GLASS OPENS DEBATE ON CURRENCY BILL IN HOUSE

Democrats Hope to Conclude General Debate on Measure by End of Week

By Associated Press. BY RALPH FRIZZELL. WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—President Wilson gave the launch this morning to those who have entertained the notion that perhaps currency legislation would be put off for awhile.

Members of the senate were responsible for these rumors and there was much anxiety as to the outcome of the senate committee on banking and currency, said after the talk with the president that he had not a bit of doubt that the currency law would be enacted and congress adjourn by November.

GLASS OPENS DEBATE. The administration currency bill today started.

Mr. Glass replied at length to criticism that the Federal reserve board, placed by the bill in control of the proposed financial system, would, with its wide powers, be subject to political influence.

There is no politics in this matter, there can be none. It is my earnest conviction, based on long and serious reflection, that no nearer consideration now yet has pointed out, how any part of this system can be prevented to practical success," said he.

President Williams to Eat Pumpkin Pie Made From Putnam's Biggest

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WASHINGTON, Ga., Sept. 10.—There is an exhibition in Easton this week of a pumpkin whose circumference and weight has far to make it go down in horticultural history.

Mr. Glass declared that the opposition to the bill by the bankers was caused by the fact that the bill would sever the relations between banks and stock gambling.

The real opposition to this bill is not as to government control, said Mr. Glass, but as to compulsory membership, which was provided in another way in the Aldrich scheme.

MISSISSIPPI TAKES OLIVER ON REQUISITION

Lee County Bank Wrecker Is Arrested as Soon as Out of Jail.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) ALBANY, Ga., Sept. 10.—In a clash between the United States authorities and Mississippi state officers for the possession of Lee C. Harding, alias A. B. Oliver, the noted Chitauk bank wrecker has again come into the limelight.

Oliver, as he was known in Georgia when he was convicted for his sensational bank operations at Chitauk, Georgia, has been serving his sentence in the Lee county chain gang.

Carrying out his instructions from the prison warden, Warden McBride, turned Oliver over to the Mississippi officer, and he was brought to this city and placed in jail here.

After a conference, the Mississippi officer decided to turn the prisoner over to the United States, and make claim for him through the courts.

When the conference was concluded, Senator Kern announced that there would be no delay in taking up the currency.

Another Triumph For the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company Millinery

As this is being written, the first day crowds to the display of authentic fashions of Fall millinery are coming, seeing and being captivated.

"The hats are lovely!" "The hats are beautiful!" "The hats are charming!" So the expressions run and the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. Millinery Section is scoring another triumph.

However it is but a logical sequence of events--the outgrowth of a well planned and well executed system with which we have fortified our millinery organization. The hats are either as right and correct and true as Paris with her Reboux, Evelyn Varon, Marie Guy, Marie Louise, Lewis and others can make them or they are Paris styles tuned to America's tastes by the artists that reign in the little shop of Estelle Mershon right there in the center of America fashions, 20 East 46 St., New York.

It would be very strange if these hats that Atlanta is invited to see were anything but "lovely," "beautiful," "charming."

And now another day to enjoy the display! Make use of it, do not think for a moment there will be the slightest bit of urging you to buy. We want Atlanta women to see what we have done for them.

As this is being written, the first day crowds to the display of authentic fashions of Fall millinery are coming, seeing and being captivated.

"The hats are lovely!" "The hats are beautiful!" "The hats are charming!" So the expressions run and the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co. Millinery Section is scoring another triumph.

However it is but a logical sequence of events--the outgrowth of a well planned and well executed system with which we have fortified our millinery organization. The hats are either as right and correct and true as Paris with her Reboux, Evelyn Varon, Marie Guy, Marie Louise, Lewis and others can make them or they are Paris styles tuned to America's tastes by the artists that reign in the little shop of Estelle Mershon right there in the center of America fashions, 20 East 46 St., New York.

It would be very strange if these hats that Atlanta is invited to see were anything but "lovely," "beautiful," "charming."

And now another day to enjoy the display! Make use of it, do not think for a moment there will be the slightest bit of urging you to buy. We want Atlanta women to see what we have done for them.

RAILROADS WOULD AVOID POSSIBLE CAR SHORTAGE

Statement From Southern Offices Says Roads Should Get Busy

Railroads are doing everything possible to avoid a car shortage during the coming rush season, according to a statement issued from the offices of the Southern Railway company Wednesday morning. The statement follows: "Healthy business conditions throughout the southeast during the fall and winter are indicated by the action of the railways in this section in calling upon shippers to add them in maintaining an adequate car supply during the crop moving season. Anticipating a heavy demand for cars, the railways are themselves doing everything possible to increase their car supply. Steps are being run at full capacity to put every available car in repair and car builders are being urged to turn out new equipment as rapidly as possible. Steps are also being taken to provide for the most expeditious handling of cars at terminals and transfer points. While the railways are making these preparations for the rush of heavy business, it is recognized that shippers can render assistance of the greatest importance by loading and unloading cars as promptly as possible, thus avoiding unnecessary detention of cars and by loading cars to their full capacity. As an adequate car supply is so important to shippers individually and through trade and commercial bodies to add the railways in their effort to secure the maximum efficiency in the use of cars."

