may be represented by counsel, if you wish."

Guard Stands at Door.

Mrs. Pankhurst made no reply and Williams withdrew. Immediately after he left, the suffragette leader of England was approached by Miss Joan Wickham, her advance agent; Mrs. Rita Childs Durr, who made the voyage from France with her and Herbert Hoover, an attorney who had been engaged by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the New York suffragette leader, to represent Mrs. Pankhurst before the board of inquiry, in the event that her immediate entry into the country was barred by the immigration officials.

Mrs. Pankhurst retired to her stateroom, where she received the reporters and permitted them to close their eyes. She explained that she was not here to make a speech, but to represent the best of the moral represented six hunger strikers declared while in British prisons.

The immigration board held that because of a conspiracy charge against her in England, Mrs. Pankhurst is an undesirable immigrant.

Amour Says Tariff Won't Cut Beef Price

KANSAS CITY, MO., Oct. 18.—The new tariff on beef may bring some relief from high prices, but Charles W. Amour, president of the Missouri Cattle Raisers' Association, says he can not tell at present whether the new law will lower prices.

"High prices are due to the shortage of beef," he said, "and the remedy lies with the public. If every one should stop eating meat two years and not slaughter any cattle under two years of age our supply would get back some where toward the normal."

Ellis Allowed to Kiss Wife He Slew

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—A guard was established in the cell of William F. Ellis, Cincinnati leather manufacturer, who killed his wife and tried to end his own life in the Hotel Sherman Thursday.

The police feared he would attempt to commit suicide again. Ellis today said he was ready to die for his crime. After he had confessed the crime, he asked to be permitted to kiss his wife good-bye before her body was sent home to Cincinnati to be buried today. His request was granted.

Fire Imperils Aged Sisters of the Pope

Social Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, HOME, Oct. 18--The lives of two sisters of Pope Pius X were endangered today by a fire that swept the house in which they had been dwelling opposite the Vatican.

Don A. Pardoe, judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Northern District of Georgia, Saturday signed a court order accepting the resignation of H. M. Atkinson as receiver for the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad Company, to take effect October 31.

The way was cleared Saturday for the actual beginning of the fight over the motion to give Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, a new trial. The battle will be fought before Judge Roan Wednesday with both sides primed for a vigorous contest in which charges against jurors accused of bias will play a large part.

Scores Are Reported Dead in German Mine

Social Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, BERLIN, Oct. 18--Scores of miners were reported killed in an explosion of fire during in a coal mine at Gleiwitz today. Gas from the mine had retarded the work of rescue and until now can enter and explore the inner workings the total casualties will not be known.

Mr. Atkinson offers as his reason for resigning the fact that to continue in the position would necessitate attending detail that would hamper his work with the Georgia Railway and Power Company, in which he is a holding figure. His letter, which was received by Mr. Atkinson for more than a year, will continue as sole receiver of the property after November 1, and will have entire charge of the operation of the road.

The defense, headed by Luther Z. Roemer, relies in large part on the evidence showing that Juror A. H. Henesie expressed violent animus to Frank before the trial opened, winning a new trial for the prisoner. Scores of affidavits will be introduced to uphold the character of the witnesses who swear that Henesie said he was sure Frank was guilty and would like to see him hanged.

She immediately was taken to Ellis Island, where she was given a hearing before a special board of inquiry.

Kentucky Society Women Pick Cotton

HICKMAN, KY., Oct. 18--Society women of Hickman have gone to work picking cotton. They were taken from the palatial homes to the cotton fields in automobiles and dinners served, under shade trees.

While declaring that delay undoubtedly would benefit their client, Luther Roemer, for the defense, urged that the motion be brought to a speedy hearing.

He pointed out that he had been neglecting his civil business for the Frank case, and said that if the fight over the new motion were not disposed of by Monday a week he would have to ask that it be put over so that he could take up some of his other work.

That changed everything. Just as Mrs. Pankhurst was about to leave the Atlanta woman said she got so does the Atlanta little girl want all the pets she can get, especially four-legged pets.

She was a long seal coat over a blue silk suit, a dark blue hat surmounted by a black veil and brown hair bows.

Committee Named to Boost Market Idea

Wm. I. Moore, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mayo Woodard Saturday appointed a joint committee from the Chamber and the City Council to boost the movement for a central city market. The appointments followed.

It is the consensus of opinion among Atlanta railroad men that there will be no change in the policy of the road because of Mr. Atkinson's resignation.

On the other hand the State will be prepared to assail a number of these witnesses and will try to show through Henesie himself that the sentiments against Frank were expressed after the trial.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18--Phantom turned out with midsummer antics, night-to-night when the Giants and White Sox lined up in what was the opening contest of the "round-the-world" tour of those two clubs.

Shortly after signing the order accepting the resignation, Judge Pardoe wrote a letter to Mr. Atkinson, expressing his regret that the latter had terminated his connection with the road.

He pointed out that he had given every moment of his time to preparing his answer to the lengthy plea filed by the defense, and that he would continue to do everything toward hastening the hearing.

Blacksmith Tells How Prisoners Are Chained Up Hands in "Torture Chamber."

Negro bosses over white convicts is one of the sensational charges made against Warden William H. Meyer, of the Federal prison, by B. B. Rich, who for nine and one-half years was employed as foreman of the blacksmith shop there. He declares that one-tenth of the abuse of convicts at the prison has never been told, and that the charges of Julian Hawthorne and Dr. Morton, whose arraignment of the prison administration created a sensation following their discharge from the penitentiary three days ago, are true in every particular.

"Confessions in the 'hole' is common," he said. "I built the two cells in the basement which are thus named, and was often called upon to rivet the chains on the prisoners confined there. They were chained to the door hanging by their hands. Sometimes they were kept this way for 24 hours. It was not uncommon for them to be chained up this way all day, have the chains loosened at night and have them rolled up and sleep on the hard floor. There were not only the cells which I felt there two years ago.

"Prisoners confined there were given nothing but bread and water. Sometimes they were given two slices of bread a day, but as a rule they were allowed but one, with one slice of water. I have known of men to be kept there for two weeks and come out so pallid and weak they could hardly walk, and almost blind from confinement in the darkness."

"The charges of starving the prisoners are absolutely true. I had at least 100 men in my yard and they were hungry all the time. They would take the scraps from my lunch and ravened at them. The lack of food made rogues of them. When the guard's backs were turned I have seen them ravenously eating pieces of pie, ham and eggs and other food which the cooks had stolen from the kitchens of the warden and officers. They begged me to bring them food, and my lunch basket contained more than a peculiar system is that some of the work demands that a number of the convicts continue to work during the noon hour for lunch. They are compelled to wait, and it was the usual thing for the men who worked during the noon hour to get a better meal than those who were at the regular time. The men in my yard begged to be allowed to work during this time in order that they might obtain the better food.

"There were many forms of punishment and if the most employed at the penitentiary are assured that they were not in the jurisdiction of the officers, reveal a state of conditions that will cause everyone to shudder."

PRINCE GHULANI ALI MAHAMADI

Hampered in Work for Imperial Government by Being Mistaken for Negro Here.

Prince Ghulani Ali Mahamadi has just left Atlanta with a feeling of loneliness and a heavy heart, a stranger in the Southern hospitality of which he had heard so much in England. The feelings of Prince Mahamadi were indeed and his prestige and dignity, unconsidered here, will be kept at low tide as long as he is in the South, he says.