Famous Frank Case Given To Public in Book Form

Atlanta Publishing Company Issues Volume Describing in Graphic Form the South's Most Famous Murder Mystery-Book Was Placed on Sale at Local News Stands Wednesday

"The Frank Case" is the title of a paper-bound volume of 145 pages which reached The Journal from the presses of the Atlanta Publishing Company Wednesday morning. The book, which the author says is a detailed and faithful account of the south's greatest murder mystery, will be placed on the news stands for sale during Wednesday. Its price is twenty-five cents. In twenty-two chapters the book deals with Mary Phagan's murder in the National Penitentiary on April 28, the mystery which surrounded her death, the efforts of the city and private detective to find the slayer, and the final conviction of Lou M. Frank, the young superintendent of the factory. The Frank case is the greatest mystery of the south and probably no other case ever attracted and held the interest of the Georgia public as did this mystery. If the author has made the most of his subject he should have a story more gripping than is found between the covers of most novels. "In no other murder case," remarks the author in his preface, "has there been such intense interest, because more than a mere murder mystery; more than the story of a man in a position charged with shaping in a just passion a little factory girl."

BAKERS FIGHT OVER POSSESSION OF PIE

Syrian Bakes Delicious Pastry, Negro Hooks It, Fisticuffs Follow

Steel Rich, a Syrian pie maker, and Ed Harper, a negro bread baker, were before City Recorder Broyles on a charge of disorderly conduct growing out of a fight which followed the disappearance of a pie in a bakery where both are employed at 231 Peachtree street. The former was fined $10.75 and the latter $15.75. Rich, it appeared from the evidence, had been entrusted with the manufacture of a number of especially delicious and tempting pies Tuesday. He made just enough to fill the order. Harper, who, through constant association with lumpy pastry, is somewhat of an epicure, spotted the improved pie and, like the Knave of Hearts and the taro, stole the pie and away he ran. He selected the delicacy beneath his broad beaver, where it was found some time later by Rich, who, bent on solving the mystery, was led to the spot by the secret.

Rich demanded his pie. Harper refused to give it up. A scuffle followed in which the pie and Rich's face both suffered considerably. The latter told Recorder Broyles that fifteen pieces of court plaster glued advantageously over various parts of his body concealed teeth marks made by Harper.

MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN NO. 77

Parks, Policemen, Purity

Atlanta is not sex-mad. Your daughters are safe in the city parks. Proper Police Protection will be given Girls and Children.

Of certain men, Peter said: "These, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of things that they understand not—" "Spots they are and blemishes—" "Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin—" "Which have forsaken the right way—" "While they promise liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption."

Such men are still here. But—God be praised! The growth of knowledge among all classes is making it harder for this type of men to live. A short while, and they will have disappeared, for men are thinking; and, where men think, the man who favors moral corruption has to go.

Watching makes life impossible for him. Hence, he always favors a corrupt police force. An honest policeman, LIKE CHIEF BEAVERS, backed by an incorruptible police court judge, LIKE JUDGE BROYLES, means the undoing of such a man.

Therefore, a fight to control the police force and limit the power of honest officials is inevitable in every city. Cities of America and the World are today looking to Atlanta. For here our police force is controlled by its Chief. And he has put an end to PROTECTED VICE. Men under him are safeguarding the public.

For over a year they have kept vice on the run. Further, they are protecting girls from beasts that prey. They will continue this.

For Atlanta is too small and YET TOO BIG to shelter men of that type. You understand. To publish the girl's name in the newspapers to the world was cruelly, but to arrest her when found late at night in a compromising position with a man in the Capitol entrance was merciful.

What might have happened! Had it been your sister—if it were your daughter, you would have thanked God for the arrest and have acknowledged your eternal obligation to the officer who made it. People think.

THEY SEE THE TRAGEDIES which lie beyond these supposed kisses! In "Unmarried Mothers," an article recently published in Harper's Weekly, Edith Livingston Smith says.

"A girl stays innocent until she is awakened. 'It is the kiss, the touch, the sense stirred, that make her, in the glory of her womanhood or in her shame, acknowledge her sex."

"Our cities are full of mere children, who have felt the glow of freedom and the necessity of toil. "Our factories and shops are run by them.

"It is but natural that they should obey the call of the times; but they leave their toys and their spelling books to go into wage earning competition, where life crowds and entices, enchants, dominates AND SOMETIMES KILLS.

"Whose fault is this?" Nicholas Vachel Lindsay sings:

"She was taught desire in the street, Not at the angel's feet, By the good no word was said Of the worth of a bridal bed. The secret was learned from the vice, Not from her mother's smile. Home spoke not. And the girl was caught in the public whirl. "In Liberty's name we cry For these women about to die. What shall be said of a state Where traps for the while bride wait? Of sisters of drink who play The game for extra pay? Of statesmen in league with all Who hope for the girl-child's fall. Of banks where Hell's money is paid And parasites all afraid Of panders that help them sin? When will our wrath begin?"

Thank God, IT HAS BEGUN in Georgia. Our Legislature, just adjourned, in no uncertain terms gave notice to the world that our representatives have regard for the welfare of the girl.

But there are those who would stand idly by while girls were being destroyed in the very shadow of the Capitol's dome. Again we thank God, for these are in the minority! And they do not, cannot control Atlanta's police force. The city is awake.

Another effort to undermine Chief Beavers— Another attempt to fly-blow a policy of decency and public purity has failed.

Again today Jesus is saying: "Blessed are your eyes, for they see and your ears, for they hear." Policemen will continue doing their duty in Atlanta. And YOU will uphold them in it.

The New Dancing Frocks of Accordion Pleated Chiffon

To be fashionable, even a dancing frock must be tube-like. There's mental comfort in its narrowness. To do a "tango" there must be yet a little more than tube dimensions-- for body comfort and the grace that follows...

These are the ideal dancing frocks showing here today--this early day of fall. They blossom in pretty candle-light yellow, shell pink and "baby" blue chiffon, and aren't anything daintier.

Nor is there anything so beautiful--half so surprising as the price--two styles-- $12.50 and $20.00

YEP! KNOBS SURE WAS STUCK ON THAT PATCH

--BY FARREN

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

ANOTHER "INVICTUS."
Colonel Travers might also sing with the late Mr. Henley—
*It matters not how straight the way,
How charged with punishment each frame;
I am master of my play,
I am the captain of my game.*

A man's friends are often his worst enemies, as some one has said before this. One of Chick Evans' friends stuck in three additional patches. If Chick couldn't use one, how the deuce could he use four?

The Giants start west with a lead in the vicinity of eight games. Whatever the other details it strikes us here that the Phillies are the ones to worry.

On the other hand it is generally the other way around. The ebloko on top has it and might lose it. The worst that can happen to the pursuer is that he doesn't lose what he hasn't got.

TECHNICAL DECISION.
Over that protested Giant-Philly game the National league board of directors, if it got that close, might decide to send the Giants back to Chicago to get their bats and McGraw use the same batting order that was up at the time? And what about a renewal of the hat and handkerchief brigade in center field? We pass. The National league board of directors are the ones to employ what other is attached to this smear.

The Giants in the last month have lost fifteen points to the man in hitting. At this rate by October 6 what will the rival campaign be vs. Collins, Baker, McMillan, etc.

Colonel Murphy is quoted as saying that Johnny Evers did well enough with the material he had at hand. Yet we indistinctly recall a modern mariner from the Colony put a team in that said material was "the best ever gathered on a ball field."

On the other hand if Johnson put a club in third place that was generally picked to finish fifth, where is Fred Clarke with a team in fourth place generally picked to finish first? And who is there to suggest that Fred Clarke isn't still something of a manager, as managers go?

Joe Jackson may still be deficient in certain branches of higher literature but could Arnold Bennett or Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler drop below Ty Cobb and then dash on past him again at the edge of the stretch?

Langford Earns Handsome Pay

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Sam Langford, the negro heavyweight boxer of Boston, earned $1,000, his guarantee, in thirty seconds last night by stopping John Lester Johnson, who is said to be the heavyweight champion of South Africa, in that time.

From the moment Langford stripped for the bout, which was scheduled to go ten rounds, Johnson showed fright, and when the men were called into the ring, the South African circled away from his opponent. Langford landed a left to the stomach and in the clinch sent half a dozen jabs to the back, the last of which sent Johnson down for a count of eight. As Johnson struggled to his feet, Langford rushed and Johnson fell without receiving a blow. On again gaining his feet, Johnson was rushed into his corner, where Langford landed a blow to his left kidney and the South African went to the floor and was counted out.

Johnson, as he started to leave the ring, appeared "paralyzed or frightened, or both, and leaned heavily on the ropes. Langford's weight was announced as 185 and he appeared to be in fine condition. Johnson weighed in at 175. This was Langford's first appearance in a New York ring in three years.