"In spite of the difficulties I have experienced in my two days in the South, on account of my rather dark complexion," said Prince Mahamadi in perfect English, and smiling, "I am greatly impressed and pleased with the easy manner in which you handle the race question."

"I must tell you of some of my troubles, as you are the first white man who seemed willing to talk with me." "When I arrived from Cincinnati I went to a leading hotel. As I stepped up in front of the clerk he told me to take off my hat. I complied with his request and a few minutes later identified myself and the manager arranged my room for me."

The observation in the small amount served to each convict.

"There is a negro engineer at the prison now at a wage of $100 per month who has white convicts. The negro under him a negro cook at $100 a year has white men under him. The negro took my place there as foreman of the kitchen staff. He has a large number of white prisoners under him.

Former Prison Kitchen Worker Tells of Food.

Further corroboration of the recent attacks made upon Warden Sawyer on the administration of the Federal prison by Julian Hawthorne and Dr. W. J. Morton was given today by another former inmate of the institution.

"The man declared that he had been imprisoned for a year, part of the time being with Hawthorne and Morton were there. He said he had worked in the kitchen. Being at present employed by the State, he desired that his identity be withheld.

"When Dr. Morton said that Warden Sawyer was literally sending men to death, he told me more than was true," the ex-convict declared. "I know because I worked in the kitchen and saw what those men got on their plates each day.

CHURCH ROBBER IS FIANCÉE OF RICH WIDOW

Dashing Young Thief Won Heart of $30,000 Heiress by Correspondence.

Investigation Saturday by Chief of Detective Landford into the career of Charles Stewart Mellin, the dapper young man from New York and Milwaukee who confessed that he robbed five Atlanta churches because "the ease of access to and disposal of the money brought forth information that he was planning to wed a $30,000 heiress at the time of his arrest."

Chief Landford believes Mellin carried out his plan to get funds with which to marry the heiress. Mellin will be "simply made money."

Chief Landford examined Mellin's suit case Saturday and found a batch of correspondence with the Mission Unity correspondence club, No. 227 Twenty-fourth street, San Francisco, through which the marriage was being arranged. Mellin, who had been in Atlanta only a week and was stopping at No. 15 Houston street, some time ago had fled for good and had been formally introduced to the wealthy widow by mail. Her address has not been learned by Chief Landford, but the letters indicate that she is near San Francisco.

One letter written by Mellin, which had been unable to mail because of his arrest, explained that he was ready and anxious to marry at once. The description of the beauty and talents of the dashing young man, along with the guaranteed bonus of the $30,000 fortune had appealed strongly to Mellin and decided his future.

In writing for a wife Mellin had required that she be young and pretty, not more than 20 years old and that she have money. He described himself as "young and good looking" and said he was satisfied he would make a good husband. According to the correspondence, the widow immediately capitulated.

Whether the arrest of young Mellin will break up the romantic marriage remains to be seen. There will, at least, be a temporary postponement, said Chief Landford.

Mellin is in a tower cell in default of bond of $100,000, fixed Friday afternoon by Recorder Broyles. Mellin frankly admits that he stole electric fans and lamps from the Baptist Tabernacle, the First Methodist Church, the First Presbyterian Church, the Second Baptist Church and the Sacred Heart Church.

Major Hiram Butler, Veteran Railroader, To Be Buried Sunday

The funeral of Major Hiram Butler will be held at the Acozora Baptist Church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The Rev. Dr. Sparks will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

In the death of Major Butler Mexico loses one of its famous characters. He was eighty-one years old until a short time before his death was in good health. He continued to work until 1904, when he retired to his home in Marietta.

For 24 years he was a conductor and inspector for the Western and Atlantic Railroad, and during his service his personality won him scores of friends.

His wife, two daughters and three sons survive him. The daughters are Mrs. R. A. Pitt of Marietta, and Mrs. J. W. Adams of Atlanta; the sons, J. R. Butler of Kennewick, H. W. Butler of Savannah, and Hugh S. Butler of Atlanta.

HUERTA ORDERS DEPUTIES TRIED AS TRAITORS

Dictator Tightens His Grip as He Has "Packed" Cabinet Reject His Resignation.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian. MEXICO CITY, Oct. 13.—Seventy-four Deputies, arrested when General Huerta overrode congress, today were ordered to trial on charges of "sedition, rebellion and insulting the government" because they asked an investigation of the disappearance of Senator Beltrán Dominguez.

Among them is Bonifacio Reyes, ex-Minister of Justice. He was freed.

None of those in custody were released because the charges had been approved at the preliminary examination. By the refusal to accept bail, the deputies are barred from taking any part in the presidential campaign. They are all Huerta's political opponents.

A decree fixing rules for the voting in the Federal district next week was posted today.

MRS. BARTON IN LIGHT OF FRONTIER SERVICE OF COURIER FOR ALIENATION

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Isabella Barton, who is being sued for $10,000 by Telemo Smith Cuyler, a wealthy student farmer of Atlanta, for the alienation of his wife's affection, today denied detectives had trailed her from Buffalo. As a result papers in the case were served and Mrs. Barton is speeding to her home in San Francisco with the detectives in pursuit. The detectives had confidently expected to serve the papers here.

Details of the suit, about which a veil of secrecy has been thrown, were learned today. Cuyler charges that his mother-in-law turned his wife against him and induced her to bring the suit for divorce, which was recently reported to have been decided against him. He says that he married Grace Barton in 1900, and that she left San Francisco on a business trip last February. While he was away, he declares, his mother-in-law persuaded the wife's mind against him and induced her to sue for divorce on the grounds of non-support.

In the supplementary action Cuyler has taken a flight for his children, who are at Mrs. Barton's home in the city.

Private detectives searching for Mrs. Barton said she is today some 100 miles between Chicago and New York.

From the statements of John M. Rankin, a lawyer representing Cuyler, it appears that that ardent ex-husband filed his suit in a misapprehension.

"Mr. Cuyler has been in Atlanta awaiting word of the arrival of his wife in New York, where he was to meet her," said Rankin. "It appears she was on her way to New York with her mother and a maid. They stopped off at Buffalo to visit relatives. He heard a report that her mother had persuaded her to turn back to go to San Francisco and not see him. Hence the suit. If a reconciliation is made, then the suit will be dismissed."

Mr. Rankin and deputy sheriffs had kept an all-night vigil at the depot waiting to serve a summons on Mrs. Barton.

Atlanta friends of Mrs. Cuyler today denied any knowledge of the suit, though it has long been rumored that he contemplated taking some legal action against his wife's mother, who is understood to be blamed for all his domestic difficulties. At the Arrango Hotel, where Mr. Cuyler and his mother, Mrs. H. H. Smith, have apartments, it was stated that Mr. Cuyler left for Birmingham last Wednesday, without leaving word when he would return. Mrs. Smith refused to discuss the case.

QUICK MIND OF BABY SAVES HER FROM CAR

GAYNELL VENABLE

Little Gaynell Venable Leaps on Step of Machine When Trolley Imperils Her.

Frank T. Reynolds sits in his office today, white and trembling, shivering with dread every time any one knocks at his door. He fears the wrath of a summer-visited County mother and a mother-visited County young man. He trembles with the pain of a young man's judgment in the baby show and in the contest to determine the best looking girl at the fair.