Pelkey Admits Big Frame-Up

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 10.—Arthur Pelkey, the heavyweight fighter whose victory over Luther McCarty in a category arena was followed by the latter's death, has parted company with Tommy Burns, his manager.

Immediately after cancelling his contract with Burns, Pelkey gave to a Portland sporting editor a signed "confession," in which he declared that he and Burns faked their six-round fight at Calgary March 26 last. Pelkey charges that Burns took advantage of the fact that he was penniless and induced him to "frame up" the match and that they reconnoitered the battle secretly in a garret.

"I could have whipped him easily," says Pelkey's statement, "but he wanted to make a good showing before his friends and he made me take two knock-downs in one for him. We rehearsed every fight for a week in the garret of Burns' house and we got away with the take all right, but the crowd thought it had been a real one ever since. It was the only time I didn't fight on the square and I shall never do another crooked thing in my life."

Pelkey asserts that he never has had an offer to fight Jack Johnson in Paris, the frame-up proceeding to convey invites him to clash with Johnson for large money were cooked up, he said, for some purpose.

BURNS DENIES CHARGES.
CALGARY, Alberta, Sept. 10.—Tommy Burns last night characterized as a "frame-up" the statement by Pelkey that their fight of last March was "trammed up."

"The fight was on the level," declared Burns. "Although I believe that I could have put Pelkey out in the fourth round if I had wanted to."

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

Early Hatched Pullets

THE man who has a large number of early hatched pullets that have been properly cared for should certainly congratulate himself, for he has something that will certainly make him money this year. There are but a few people who have hatched and raised as many early pullets as they would like to have, but nevertheless there are some who have done so. I saw at one place a few days ago more than two thousand early hatched White Leghorn pullets, a large proportion of which are now laying. This party refused $5 each for these pullets and he was who not to take it, because they can soon lay enough eggs to more than make up the cost. It is surprising that a big difference in the price of pullets is made in the early hatching season. It is surprising that a big difference in the price of pullets is made in the early hatching season. It is surprising that a big difference in the price of pullets is made in the early hatching season. It is surprising that a big difference in the price of pullets is made in the early hatching season.

It is a real pleasure in the afternoon to get a beautiful supply of eggs at this season of the year from your early hatched pullets and it should convince every man who keeps chickens that the difference between it is to always hatch as many pullets as possible during the months of January, February and March. The average merchant, stockman and laying before cold weather comes. When they are properly housed they can usually be kept from molting in September and keep them molting longer. I have never seen a time yet at this season of the year but what strictly fresh eggs were hard to get and scarce and all eggs command a good price. The average merchant, stockman and laying before cold weather comes. When they are properly housed they can usually be kept from molting in September and keep them molting longer.

One of the reasons why many poultrymen have not been successful and made a profit out of their fowls is because they did not hatch early pullets and were not prepared to meet the demand for them to a large scale to save labor and feed and get results. But, the new methods of housing for early hatched pullets, which are being used in California, will be largely indulged in throughout the country. This method of raising the poultry business and it is to be the difference between the ordinary market, but through August, September and October strictly fresh eggs are worth twice as much as the average eggs that can be bought out of the ordinary store. These eggs are worth twice as much as the average eggs that can be bought out of the ordinary store.

One of the reasons why many poultrymen have not been successful and made a profit out of their fowls is because they did not hatch early pullets and were not prepared to meet the demand for them to a large scale to save labor and feed and get results. SENATE TELLS HOUSE TO O. K. AMENDMENTS AND PASS UP TARIFF nearly 25 per cent from the rates of the existing law.

In many important places the senate has changed the bill that passed the house, and a conference committee of the two houses will begin work Wednesday or Thursday to adjust these differences.

Leaders of both houses predict that the conference will consume less than two weeks' time.

The senate endeavor today to hasten the bill on its progress to the White House, by naming the members of the conference committee as soon as the bill passed.

Vice President Marshall appointed senators Simmons, Stone, Williams and Johnson, Democrats, and Senators Ferguson, Lodge and La Follette, Republicans, as the senate conferees.

Shade of Coffin On Bed of Dalton Man Excites Community

DALTON, Ga., Sept. 10.—The appearance of an outline of a large coffin on a sheet covering a bed in the residence of Sam Koehorn, in North Dalton, is vouched for by scores of people living near him, who claim to have seen the phenomenon.

According to the gruesome story, the bedclothing was changed, and the room closed up for several days. Fasteners when the room was opened, a perfectly formed outline of a coffin appeared on the top sheet. Spectators were called in, and they claim that they clearly saw the coffin outline, which gradually grew dimmer and faded out after several hours.

The matter has excited among the people living in that section.