Reynolds 'Hides,' He Judged Baby Show

Little Gaynell Venable was playing on the street in front of her home, 242 Central avenue. Between the sidewalk and the car tracks was a big water-trough. There was less than a foot of space between the rail and the step of the auto.

"Playing around the step of the auto on the side next to the tracks," Gaynell did not hear an approaching car until it was upon her. Her little mind worked fast, for she saw that she could not get across the tracks before the car reached her. She jumped on to the step of the auto as the street car shot past.

The step of the car just grazed her, brushing her skirts. She was neither frightened nor injured. Passengers on the car who saw the little one in front, thought she had been killed.

Her father is an insurance man.

SULZER REFUSES NOMINATION AS PROGRESSIVES

Secretary Platt Says Deposed Executive Has Mission to Fulfill in State Politics.

ATLANTA, N. Y., Oct. 18.—William Sulzer, deposed Governor, today declared he would accept a Congressional nomination of the Progressive ticket. He had been offered the nomination from the Northern District, but through the agency of Chester C. Platt, he announced his intention of making a national political fight on the issue.

Secretary Sulzer is too intensely interested in State issues to accept a Congressional nomination, on maximum party offered to him," said Platt. "Governor Sulzer feels that he has a big mission to perform right here in New York State, and he will devote his time to filling that mission."

Fight on Sulzer Aids Next. There is a possibility of nominating Sulzer, whom Platt designated as the Progressive candidate, to open a campaign in the State. It will be possible to open a campaign in the State if Sulzer is nominated by the State Convention. A campaign would be held in the State before a court of impeachment is expected to decide on the removal of Sulzer. The campaign would be held in the State before a court of impeachment is expected to decide on the removal of Sulzer.

SHAFROTH TELLS MERITS OF NEW RESERVE BILL

Explains How Concentration of Reserves Enables Speedy Aid to Distressed Centers.

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES. WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Senator John T. Shafrroth, of Colorado, is one of the currency committee who has given excellent security and frank criticism of the Owens-Glass bill.

When I asked him to-day what he thought of its merits and demerits, and the prospects of the measure, he gave the following clear statement of his views.

"In answer to your question I will say that the chief merits of the Owens-Glass banking and currency bill are first, the concentration of reserves, and second, the making of the currency itself so well readily meet all demands in times of panic."

"Under the present law each currency national bank is required to keep on hand, in its vaults and in its deposits in a reserve city bank. There are 47 reserve cities in the United States. The present bill provides that the reserve city bank shall be a mere deposit against which it need not set a reserve of 12 1/2 per cent in cash and 12 1/2 per cent in a bank in a central reserve city."

"There are three central reserve cities—New York, Chicago and St. Louis. The 12 1/2 per cent of the present bill is treated by the bank of the central reserve city as a deposit. This is the great advantage of the bill. It is called the 'pyramiding of deposits.'"

"In times of panic the country national bank attempts to draw upon its reserve in the reserve city bank, which in turn attempts to draw upon its reserve in the central reserve city bank. This is the great advantage of the bill. It is called the 'pyramiding of deposits.'"

"The Owens-Glass bill is located at twelve percent centers, each having a prescribed district over which it has bank control. There will be deposited with them at least $10,000,000 and there will be deposited with their reserves at least $40,000,000. The general balance of the United States Treasury, which amounts to about $25,000,000, must be deposited with them."

"Thirty-three and one-third per cent of the amount deposited with the national banks will be held in reserve banks that will be kept in cash. Upon the order of the Central Reserve Bank, the reserve bank can be used to assist any other reserve bank short of funds in emergency. When such emergency arises, the reserve bank can be used to assist any other reserve bank short of funds in emergency."

"Elasticity of Currency. "Our circulating medium under the present law is fixed. That is, limited to about the same amount, whether times are good or bad. In times of stringency each bank attempts to gather and keep in its own vaults for its own protection as much currency as possible. That very action intensifies the stringency and creates the panic. Each bank has a large amount of prime commercial paper which, however, not being currency, cannot be used for the cashing of checks of depositors."

"It is in such emergencies that the power granted in this legislation becomes effective to prevent panics. The bill provides that when a national bank desires more money, it may present to the reserve bank in the district commercial drafts or notes due in thirty, sixty or ninety days, guaranteed by it. The reserve bank will then pay from its deposits an amount of such drafts and notes."

"When the drafts and notes hypothecated mature, they will be paid to the United States Reserve Bank and the currency issued thereon, or currency of a corresponding amount, will be cancelled."

"The exercise of this power in the bill will prevent the danger of every solvent bank. The knowledge upon the part of the public that this power can be exercised will prevent those monetary disturbances which cause such an enormous destruction of the value of property."

AUTO DRIVER HELD FOR HITTING YOUTH

Jimmy Ward, Eighteen Years Old, Run Down on Busy Street Before Mother's Eyes.

W. L. McCarty, No. 40 Westwood avenue, employed in the office of the American Surety Company in the Equitable Building, will be tried before Recorder Boyce in Police Court Saturday afternoon, charged with reckless driving in the running down of Jimmy Ward, 18 years old, with his automobile late Friday afternoon.

Ward was arrested by Policeman Shaw and released on a bond of $200, signed by Marion M. Jackson.

Young Ward, who lives at Gordon street, is believed to be hurt internally. It is probable that Mr. McCarty's hearing will be continued until the extent of Ward's injuries can be determined.

Ward was run down at the corner of Peachtree and Marquette streets, while his mother and a woman friend looked on, unable to help him. According to statements McCarty made to the police, he was driving his machine slowly up Marquette street, and failed to see the youth until his car had struck him. Ward, he said, was standing on the sidewalk with his mother, and dashed suddenly into the street, passing between a horse and walking directly in front of the automobile.

LITTLE ATLANTA MISS ARDENT DOG FANCIER

She's Not Satisfied With One Fine Pet; Wants All of Them She Can Get.

There may have been a time away back in the storybook days, when little girls were delighted with one little dog, or one doggie, or one whopper-tipped-ear, but that was before the Atlanta Spirit was invented.

That changed everything. Just as little Athens wants all the inducements and things she can get, so does the Atlanta little girl, want all the dogs she can get, especially four-legged pets.

Out on Peachtree street, at No. 422, is a pretty little, brown-eyed miss of about thirteen summers, who is satisfied with nothing less than a whole family of dogs. To be sure, they are blooded Boston Bull Terriers, with pedigree that reach from father to mother and back again.

Their being to her mother's neighbor, Lieutenant Hornsby Evans, No. 416 Peachtree street, but that has nothing to do with her enjoyment of her canine playthings.

One Name for Bard. She patiently and even unhesitatingly concedes to Lieutenant Evans the right of ownership, and the right to give her the fine ribbons that have won—but she considers nobody other than the right of the ability to have more fun with them than she can.

Lieutenant Evans' canine aristocrat are in number—Wallace and Sarah and four children, Saria, James, William and Samuel. The latter three are all show-trippers and, enthusiastic, buy little bodies with perpetual motion tails and intelligent tongues.

William has the proud distinction of having another handle to his name. His "country" title is William Shakespeare, having down since the same because his show is a somewhat shaggy that shows indignantly into the heavens, denoting great intellectuality and mental power.

Wallace and his family came high to Atlanta canine society and are formidable competitors in every bench show held in the South. Lieutenant Evans has blue and red and yellow ribbons galore that his dogs have won in competition with all other pups all over the country.

Wallace may be called "Bard."

ATLANTA, EYE-WITNESS TO VOLTURNO DISASTER, TELLS THRILLING STORY

and returned with difficulty. An hour later the sea having calmed slightly, three more lifeboats were launched, and they succeeded in reaching the Volturino, but the passengers refused to jump. The boats, however, returned after midnight with thirteen who had been refused to take the risk. The Kronland was most skillfully maneuvered.

"It was the judgment of Captain Kronland, and the chief engineer that the sea would quiet toward morning and that the Volturino could hold out. At 6 o'clock the Kronland caused two lifeboats to be lowered. Two were in command of the second and fourth officers, and were manned by volunteers. The boats reached the Volturino, and in a short time brought aboard the Kronland 42 more passengers, members of the crew and officers. Seddon and Pennington, the Marconi operators, struck to their posts until the Kronland arrived.

"The work of the Kronland's men was magnificent. They were heroes one and all, and never for a moment flinched in their duty.

"I have never seen a higher sea running than the one that was lashing the flame-swept Volturino. The Kronland made no difference to the Kronland master and crew. When Captain Kronland realized that aid was needed without delay he called for volunteers and every member of the crew responded from the first officer to the cabin boy.

Great Heroism Displayed.

"The lifeboats were manned in a jiffy. There was no hesitation, no wrangling. Every man realized the danger before him and knew that the incentive was the saving of human lives. Why didn't the Carmanita men do the same?"

"To a man the Kronland crew displayed the greatest heroism. They went into that raging sea in those little lifeboats as exiles. The Kronland boy will embark in a flat-bottomed boat at Piedmont Lake, and when the stricken passengers are brought on board the Kronland the sailors were willing to share their all to help the survivors.

"The Carmanita was standing by as we watched the scene. Her lights were playing on the Volturino, but we all noticed that she hadn't lowered a single lifeboat. When we were within two miles of the burning ship our first boats were put over and we passengers wondered why the Carmanita wasn't doing anything. No boat ever left the Carmanita. It was a puzzle to us. The Kronland's sailors were not afraid of the sea, so why were the Carmanita's?"

Praises Volturino Officer.

"But if there was any lack of courage aboard the Carmanita, there was plenty of courage at the scene. Every survivor that came aboard the Kronland was loud in praise of Second Officer Lloyd of the burned boat. He was the real hero.

"According to the story of the survivors, it was 7 o'clock Thursday morning when the fire alarm rang aboardship. In a second the flames were shooting up 50 feet from the deck of the ship, and the entire watch asleep below must have been instantly burned to death.

"What started the blaze no one will ever know. It couldn't have resulted from a cigarette, as all the sailors declare that the hatches were battened down.

"Captain Inch at once gave orders to man the lifeboats, despite the gale and the high sea. Two boats were made ready in command of the first and fourth officers, and a large number of passengers, mostly women, were directed to get into them.

Lifeboats Smashed.

"The boats were then lowered away, but the instant they struck the water they were smashed against the ship's side. Half a dozen boats in passengers readily obeyed the orders given them.

"The survivors tell me that the report that Captain Inch was compelled to drive some of the crew away from the lifeboats with his revolver is absolutely false. None of the survivors saw the captain with a pistol.

"The ship was kept going under full head of steam with her helm hard up to allow the sailors to fight the fire from the weather side of the line.

"By 8 o'clock in the morning the fire had been fought down enough to make the aft part of the ship livable until midday.

Wireless Was in Danger.

"If then ordered all passengers to be mustered aft and the entire crew forward to fight the fire. Captain Inch himself led the fire fighters, and one gust of flame caught him and nearly blinded him.

"The passengers told me that in the aft part of the ship some were preventing some were praying, and some were singing hymns, while others were and then a sailor would reassure them that the fire would not be out. There was no confusion on the part of the crew. The discipline was perfect. Every sailor knew the ship was doomed, yet they behaved nobly.

Patrol Incident Denied.

"The engineers stayed at their posts and only left the engine room at intervals when they could get possibly away there on account of the intensity of the heat. The discipline was shown by the fact that the error-stricken passengers say that Second Officer Lloyd volunteered to man a lifeboat and try to make it to the Grosvenor. He took a pocket electric lantern with him and told Captain Inch to flash the light repeatedly. If you miss it you'll know we are going, and for God's sake don't send our passengers over me in the other boats.

"I saw them reach the German vessel and saw the little boats crew grab the compass ladder just as their craft sank.

Kronland Lowers Boats.

"And when our captain saw that Lloyd's boat had lived, there was not a second's hesitancy. He began lowering boats. So did the Grosvenor and the Sagittario, but the Carmanita did nothing but stay her anchorlight.

"When our lifeboats returned with the survivors, everyone aboard did all in their power to aid the sufferers. But there were those who could not see. There were drunken sailors. There were quarrelsome sailors. There were traitorous sailors.

"The show of heroism was sublime. That the tragedy was awful."

Woodward Scores Hawthorne's Charge.

Mrs. Woodward Friday showed his sympathy to be distinctly with Warden W. H. Mayer in the Federal Penitentiary scandal perpetrated by Julian Hawthorne, ex-convict and famous writer.

"The denunciation of Warden Woodward and Mr. Morton is the most extreme case of ingratitude I ever heard of," he said.

"Hawthorne's hardest work seems to have been to write a little for the prison paper, Good Words. In Morton was a member of the medical staff, and when he asked for a special

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—The Philadelphia physicians said that Harry Lewis the middleweight pugilist who was injured in a bout with Joe Borrell on Monday night will recover.

Movies' Censor Calls His Job Thankless

"Vampire Dance" Not As Bad as Grand Opera Performances, He Declares.

Complaints against a "vampire dance" as shown in a Whitehall street motion picture theater caused Willis M. Everett, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Library, which is also a board of censorship for films, to outline the policy of the board toward motion pictures in an interview to The Georgian Friday.

Since the passage of the motion picture censorship ordinance by Council several weeks ago only one other film besides the "vampire dance" has given the board any serious concern. That was "Sapho," a recent feature picture at a Peachtree street theater. When the board had finished cutting that drama of the

May Help You if Lungs Are Affected

Proper diet, fresh air and moderate habits have been found to be most beneficial in promoting recovery from lung disease. In a great many instances recovery has been hastened by the addition of a medicine for the lungs. For more than fifteen years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People has been used by thousands of sufferers from lung disease, and has accomplished good results. Read what it did in this case.

Madison Lake, Minn., Sept. 1906.

Dr. Williams and his family were in the city of Minneapolis in December, 1905. My wife, Mrs. M. L. Williams, was then suffering from a severe case of lung disease, and had been in the hospital for several months. She was very weak and had lost much weight. She had been told by several doctors that she would never get well, and that she would have to live in a sanatorium for the rest of her life. I had heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and I bought a box of them. I gave her one pill three times a day, and in a few days she began to feel better. She was able to get up and walk about the house, and she was able to eat and sleep. In a few weeks she was able to go out for a short walk, and in a few months she was able to go to the city and see her friends. She is now perfectly well, and she has gained much weight. I am sure that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People did it. I am sure that it will do it for you, too. Write for a free trial box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It will save you a great deal of money and a great deal of suffering. Write to Dr. Williams, Pink Pills for Pale People, 233 East Broadway, New York City.

An Open Message to the Men and Women of Atlanta

Atlanta is the hub of the South. The South to-day is the richest, most independent and most resourceful section on the American continent. Two hundred millions of dollars coming into Georgia alone for cotton, the staple and the seed. This will pay a billion dollars worth of debts. Atlanta will feel this wave of prosperity more than any other city. Atlanta, phenomenal as she is, has just begun to grow. Atlanta's near-in suburbs will become her centers; her far-out suburbs will become her close-in suburbs. Atlanta suburban real estate will enhance in value more in the next twelve months than at any time in the history of the city.

Well bought, well located real estate on the fringe of a great and growing city is the safest investment one can make. It is not speculation; it is not gambling, as is the purchase of wild-cat stocks, or trading in futures. And yet it offers the element of profit-taking by increased valuations. Lots on Peachtree road worth ten thousand dollars to-day could have been bought a few years ago for one hundred dollars. The purchaser then did not speculate, nor did he gamble—he bought real estate on the fringe of a growing city, the safest and the surest investment he could make, and his profits are counted by the thousands of per cent.

If you would put your savings to work profitably, buy suburban real estate just ahead of certain and well defined developments. Mark the emphasis—buy ahead of these developments. If you buy ahead of the developments the element of safety is not reduced, but the margin of profit-taking is reduced. Prices have necessarily gone up and cut into the margin.

These are some of the reasons why we urge you to-day to buy in Carey Park, on the river car line. This suburb is in the center of certain, absolutely-assured developments that will enhance, possibly soon double the selling price of these lots. Another car line, going out the Mason and Turner road, will approach Carey Park on the South. The Peyton road is to be cherted through Carey Park. The Hollywood and Gary roads are to be graded preparatory for chert. In the meantime many buildings are being erected in Carey Park, and there is a local progress that is a natural forerunner of great real estate activity.

Carey Park lots will go on sale at the Germania Savings Bank Monday morning, October 20th, at 9 o'clock, and the first fifty will be sold at only $200 each, on terms of just one dollar down and one dollar a week, without interest. Carey Park is a strictly white suburb, and sales will be made only to white people. The lots are 50x140 feet and face on 50-foot streets, with 20-foot alleys in the rear. The streets are being graded. A central spring and park site is being developed, and the entire property offers one of the most attractive home locations around Atlanta, easily and quickly accessible, with a five-cent car fare, and although another car line on the south will necessarily increase the value of the property, for convenience one can walk to any part of the property in five to ten minutes from the present street car station.

Time was when only the rich or the moderately rich could profit by suburban real estate enhancements. That time has passed. Carey Park at one dollar a week puts it in reach of every person. Men and women of moderate incomes, whose savings are small and saved, can profit by this opportunity. Boys and girls, who desire with their modest incomes to create the nucleus for future independence and fortune, can take advantage of this opportunity. Everybody, indeed, who desires to accumulate, who feels the impulse to better their condition, or to profit by the growth and expansion of Atlanta, can find in Carey Park the opportunity of the day and the hour.

Carey Park is owned by Mr. John Carey and his son, Hon. Dan Carey, park commissioner. They are behind the park that carries their name to make of it one of the attractive suburbs of Atlanta. Will you profit now by this opportunity?

Don't forget that Carey Park lots go on sale Monday morning at the Germania Savings Bank, No. 2 Whitehall street. We shall be glad to show you the property in the meantime. If you can not spare the time, come to the office and make your selection from the plat, or leave the selection to us and we will take personal interest in seeing that your lots are located well and satisfactorily.

BISHOPS SCORE DARING COSTUMES

But One, From Japan, Says Denouncers of Women's Dress Are Ignorant on Subject.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The X-ray and slit skirt, the tango and the tuxedo, and the mad hunt for joy on the part of the Americans were denounced today by some of the most prominent Episcopal bishops in the United States in conference here.

One bishop, Dr. F. S. Spaulding of Utah, declared he never had seen a slit skirt, while Bishop Henry St. George Tucker of Kyoto, Japan, was the only one of eight bishops who felt it to condemn women who wear exaggerated costumes.

"I believe American women can be trusted," said Bishop Tucker. "Since I have been in New York I have never seen a single woman whose costume I felt called upon to criticize. I think the man who finds fault with a woman's clothes often doesn't know what he is talking about."

Bishop Tucker's remarks differed greatly from those of his six ecclesiastical brothers.

BRIDE SAVES HER HUSBAND IN FIRE

H. W. Cochran Rescued After Burning Timbers Had Fallen Across His Body.

With flames lapping at her night robe and dense smoke choking and blinding her, Mrs. H. W. Cochran, bride of two months, dragged the unconscious form of her husband from their burning home at No. 210 West Tenth street, Thursday night.

The roof of the building had caved in before Mrs. Cochran awoke. Her room was already filled with smoke, and she called to her husband across the hall. When he did not answer she went into his room, where she found him overcome with smoke.

A burning rafter had fallen across his chest and set fire to the bed clothing. Blasting her hands doing so, Mrs. Cochran pulled the rafter from her prostrate husband and dragged him to the front door. As neighbors took her husband from her, the rest of the roof and one wall caved in.

Cochran sustained painful, but not serious, burns, while his young bride's hands are blisters. The loss to the home was $4,000.

ATHENS COLLEGE DENOUNCED BY DR. NUNNALLY

All State Schools Are Declared Unfit for Religious Pupils by Church Workers.

Declaring that the University of Georgia and other schools operated by the State are unfit to train young men and women who are destined to become leaders in after life, Dr. A. Nunnally, educational secretary of the Georgia Baptist Executive Board, former president of Mercer University and one-time candidate for governor of Georgia, made a vigorous attack on the State schools and colleges, speaking before the Atlanta Association of Baptist Churches in convention at Cox College. Educational circles Friday discussed the attack with interest.

The lack of religious training in the State schools renders them unfit to educate our sons and daughters," said Dr. Nunnally in a report of his statement compiled: "Out of the college men and women in connection with the Atlanta race riot some cases are not one case from Mercer University, or any other college operated by churches, but every one of the students who attended college at all came from State schools."

Words Start Discussion. Thursday's session of the convention was taken up mainly with discussion of educational enterprises undertaken by the church. H. A. W. Brown, pastor of Shorter College, addressed the convention, urging more hearty support of the church schools by the churches, and reading the notes made by the following schools as opposed to those of the Protestant denominations.

Uphaw Prizes Mason. W. H. Usher, editor of The Golden Age, spoke on the subject of prohibition and offered resolutions congratulating the Law and Order League of Mason on their recent victory in closing a number of near-neighborhood saloons. Among the resolutions were: "Prohibit saloons in all near-neighborhoods," and "Prohibit saloons in all near-neighborhoods."

Arrests Expected In Gilmer Slaying

MILLIAY, Oct. 17.—The coroner's jury investigating the mysterious murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Moore in a remote section of Gilmer County here near the foot of the Coho Mountains found that she was murdered. Sufficient evidence of a circumstantial nature was secured to warrant a grand jury, now in session, to take up the case. Deputy sheriffs have gone to the scene of the slaying to summon witnesses before the grand jury, which will probably adjudge the arrest of the suspects.

Youth Hurt in Fall Off Merry-Go-Round

CHATTANOOGA, Oct. 17.—Reed Gresh, 15-year-old son of Mrs. L. R. Gresh, State organizer of the Illinois Christian Temperance Union, was badly hurt at the Bartow County Fair grounds, where he was employed as a ticket taker, when it is alleged, he fell from the merry-go-round. A coroner's inquest of the brain revealed that his mother will sue the fair association for damages.

CIRCUMSTANCE CHAIN COMPLEXED HAUGCASE

Miss Dorothy Haug, on right, whose death in Thomsville baffled authorities until it was proved a suicide, and her sister, Marjorie Haug.

Thomson County attorney, on his own responsibility undertook the investigation of the girl's death. A coroner's jury was impaneled. A warrant was ready to be sworn out. According to Colonel Hopkins, an indictment against the girl's mother was about to be drawn. Then the detective was called in. Detective's Theory Right. "She may have killed herself," said the detective. "How could she hit herself on the head hard enough to cause death?" asked the lawyer. "That would have been caused by a bullet," said Pearce. "Remove the top of the skull and see if you find a bullet," he advised. This was done. The bullet was found. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

WOMEN EAGER TO IMPROVE SCHOOLS

Volunteers Numerous to Assist Women's Club in Compiling Data on Conditions.

While the committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs to take up the campaign for the betterment of Atlanta's school conditions has not been announced, many of the individual women are active at work. Data on the school conditions in other cities is being secured. Mrs. Charles J. Haden, president of the Federation, said Friday she was busy organizing the committee on which would be women from every ward. An encouraging fact to Mrs. Haden and the other leaders is the number of volunteers from all over the city. Hundreds of women are anxious to be enlisted as active workers. Mayor Woodward suggested Friday that the conditions at the English Avenue school could best be relieved by building a $150,000 annex for the lower grades. The mayor does not think that the school lines be changed so as to fill up the nearby Ashby street school. The school is only about one-fourth filled because parents object to it because their children would have to go through a negro section to get there.

SENATOR PASSES LIE IN TENNESSEE

Assemblymen Quarrel Over Credit for Passage of Prohibition Law Enforcement Bills.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 17.—With all the prohibition law enforcement bills passed and the Tennessee Senate and House rushing to wind up the extra session by tonight, a bitter debate took place in the Senate today when Senator Clement (Republican) and Senator Fulton (Independent) as to whom the credit for the passage of the bills should belong. Fulton characterized a statement of Clement that the factories, at the regular session, had traded off the law for patronage, as an "infamous lie." He reported the statement, threatening to throw an inkwell at Clement, when the latter absolved Fulton from any part in the alleged trade and peace was restored. The report of the Hare brewery investigation committee, substantiated the charge that he had been offered $25,000 by prominent regulars to remain away from the extra session. The matter was referred to the Attorney General for investigation.

Some Unusually Pretty Dresses For Children Have Just Been Unpacked In the Junior Department (Third Floor)

Sizes 6 to 14 years, with a sprinkling of what is known as intermediate size—just larger than a fourteen, but smaller than and fashioned differently from the junior size, 15 years. Those worthy of particular note are of serge, challis, ratine and velvet. Colors and styles for "best" wear. Colors and styles for school wear. All novel and attractive. One will have a wide belt placed very low, perhaps the belt is a Roman striped or plaid silk or a fur-edged band of self-material, another will have the waist of side buttoning effect, another will have a laced up waist, some of the more "dressy" ones will have Irish crochet collars and others dainty Swiss embroidery collars. Plain shades of navy, black, dark red, black-and-white checked serges, two-toned ratines. We believe these the smartest dresses for children Atlanta has seen—and so will you.

They are Priced at $5, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50 to $15 and $20. The Little Coat For A Gingham Dress The Little Dear May Be a Very Pretty Thing

"Cunning" and "cute" and ever so comfortable! They are in sizes one year to six years. And there are many more styles than sizes. Velvets, mixtures, zibelines, boucle, Ural lamb (a cloth that looks like fur), broadcloth, corduroy. Some of these are just coats—very plain and very neatly and trimly finished, and others are dressed up a bit with fur collars, with belts and novel buttons and with Irish crochet collars. The price range gives you an idea of the variety, $3.50, $5.00, $6.75 and up to $20.00.

Neckfixings--The Final Touch

Surely if a dainty little collar, jabot, ruff or fichu is the touch that lends the charm to the costume, there is every reason for women to avail themselves of the fine varieties of neckwear now shown here. Everything is stamped with newness and daintiness. These are but a few—Medici Styles, fichus, collars, ruffs, of net and chiffon and embroidery. The price range tells the variety. 50c to $5.00. Maline and Net Buffs, soft, cloudy effects; black, white, and black and white; very chic. Collar and Out Sets in infinite variety; hand-embroidered nets, Venice lace, and net and lace combinations; fluffy, airy—daintiness itself. Bulgarian Collars, bold splashes of colors, such as Paris alone would dare—but a world of women will wear; $1.50 to $5.00. Net Gimpes that relieve a dress of its sameness; very stylish, too. White, cream, ecru and black; some touched with hand-embroidery. 25c to $5.00. HOT WATER---QUICK!

Plenty of Hot Water Almost Instantly "CADET" HEATER

We state positively and can prove it—the cheapest and most efficient water heater for any home is the "Cadet" Heater—set up ready for use, $15.00. This heater is cast iron, and the fire box is literally lined with twenty-one (21) feet of 3-4 inch galvanized pipe in 7 coils, which comes in direct contact with the fire.

A handful of chips or a shovel of coal will give you a boiler full of hot water in less than ten minutes.

We insist that the "Cadet" is the cheapest heater in the world at $15.00, set up ready for use. True, you can get a makeshift for $12.50, maybe, but compare them. The cheaper ones have about only 2½ coils of pipe or about 7 feet, and weigh about half as much as the "Cadet."

A "Cadet" Heater will last a lifetime. It is guaranteed by us and we are right here to make our guarantee absolutely good. If you insist, any stove dealer will get and install you a "Cadet" Heater for $15.00.

CANAL IN PERIL BY DELAY LAID TO WILSON

No Steps Taken for Operation.
Goethals' Advice Ignored.
Workers Grumble.

By WILLIAM HOSTER.

Special Correspondent to The Atlanta Georgian.

PANAMA, Oct. 15.—A crisis is impending in the canal situation due to the neglect of Washington to appoint Colonel Goethals.

The canal is being repaired and the work is ready. The flow of water is constantly increasing. With the Caca-ra side out of the way not more than a month before the waterway will be ready for commercial use.

The Adams act provides for a re-organization of the canal zone, in- volving a mandatory reduction of 50 per cent in pay, but at the discretion of the President.

News comes from Washington that Wilson will not order reorganization until 1915.

This means that the organization of the force of 1500, estimated as necessary to operate the canal, will be postponed until the great waterway actually is ready for use, where it is vital, important that the force should be selected immediately.

Pay Reduction Opposed.

The men must be carefully drilled by Colonel Goethals for three or six months at the final operation.

There is certain to be opposition to the reduction of pay. Already grumbling is heard and a strike is possible, although forbidden by the Government force exclusion act.

Colonel Goethals himself. This is a real money issue if reorganization is left until the canal opening, when the Government would be at the mercy of the workers.

Colonel Goethals announces that he will retire as soon as the canal is ready, maybe before 1915. Thereby organization and drilling of the force to operate the canal would have to be done by some one other than the man best fitted for the work.

Colonel Goethals refuses to discuss the situation, but it is known absolutely that he regards it as most important that reorganization should be effected immediately.

Strikes Possible.

The canal is his life work. He knows every detail. He has to mind the 1500 he would like to select now and get to consent to the reduced pay. He could gain to now to train them to operate the canal, which will in the end have cost the nation $500,000.

If Wilson sticks to his decision the forces of the world would assemble for the passage, and there would be well-drilled forces for the work of operating the canal and the great locks. Probably there would be strikes and hangings, and even imminent danger of catastrophe.

The situation is incomprehensible to Americans here. Washington seems to lack interest. Consequently there is discouragement here and broad hints that nothing is being planned at Washington. It is a fact

High Cost of Living Adds to Damage Suits

FRANKFORT, KY., Oct. 17.—The decrease purchasing power of money and the increased cost of living have caused in the courts of this State approving larger verdicts in damage cases for personal injuries and death, which view the courts must maintain, declares the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

The declaration was made in affirming the decision of the circuit court in giving the widow of a young man in giving the widow of a young man in a collision two years ago.

THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN

Witchcraft Persecution in the 20th Century—The Perjured "Blood Accusation" in Russia

The Civilized World is Waking Up to the Infamy of the Russian Government. Mendel Belis Will Not Be Executed Without a Protest.

Only in Russia, where the vilest government and the vilest superstition exist side by side, aiding each other, could such a trial as that of Mendel Belis be possible in our day.

You have read an outline of the shameful effort of the Russian police and of the Russian Czar to increase hatred and persecution of the Jews by bringing up the ancient, brutal and utterly baseless "blood accusation" against the Jews in connection with their celebration of the Passover.

The Hearst newspapers have special representatives in Russia, watching this infamous effort to revive the superstition and the torture of the Middle Ages. And others, men of character and reputation, whose word must command attention, have been sent to Russia to represent the readers of the Hearst newspapers there.

Day by day we shall call your attention to this horrible and shameful crime of the Russian Government—until the whole civilized world shall be acquainted with the fact, and some efficient protest made.

Already public opinion expresses itself. Mass meetings and protests have been planned in Chicago, New York and elsewhere.

Soon the Russian Government will learn from its agents in this country that the butchery of the innocent man, Belis, and the degraded cruelty of superstition and hatred, will earn for Russia the one thing that she fears, CONTEMPT AND HATRED OF THE CIVILIZED WORLD.

Russia, the land of active ruling brutality and of dead conscience, is the only place on earth, out of Africa, that in this century could be guilty of the crime that is planned by the Czar in "the Holy City" of Kiev.

The effort to convict an unfortunate, innocent man of a vile murder, and to fasten upon the entire Jewish race in Russia, and upon the Jewish religion, the strain of barbarism, is cunningly planned by the Russian police.

The most brutal among the Russians can thus be kept quiet and contented, BY ENCOURAGING THEIR BRUTALITY.

The degraded, superstitious, ignorant mass, ruled by the Czar, can best be kept mental and spiritual subjection by gratifying the hatred and the cruelty that go with superstition and ignorance.

And Russia, in the effort to convict a Jew of a "ritual murder," is continuing her policy of using hatred of the Jews as a means of keeping the vilest dregs of the population happy in the shedding of blood.

It is not necessary to tell any intelligent man or woman how baseless and infamous is the charge made against the deeply religious, law-abiding Jews, who are first and strongest religious teaching IS HATRED OF BLOODSHED AND HORROR OF CONTACT WITH BLOOD.

The charge that the Russian police now make against an inoffensive and entirely innocent man at Kiev is as old as superstition, cruelty and malice.

Go back a thousand years, and then another thousand, and you will find men accusing each other of the crime now charged against this poor, defenseless Russian.

Over and over, throughout the ages, the falseness of the charge has been proved. And over and over it has been made and innocent men and women sacrificed in scores.

A typical case, illustrating in history the ease with which brutality can be used as a tool and the motive of persecution, is the one that occurred at Basin, in Hungary, four hundred years ago.

A certain Count Wolf, of Basin, was heavily in debt to Jewish bankers of whom he had borrowed every possible dollar upon his estates to be squandered in dissipation.

Suddenly the community was horrified, thrown into a murderous frenzy by the announcement that a nine-year-old boy had been killed—slowed by death by Jews who wanted his blood for sacrificial purposes, in connection with the celebration of the Passover.

Horrible to relate—but no more horrible than the present crime contemplated in Russia—this dreadful, unfounded charge was sustained. Thirty Jews, forced by torture to confess, were publicly burned for "the crime."

These men thus tortured, forced by agony to make the confession that alone would end their misery, INCLUDED THE MEN TO WHOM COUNT WOLF OWED HIS DEBTS.

When they were dead and buried, and the debts wiped out, the "murdered and tortured boy" was found alive in Vienna. Count Wolf, of Basin, had had him stolen, and then circulated a charge exactly the same as that now brought by the Russian police against Mendel Belis—this was the Count's intelligent scheme for getting rid of his debts.

Such cases are frequent in history—but happily they are not frequent in this day of education and conscience.

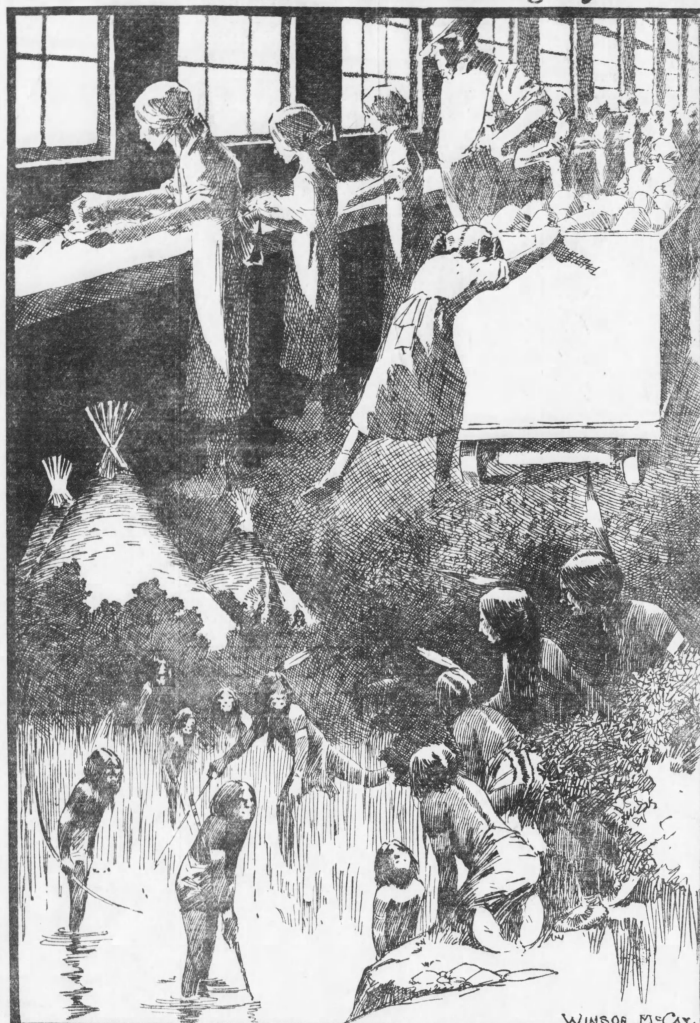

Alone Russia presents the horrible, degraded spectacle of a great national government, from the head on the throne to the miserable criminal in the police office, conspiring to increase hatred of a defenseless people, to promote murder and wholesale massacre by a charge fendish in its brutal falsehood, powerful in its appeal to the imagination and hatred of superstition, bigotry and ignorance.

Over and over the infamous charge has been disproved and denied.

More than one of the emperors in the early days forbade the bringing of this charge against the Jews—well knowing that it was brought always in malice and frequently as a basis of plunder added to murder.

CONTINUED IN LAST TWO COLUMNS.

Civilization—and Savagery

So long as civilization permits factories to grind childhood into dollars, so long shall the young savage have a happier lot than the "civilized" child born to be a mill "hand."

Who Should Love Most, Man or Wife?

By DOROTHY DIX

WHICH should love most—the husband or the wife? Of course, the real answer to this question is, neither. Both husband and wife should bring to the holy estate every bit of devotion which they are capable of. The ideal marriage is one in which man and woman alike love, and are loved, to the very measure of their desire, in which they give with a lavishness that knows no stint and receive with a generosity that has no bounds.

Compared to the mad joy of loving, being loved is a poor, weak emotion. Nevertheless, if a man has to decide between the woman he loves and the woman who loves him, he is wise if he takes the latter. The chief reason for this is that a man's love—at least, his romantic love—is a flame that soon burns itself out, while a woman's love is a slow and steady fire that lasts as long as life does. A man's love, no matter how ardent and passionate in the wooing days, soon settles down into a good, useful friendship and partnership with all one to him whether he married the full of the balcony or Mary Jane of the kitchen.

Moreover, man does not probe into their emotions, nor dwell on them, and so if a man's wife is agreeable and pleasant and makes him a good home, he's just as fond of her and as happy with her as if she had been the original maiden of his dreams. Generally, he's a good deal happier than he would be if he were married to a woman who kept him always on the anxious seat trying to please her.

As much as practically every woman spends her life seeking love, it is paradoxical to say that she is happier in giving love than in receiving it. But such is the case. It is a misfortune for a woman never to have been loved, but it is a tragedy for her never to love. The great argument in favor of giving women the right to select their own mates is that the woman who marries the man she wants is always satisfied and contented, whereas the woman who is forced to take the man she can get rather than the one she prefers is always dissatisfied and restless, no matter what a paragon he may be.

one he has pursued and captured himself. Nor need the woman be afraid to take her end of the unequal matrimonial bargain, for she will be so busy and occupied with her own affections that she won't have time to observe any lack in the man's. After all, it really doesn't matter what you get in matrimony if it's what you fancy. It's merely a matter of taste. If either the husband or the wife shall love the better, it is for the good of the family that it shall be the wife. No man can make a happy and comfortable home. That rests with the woman. If a woman does not love her husband she makes a home that is full of quarrels and spots, of complaining and reproach, of pettiness and dissatisfaction. Ironsides she teaches her children disrespect for their father and lack of affection for him. On the other hand, the woman who is passionately devoted to her husband makes a home that is full of rest and peace, and her children grow up to reverence and respect their father.

Also biologists teach us that a woman's love for her husband determines to a great extent the quality mental and physical of the children she bears, so that her children are proverbially handsome and more talented than the little unfortunates that are born of hatred or indifference. Undoubtedly if either one should love the more it is the woman; but the pity of it all is that all love should not be equally great, and that for the golden rule of our hearts we should so often get back the same.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox

—ON— Maternal Duty—A Mother Should Sacrifice Cheerfully Her Ambitions to Her Children's Welfare.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

I CRIED, "Dear Angel, lead me to the heights. And spur me to the top." The Angel answered, "Stop. And set thy house in order; make it fair. For about one who may be speeding there. Then we will talk of heights." I put my house in order. "Now lead me on." The Angel said, "Not yet. Thy garden is best. Thy thorns and tares; go weed it, so all these. Say not that all is done." The beggar left me singing, "Now At last the path is clear." "Nay, there is one draw near. Who seeks like thee, the different highway. He lacks thy courage; cheer him through the day. Then we will cry 'At last!'" I helped my weaker brother. "Now Oh, lead me, Angel, guide!" The Presence at my side. With radiant face, said, "Look where I have placed thee, child. And lo, we stood upon the mountain's brow— The heights, the shining heights!"

How have the matter in hand. And it simply rests with us to turn these unexpected events into means of growth. By doing the work given us to do to the very best of our ability, and by doing it cheerfully and saying little about it, and making as little noise or confusion over our toil as possible, we will develop in character, and that is the one purpose of existence, the one object and aim of the universe.

VERY lovely woman is the mother of two remarkably beautiful children. They are ideally reared, and the elder has reached a baker's dozen of years. The next is two years younger. The mother has many ambitions and many gifts. Having produced two rare children, she plans to devote her life to developing herself along mental and spiritual lines. But now maternity again faces her, and for a little time this ambitious woman was rebellious at the thought of the time and strength and opportunity which she had to devote to the use of the world of endeavor being thrown into the realm of motherhood again. Better and truer thoughts and impulses, however, prevailed, and now the little traveler who is on the way from the World of Souls is anticipated with happiness.

Franklin's Birth May Have Delayed Mother's Development. History does not tell us, but it is possible the mother of Benjamin Franklin felt that her own personal plans were upset and that her individual development was delayed when she found that her family of seven children was to be made sixteen. But it is questionable if any work she could have achieved would have benefited the world to the extent it was benefited by the life of her son, Benjamin Franklin. There was once a mother who sacrificed every personal ambition and all her desire for pleasure and ambition to her children. She wanted her daughters and sons to have all possible education, and as the family means were limited she gave up her own individual longings to enable her children to gratify their tastes. But there was seldom a weak parent in which this mother failed to carry out her family of her sacrifices, and she thought so much about it that she developed the most moral character and self-discipline of any child so much as being regarded as a martyr to duty. It would have been better for her family if her own ambitions had been carried out by her own hands, and she maintained a happy and cheerful disposition. It would have resulted in better conditions for all concerned.

There is No Benefit to Be Gained by Acting Ungracious.

There is no benefit to be gained or bestowed by doing any duty in an ungracious, discontented, unamiable and dependent frame of mind. Unless you can bring yourself into a philosophical and patient mood, if you are cheerful only in fact, unless you can go about it with a gentle resignation and a determination to accept the situation with good grace, and to get some benefit from it, it is better to let it go and do what you will. It is better to let it go and do what you will. It is better to let it go and do what you will. It is better to let it go and do what you will.

Witchcraft Persecution in the 20th Century

Pope Innocent IV., in response to an appeal made by the Jews of Germany and of France, issued a bull "decreting that the Jews should not be persecuted because of this false accusation."

But still the falsehood lives. And it finds expression to-day in Russia, through the power of a Czar, half crazed with fear, through the cunning of a police force, diligently catering to his hatred and terror, through the vile drunken mouths of the dregs of the population, sunk in superstition and love of bloodshed.

Civilization itself, and not merely ONE unfortunate man, is on trial in that court of Kiev. If the Russian police are permitted to carry through their plan they will not only murder one innocent man, but cause many murders, many massacres and add to the deplorable miserable condition of an entire race. Civilization and human conscience should find power to impress even the Czar and his police and to prevent this outrage.
